

E. C. TAINTER,
 BUILDER AND DEALER IN
WOODWORKING PLANERS,
 MOULDING, MORTISING, TENONING,
 AND
 GENERAL WOOD-WORKING MACHINERY,
WORCESTER, MASS.

SALE AT THE JUNCTION SHOP.—L. L. Mason sold at auction about seven thousand dollars worth of tools and machinery at J. A. Fay & Co's yesterday afternoon. E. C. Tainter purchased the good-will and part of the fixtures of the concern, and we trust will retain a large share of the business of this well known firm. They have just completed several large wood planing machines for the Russian Government; two of which will plane fifty feet long each; others will be shipped to Liverpool this week. The sale will be resumed again to-day at 10 o'clock.—Worcester Daily Spy, September 3d, 1861.

Having purchased the Good-Will of our late firm, Builders of SASH and DOOR MACHINERY, and started the business in connection with Witherby, Rugg & Richardson, with New Patterns and superior facilities, will thank our late Patrons and all in want of first-class Wood-Working Machinery to favor me with their orders.
