The electric urban and interurban cars furnish pleasant trips to all parts of the valley, while stages run daily to Lick Observatory, on Mount Hamilton, 4,209 feet above sea level, 28 miles from San Jose, over the best mountain roads ever built (cost $87,000). Daily stage (Mount Hamilton Stage Company): 5½ hours going, 4 hours returning. Luncheon going, dinner returning, Santa Ysabel.

Greatest astronomical observatory, second largest refracting telescope. Endowed by James Lick with $750,000. One of the greatest attractions of California.

One of the outdoor features is a trip to Alum Rock Park, a city reservation of a thousand acres, where sixteen mineral springs each with its curative properties are flowing free to the public for the taking and here one may fully enjoy the pleasure of an outdoor life.

Another attractive trip is by the interurban electric line to Congress Springs, where one may walk amid the cool shades of dense growth of trees and shrubbery, wild as nature can provide and through all this a veritable lovers' lane winds its way. At the end of this lane may be found the soda springs bubbling and effervescing with nature's chemicals free to the public. Other attractions are as follows:

Old Mission at Santa Clara. Reached by street car from San Jose. Built in 1777. Very interesting.

Ostrich Farm, Alum Rock Ave. A beautiful flock of large birds. Worthy of many hours watching. Keepers are always in attendance to explain the habits of the birds and answer all questions. Don't miss this attraction.

The Triangle. A magnificent valley and foothill drive from San Jose to Mountain View, via Santa Clara and Sunnyvale, returning through Cupertino (West Side), Los Gatos, Campbell, the Dry Creek road, and the Willows. Most comprehensive valley drive.

The Interurban Trip. Over the new Interurban Electric Railway between San Jose and Los Gatos via Saratoga. The finest electric valley and foothill trip in California.

Linda Vista Golf Links. Picturesque golf links in the foothills near Alum Rock Park. Open to club members and guests of leading hotels.

Almaden Mines. The famous old quicksilver mines of California. Eighty miles of tunnels. Fourteen miles by train or team from San Jose. The Hacienda is the most picturesque village in California.

Lomas Azules and Evergreen. A southeast carriage trip of a
