FALL '45

Lot of luck to a (cute) gal, and have lot of fun tonight.
 P.S. Please stay sober tonight.

Dear Helen -
 I know <sup>you</sup> for such a long long time and I hope that I always shall. I wish you the best in love and luck with Bob and any other lucky fellows who may have the privilege of going with you. See you again, maybe this summer, we can get together.
 Love, Mard.

Dear Helen:
 of luck to Bob little gal. Who deserves the best.
 Betty
 Jimmy

Dear Helen,
 I haven't seen much of you this term darn it. Remember when we were in English together. I'm wasn't it? Good-luck in everything you try. Have fun, but be good.
 Love,
 Nancy

Dear Helen:
 I hope you're all the best in the world is a sweet gal.
 I hope you're all the best in
 the world is a sweet gal.
 I hope you're all the best in
 the world is a sweet gal.

Dear Helen -
 It's over from
 you. Love & H.S. with you. I think you're one more girl that I love you so I wish you so I love you so
 I love you so

Hi Em! We finally made it! Yes it was a terrible struggle but I guess they wanted to get rid of us badly enough to let us go! Not that our teacher or class has really been one big piece - but loads of fun too!!! We really got the sarge a bad time this year and I think she's awfully glad to get rid of us, gang. (Especially the problem child, Bob!!!) Oh well, he's a good pc anyway. We all love him, or do we? Sarge is the big expert and schate to admit it - but I'm already getting built for my share! Suff! I'm running out of space and time so guess I'd better quit. This is it. The best of luck in the world to you. Love, Sharon

BERKELEY HIGH SCHOOL

ELWIN LE TENDRE, Principal

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

TRY TO BE SOMEBODY!

Once there was a king who wanted everyone in his kingdom to be as good and as rich as he . . . the verse, as I remember it, went something like this:

"Now that's the kind of a king for me,
Who wished all men as rich as he,
So to the top of every tree,
Promoted everybody,
Then everybody was somebody,
And no one was anybody."

You high seniors will soon be thrust into a world of competition. You will find competition in business; competition in industry; competition in institutions of higher learning; and competition even if you decide to do nothing at all.

Whatever you do, try to be useful. Choose a vocation, or an avocation, which is pleasing to you, and one in which you will find satisfaction and happiness. There is room in the world for each of you if each of you finds his proper place.

You have proved by the cooperation which you have shown in school that you vary greatly as individuals, yet collectively you wield power which gave leadership to your group.

The world is clamoring for people who know what they want, where they want to go, and what they want to do. Do not waste your time by trying to sit on the same tree-top with everyone else. Try to "be somebody"!

F O R E W O R D

The Pod staff of Fall '45 takes pleasure in presenting to you the first postwar Olla Podrida. As all the early postwar articles, it is minus a great deal of the glitter of the prewar predecessors. Yet, we, the staff, look with pride on this yearbook.

By the small cartoons throughout the book we have attempted to show you some of the things peace will bring. We feel we were privileged to be the class to dedicate its book to the peacetime future. The staff has spent many hours turning out a book worthy of such dedication.

As the excitement of the presentation draws near, I would like to pause and thank every member of this hard-working staff and its real instigator, Mrs. Sidney Wales. Had it not been for her, this book would not have reached its successful conclusion.

We of the staff will feel we have succeeded in our purpose if this Olla Podrida brings back to you some of the joys of Berkeley High. We hope you, the students, will enjoy this book—it is for you.

Marjorie Read.

DEDICATION

September 2, 1945—a date which will go down in the annals of history. The greatest conflict in the history of the world came to an end.

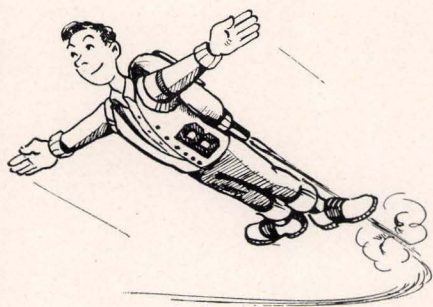

Berkeley High began to settle down to a peacetime existence. The change at first was not too apparent, but little things soon made us all aware that we were no longer living under wartime pressure.

We take these changes to be evidence of things to come. Looking toward the future, we see school spirit reaching an all time high; we see those oft dreamed-of new buildings gracing our campus; yes, we even see a class graduating from the auditorium.

To say that we who are leaving are not envious would be an untruth; we are. Yet we, the class of Fall '45, hope that in our own small way we have contributed to the success and happiness of Berkeley High students—both present and future.

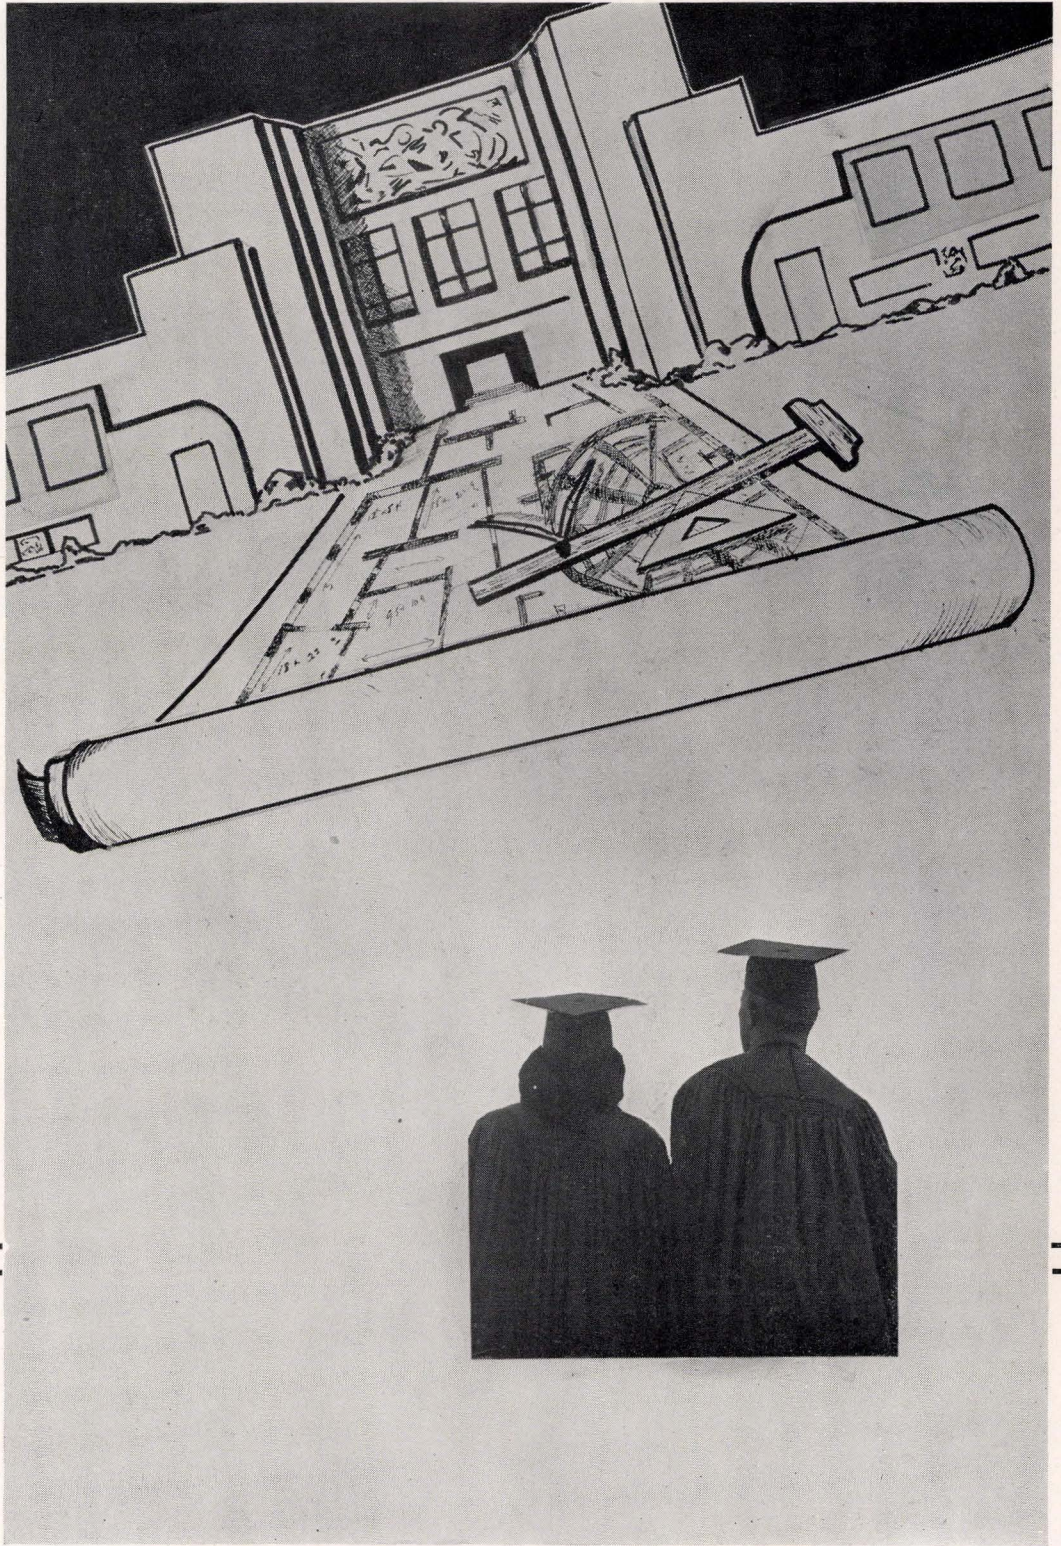

To you, the classes entering a peacetime era, and to all those, both living and dead, who made the peace possible, we dedicate this book.

THE VARIETIES

To the tune of "Here Comes the Show Boat" sung by a chorus of southern ladies and gentlemen, the 1945 Varieties began.

The theme "Showboat" was carried out by converting the whole stage of the Social Hall into the deck of a boat.

The show was made up of 25 different acts including an original Riverboat Jazz Band playing such numbers as "Dark Town Strutter's Ball" and "Ugly Chile"; a marimba duet and an accordion duet. Singing solos were by Steve Smith, Joan Anthony and Lillian Speese; and duets by Carol and Pat Bofinger, by Tony Cardiel and Ellen Bostick. Virginia Schwartz played Chopin's "Polonaise" on the piano.

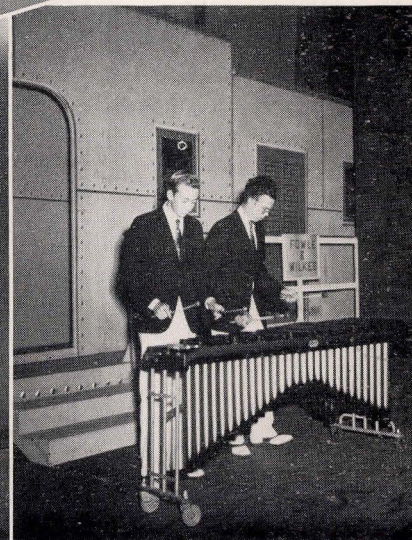

Three girls' singing groups participated. They were: a colorful chorus of 18 rendering "Tampico"; "The Enginettes", singing "The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe"; and a group called "Rhythm Modernistic".

From the dramatics classes came four skits, a monologue by Mary Meadows, and a melodrama entitled "The Villain Still Pursued Her". Lorraine Golis presented a comedy tap dance called "Crazy Capers". A soft shoe dance featuring "Two Raggedy Dolls" was done by Jacqueline Camille and Dorthey Ganz, and from the girls' dance class came a modern dance group, directed by Miss Ingrid Scherini.

Following the "Showboat" chorus singing a Stephen Foster Fantasia, the orchestra closed the "Showboat".

In their "Big Game" of the season, played in the California Memorial Stadium, the Jackets defeated their arch rivals, the Piedmont Highlanders, by a score of 7 to 0.

Taking the initiative early in the first quarter, the Yellow Jackets drove the ball to the Scots' 22 yard line where the drive was ended by a fumble. Once again in the same quarter the Jackets carried the ball deep into Highlander territory, on a long pass from Babe Van Heuit, Berkeley star halfback, to Earl Brooks. In the following plays Van Heuit and Ray Gaisford packed the ball to the Piedmont 20 yard line, where they lost the ball on downs, ending the first quarter.

Recovering a Piedmont fumble, the Jackets scored their first touchdown as Doyle lateraled to Van Heuit who then passed to end Nick Veliotos for the first score. The tally was nullified by a holding penalty, however, and the score remained 0-0. Later in the same period the Jackets were held for 4 downs on the Scots' 2, but retaliated to score a long pass from Van Heuit to Brooks. Van Heuit kicked the extra point, putting the Jackets out in front 7-0.

The remainder of the game found the Berkeleyans maintaining their lead, with the strong forward wall stopping all Piedmont thrusts.

BERKELEY VS. ST. MARY'S

For their fourth straight win in as many starts, the Berkeley Yellowjackets defeated the St. Mary's Panthers by a score of 19 to 0 in a nonleague game.

Paced by Babe Van Heuit's consistent running and passing, the Jackets moved the ball down to the Panthers' 1, where Bill Baugh cracked the line for the first score, Notch Catanesi missing the conversion.

In the fourth quarter the Berkeley offense gained momentum, scoring two more touchdowns to put the game on ice. The first came as a power thrust with Boyle smashing over from the two yard line. The final touchdown came on a pass from Van Heuit to Doyle, who lateraled to Earl Brooks who raced over for the clincher.

BERKELEY VS. EL CERRITO

Playing mediocre ball during the entire first half, the Jackets finally came to life and eked out a slim 13-7 win over the scrappy El Cerrito Gauchos.

The Gauchos struck early in the first quarter, capitalizing on a Jacket fumble, and scoring on a quarterback sneak from the 2. The conversion sailed straight through the uprights and El Cerrito led 7-0.

Retaliating, the Jackets snapped back, and scored on a long 45 yard pass from Van Heuit to lanky end Earl Brooks. The conversion try failed.

Once again it was a pass from Van Heuit to Brooks for the winning T.D., with Baxter smashing over for the conversion.

BERKELEY VS. ALBANY

Paced by the stellar performances of Mel Doyle, Don Brunk, and Elmer Mertle, Berkeley won its first league game, defeating Albany 33 to 0.

The first score came on an end run by Doyle who went over from the 4 behind good blocking. Baxter converted. The second touchdown came on a reverse with Dick Meinheit going over from the 12, Baxter again converting. The third was set up when Brunk blocked a Cougar punt, and on the next play Dick Hammer cracked the line for a score. The fourth came on a reverse from Doyle to O'Conner, who went over from the 20, and the final score was made on a pass interception by Hammer.

BERKELEY VS. HAYWARD

In a bitterly fought struggle between Hayward and Berkeley, the Jackets finally put together two fourth quarter touchdowns to defeat the Farmers 14 to 0 on the Hayward turf.

After being held scoreless for three periods, the Jackets finally scored on a 35 yard pass from Van Heuit to O'Conner, who raced the remaining 10 yards to give Berkeley its first tally. The conversion was good.

The Berkeley forward wall got rough then and led by Wayne Carter, Vince Wood, Elmer Mertle and Dick Gorman shoved the Farmers back to their own 23, where they threw a long pass which was intercepted by Ray Gaisford who ran 42 yards for the second and final Jacket touchdown.

BERKELEY VS. RICHMOND

Led by the sensational running and passing of Babe Van Heuit, the Jackets continued along their undefeated path, drubbing the Richmond Oilers 32-7, and avenging their 6-0 defeat of last year.

Berkeley scored early in the first period, with Van Heuit going over from the 2. The second T.D. was set up and scored by Van Heuit, who smashed over from the 5, and kicked the conversion. Opening the second half, it was Van Heuit scoring again, on a 26 yard end sweep. The fourth tally was made by Gaisford, after center Vince Wood intercepted an Oiler pass. The final six points were added by Hammer on a line buck.

The only Richmond T.D. came in the closing minutes of the game, on a pass from Pocekey to Barringer.

BERKELEY VS. ALAMEDA

Winning their third consecutive ACAL championship, the Berkeley High Yellow-jackets splashed their way to a 24 to 7 win over the Alameda Hornets, on a rain soaked field before some 5000 high spirited fans.

Scoring in every period, the Jackets proved that they were without doubt the best team in the ACAL. The first tally came on a series of plunges which finally found Mel Doyle cracking over from the 2. After recovering a Hornet fumble, the Jackets ran it to the two, where Van Heuit hit tackle for the score. The third and last spectacular touchdown occurred when Van Heuit gathered in a Hornet punt and raced 75 yards down the sidelines into pay dirt. The final score had Van Heuit cracking the line from the 2.

This ended another triumphant season for the Jackets, ACAL champs of 1945.

I've had a helluva good well time this term. I hope you have too. Too bad you had to graduate, but those are the breaks. Still want to go around with ya. But you'd better watch me close I may break training (vice-versa)

Don't have too much fun at college. (business college)

miss ya

Dear Beloved Helen (Bang-Bang!) well, the fatal day has come at last when I won't be seeing you shining face no farther craft.
No, really I wish you are the luck in the world, and there some! I think you're a small god + a wonderful friend. Be seeing you around.
lots of love
Whyana.

Dearest Helen ———

This has been my best term at B. H. S. ——— the first term. Any way I had a good time, because you were there. You are really the best friend that I could ever have.
at least I could confide with you — you really know the meaning of friendship. I hope that you will always be my friend + not just a school friend. Best of luck in your great future. There is a lot of good things in store for you.

I better sign off ———

With all my love Leni ———

Your true friend
Nina.

P.S. Hope that you won't forget your past friends too soon ——— Love
Nina.

Dear Helen,
I haven't known you long but it's so nice knowing you.
Hope to see you soon.
Lots of luck.
Shirley Dyer.

Lots of luck
in the years to come,

Dear Helen,
Well its finally over.
We didn't do much of anything this term, but Drama sure was a blast. Hope I'll see you again before old Uncle Sam puts the finger on me.
Walt House

Dear Helen,
It was fun & I hope Drama
in to see you soon.
Lots of love
