JANUARY, 1949

Dear Mr. Riese.

The last term working as your helper has really been a swell one. Especially when I was blue and you made me feel better. I appreciate that very much.

I hope your life in the future will be very, very happy. I've really enjoyed working for you. Good bye for now.

Sincerely,
Claire Simpson

MISS VIRGINIA SOCOLOFSKY
H12 Counselor

For the past two and one-half years, Fremonters have benefited by the exceptional zeal and enthusiasm of Mr. R. W. Kretsinger, principal. During this time (and, the student body hopes, for many more years) the citizens of Fremont have found in Mr. Kretsinger a real friend and leader.

Always busy, yet always making time for one more, is Miss Patricia Moorshead, the vice principal and dean of girls. Her sympathetic and understanding nature has helped many girls; those who have gone to her for personal guidance, those who wanted and needed a real friend, or those who just wanted to talk.

The other vice principal, who is also dean of boys, is Mr. Earl Doxsee. Supervising the boys student control, Mr. Doxsee keeps order during lunchtime and school hours, as well as at the games.

Another service which will be remembered, is the help Mr. Doxsee gave Green and Gold rooters. With his encouraging praise, he aided Fremont in having this term, one of the best sports rooting sections in its history.

This term's whirl of senior events has been piloted by Miss Virginia Socolofsky, H12 counselor. Through the picnic, dinner, ball and graduation, she bore the weight of problems, small and large alike.

Seeing that each senior was informed of the opportunities open to graduates, Miss Socolofsky guided her class in selecting a college or finding suitable jobs.

Without her, the class agrees, the wonderful times at Fremont would not have been possible.

Miss Socolofsky gives the seniors a little push into the world with this message: "Out of a group of 192, someone is likely to become famous—perhaps more than one.

"But each one of you can achieve greatness that may possibly amount to more than fame. How? By bringing simple everyday happiness into the lives of those about you. That you may accomplish this is my hope for I know that you, too, then will be happy.

"Sincerely, Your Counselor,

The faithful ten!

Really deserving this name, the members of the Student Cabinet have done an exceptional job this semester in encouraging school spirit.

Under the leadership of the Executive Committee—Ed Bertola, president; Marilyn Carlisle, vice president; and Mimi Candland, secretary—the members of the Cabinet have worked together and separately to make this term one of Fremont's finest.

Harriet Cook and Ken Martin could always be seen on the job, directing the Student Control.

"The best rooting section in the OAL," was the aim of the yell leaders. Everyone at Fremont agrees that Jim Johnson and his assistants, Rhea Dunn, Ruthie Ruskofsky, Don Tafjen, and Bruce Wilson accomplished their goal.

Interesting and different dances were put on by Virginia Weise and the dance committee. Always well attended, the dances, along with the assemblies planned by Jan Sutter, contributed to the morale of the school.

Promoting student body card sales, one of the hardest jobs, was done ably by Elwood Wyle, commissioner of finance.

Last of the "ten" is Allen Bacon, who encouraged as well as criticized through his editorials in the Green and Gold.

It is mainly because of the work of these students that Fremont has run so smoothly this semester.

» Long after we have graduated and gone our separate ways, we of the senior class will be united in the memories of our three years at Fremont. Especially outstanding will be our last semester here.

Led by class president, Roger Wilson, we rushed through the festivities of the "Mardi Gras," our senior party, and the fun of the traditional "cut day" at Marsh Creek.

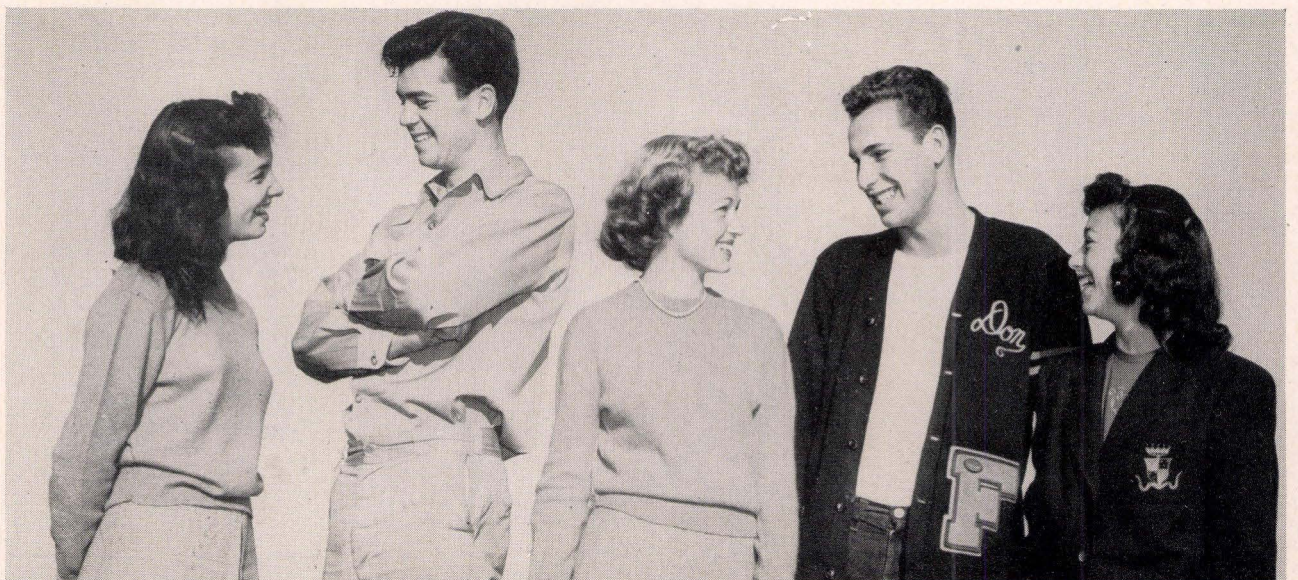

We enjoyed the good food and good talk at our senior dinner. We listened to the past, present, and future of our class being revealed.

After the Christmas holidays, we came back with a tingle of excitement in the air. The time was drawing near when our three years at Fremont would be completed.

One of our unforgettable memories is the thrill of the Senior Ball. We'll never forget the magic of the evening, the amazing transformation of the gym into a ballroom, and even more amazing, the transformation of old school friends into young men and women.

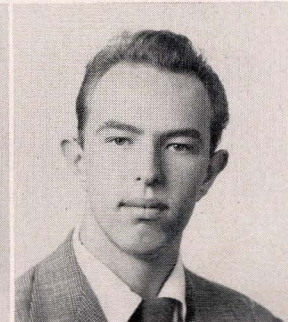

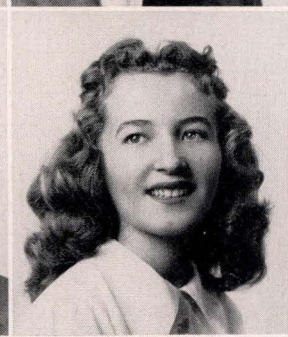

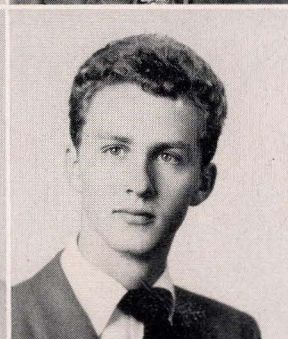

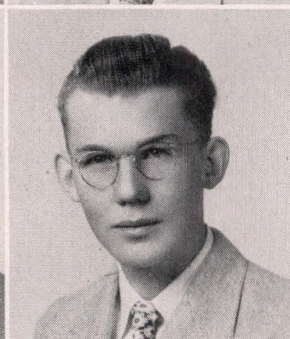

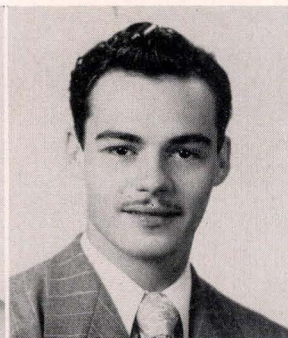

And then, came the climax of our three years at Fremont. Impressed by the traditions and ceremony of graduation, some of us were saddened by the fact that it had really come; some of us, in turn, were filled with the joy that comes from knowing you have completed something worthwhile.

All of us, however, realized that we had come to the end of an important part of our lives — our school days.

OUTSTANDING MEN NAMED

We will remember the courage and fighting spirit of such men as Harold Smith, a previously inexperienced lad who loves the sport of football for what it is. Harold played stellar varsity ball for the Tigers this season but only after he had conditioned himself and fought savagely for his regular berth at the end position.

Ben Perry was also a rugged defensive end who played his heart out every minute he was out on the

• With three practice tilt defeats, three league losses, and two wins, the Fremont eleven ended the 1948 gridiron season in fourth place.

With Roger Wilson and Bob Coombs the Tiger lads were strong in the center of the line.

On either side at the guard positions, All-City Al Malfatti and Jim Call played stellar ball. Second string substitutes were Jim Williams and John Campbell.

Holding down the tackle positions were starters Captain Bob Burastero and Bud Gooderham, with capable substitutes George Von Arx, Neils Waidtlow and Nick Garidakis.

The biggest loss for the Tiger team was end, Billy Sly, who was injured during the second quarter of the Vallejo game. Sly was replaced by Harold Smith, a former guard. All-City Ben Perry held down the other end position, seconded by Louie McClain and Duke Waldear.

In fullback position, three players were used, Duane Ormsby, Gabriel Trunzo, Jordan Pitta. Halfbacks were Don Johnson, Tony Nastari, Punter Don Winton, and All-City George Kastanos. Winton, unable to participate in the full game, was confined to punting. Kastanos was unable to start until the last two games, but, despite the fact, made first string, All-City.

Quarterback Ray Ironsides was put out of all OAL competition with a knee injury during the Vallejo game. Elwood Wyle, taking over the signal-calling position, was also injured in the latter part of the season. Passing Art Edwards completed the trio of quarterbacks.

• Proving to have a more successful season than the varsity, the Pussycats ended in a tie with McClymonds for first place in the junior varsity pennant parade, by winning three, tying one and losing one.

A desperation pass by Mack in the last minute and a half of play, made the Kittens' first OAL tilt a 6-6 tie.

Fremont received its only defeat of the season at the hands of the Oakland Wildcat Bees. Oakland scored in the last three minutes of the game, making the score 6-0.

Taking their first win of the season, the Bengals trounced San Leandro, 30-6, on the Pirates' home gridiron.

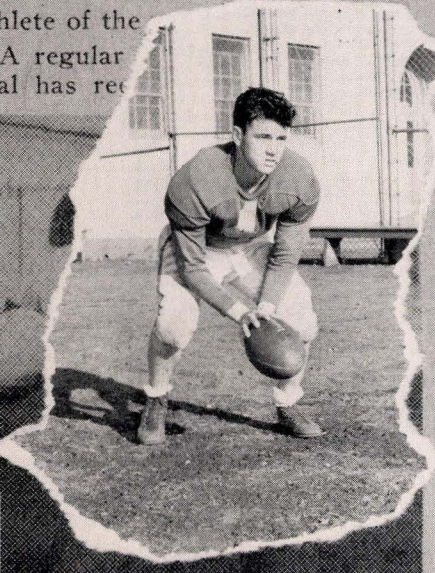

A previously unbeaten Technical Bee team fell to Fremont 12-6, and the Tigers boosted their standing to a two win, one tie, and one loss position.

In the last game of the season, the Green and Gold took a 6-2 decision over the Junior Knights of Castlemont and ended the season in a tie for first place.

Edwards, proving to be a valuable player, was enrolled on the varsity squad in the last two tilts and was unable to play with the Pussycats in the Technical and Castlemont games.

Other valuable men on the team were: Quarterback Paiva, Halfbacks Larsen and Deane, End Cordes and Guard Vargass.

• Winning two games of the season's eight scheduled tilts, the injury-ridden Tiger eleven took fourth place in the OAL flag race with a .400 average and a total of 34 points to their opponents' 139.

Aided by three Tiger injuries and a strong wind at their backs, the Alameda Hornets swamped Fremont with a 47-0 score in the Bengals' first game of the season.

The Green and Gold lost its second encounter to a strong San Mateo team. Fremont, outclassed in the second half, was defeated 12-0.

A pass from Ray Ironsides to Ben Perry during the Vallejo tilt, gave the Tigers their first TD of the season, although it was to no avail, as the final score was 34-7, with Fremont on the small end.

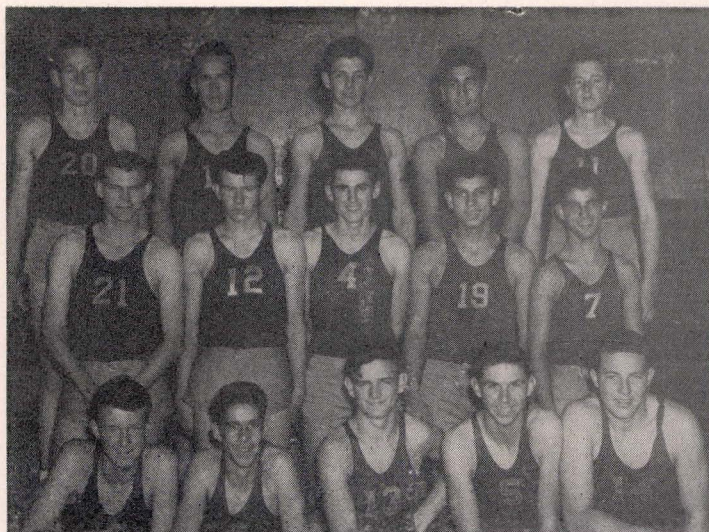

In their first OAL game, Fremont lost a hard-fought battle 8-0, on the McClymonds' gridiron at Filbert Street.

Losing the next two encounters to Oakland, 14-0, and San Leandro, 7-0, co-champions for the '48 season, Fremont stood a winless ball club in the cellar.

Fourteen to six was the score in favor of the Green and Gold as they dumped the Technical Bulldogs.

Outclassing their rivals in both the first and second halves and ending the 1948 football season in a blaze of glory, the Tiger eleven managed to turn the tables by defeating the Castlemont Knights 13-0 after an eleven-year jinx. This game, it might be added, is the only game in which the opposing team ended with a goose egg.

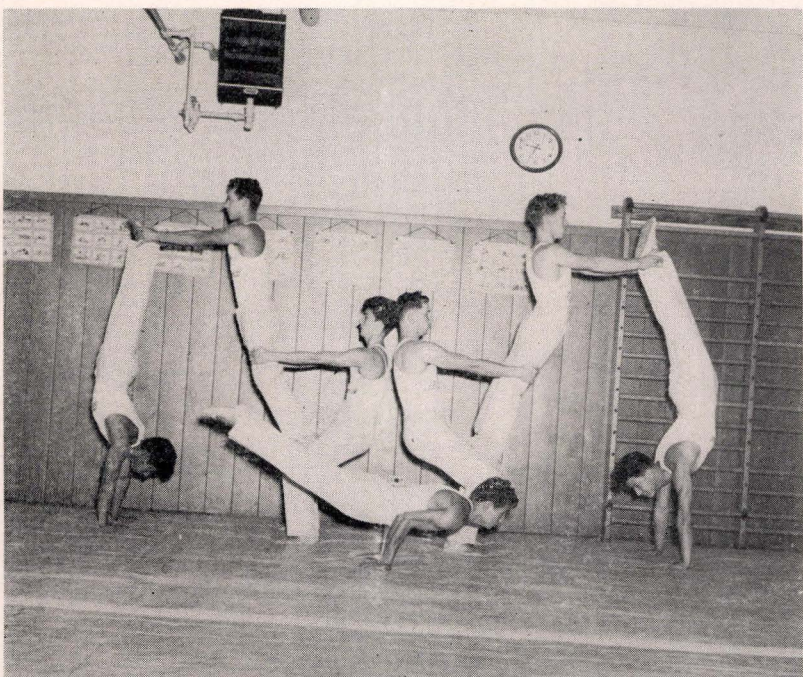

• For the first time in OAL history, Fremont had two girl yell leaders along with the other assistants. Much credit is deserved by Jim Johnson, '48 head yell leader, and his assistants, Rhea Dunn, Ruthie Ruskofsky, Don Taffjen and Bruce Wilson.

• The 1948-49 basketball team, coached by Bill Rockwell, had a schedule of six practice games and ten OAL contests. Although there were no returning lettermen, Rockwell found ability in forwards, Frank Evangelho, 6'3" and Dick Porter, 6'3" and in center, John McCuaig, 6'3".

Handling the guard posts were Glen Ashcraft, Ron Tomsic, Gil Perry and Ron Holm.

• Rockwell, besides coaching the Tiger Five, is the tumbling instructor here.

This season, he had two returning lettermen, Steve Toledo and Larry Mongeon.

Girls' Sports

Softball — Volleyball — Modern Dance. Girls of Fremont go out into weather of all temperatures and risk having the curl fall from their hair, to play second base, or to help make that "21" score in volleyball.

There may be some groans on rainy days when exercises are on the agenda, but it's worth the satisfaction that comes when the "tubbies" are finally able to reach their toes!

If she is in modern dance, a girl learns how to acquire poise, gracefulness, rhythm and the ability to squirm into a leotard and a pair of "skuffies" in the time allotted.

Being performers is only one of the experiences the girls, as dancers, undergo. They also become, in preparing for a performance, choreographers, costume designers and seamstresses.

This term, the dance III class performed an Arabian dance for the senior class party, and the combined dance classes participated in the Christmas program with their version of "The Juggler of Notre Dame."

Under the supervision of Mrs. May Partridge, head of the girls' physical education department, the staff consists of the following persons: Mrs. Trieste Hall, Miss Ann Kramer, Miss Caryl Cuddeback, Mrs. Ruth Williams, and Mrs. Liliias Biegel (the former Miss Broin).

Activities

» Like to sing? Are you a "shutter-bug?" Or maybe social-minded? Not only are there many clubs in this school, but they enable students of different talents and interests to take part in the "social side" of high school. Camera "fiends" gather and discuss their pet hobby, photography; drama lovers obtain through their weekly sessions an outlet for a hidden joy, acting; musclemen (and girls) battle through a football or softball game, while Fremont musicians give forth with their melodies.

For the athletic-minded, the Boys and Girls Block "F" 's and the Roller Skating and Bowling Clubs are challenging. A Cappella Choir and the band are the organizations which attract the "musicians" of Fremont. Then there are clubs like the Science Club, Business Girls, Forum, Fre-Hi Photo Club, and Radio Club for those interested in making active use of their talents. The rally committee can be found at its duties during the games, while the P.A. crew is on hand wherever the "mike" goes. Specializing in "service" are the following clubs: Sparks, Torch and Key, and Horizon, while the ROTC is represented by the Chevrons and Saber Clubs.

At every door during lunchtime and at a few between classes, the boys and girls student controls are on the job, keeping the halls quiet and avoiding head-on collisions.

We'll all remember this term's Jester's Workshop in its production of "George Washington Slept Here." Working behind the scenes was the stage crew. Anyone interested in drama can join the "Footlighters Club," an advantage for those who don't have room for drama on their programs.

Combining services and pleasure are Fremont's Hi-Y's, the Cobra, Hornet, Scorpion, Panther, Cardinal and Falcon.

Through these organizations the students have made Fremont's clubs a real part of their lives.

Publications

» High above the rest of the school resides the "voice of Fremont." From up in its tower room, it makes itself heard in the weekly publication of the Green and Gold, and the semi-annual publication of the Flame.

Through these two mediums, students are given a chance to express themselves and to learn more about their school.

Although the Flame is dedicated mainly to the graduating seniors, this semester the staff has tried to make it a book for the rest of the school, too. In this Flame an attempt has been made to mirror the school; the dances, the parties, the fun, the work, and the spirit.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Margaret Branson, faculty advisor, the staff of the Green and Gold has put out a paper which has rated All-American for the past year. With the goal of maintaining this rating in mind, this semester's staff has worked exceptionally hard.

Despite the handicap of working with an almost entirely inexperienced group, Editor Allen Bacon has set before his readers a highly informative, exceedingly interesting paper. It has dealt with happenings around the school, the community, and the world.
