RED AND WHITE

LOWELL
HIGH SCHOOL

Published by the Lowell High School Students' Association
San Francisco, California

VOLUME SIXTY TWO

DEDICATION

TO Miss Frances H. Gray and Miss Anne P. Hunt, our teachers, who retired at the close of last term.

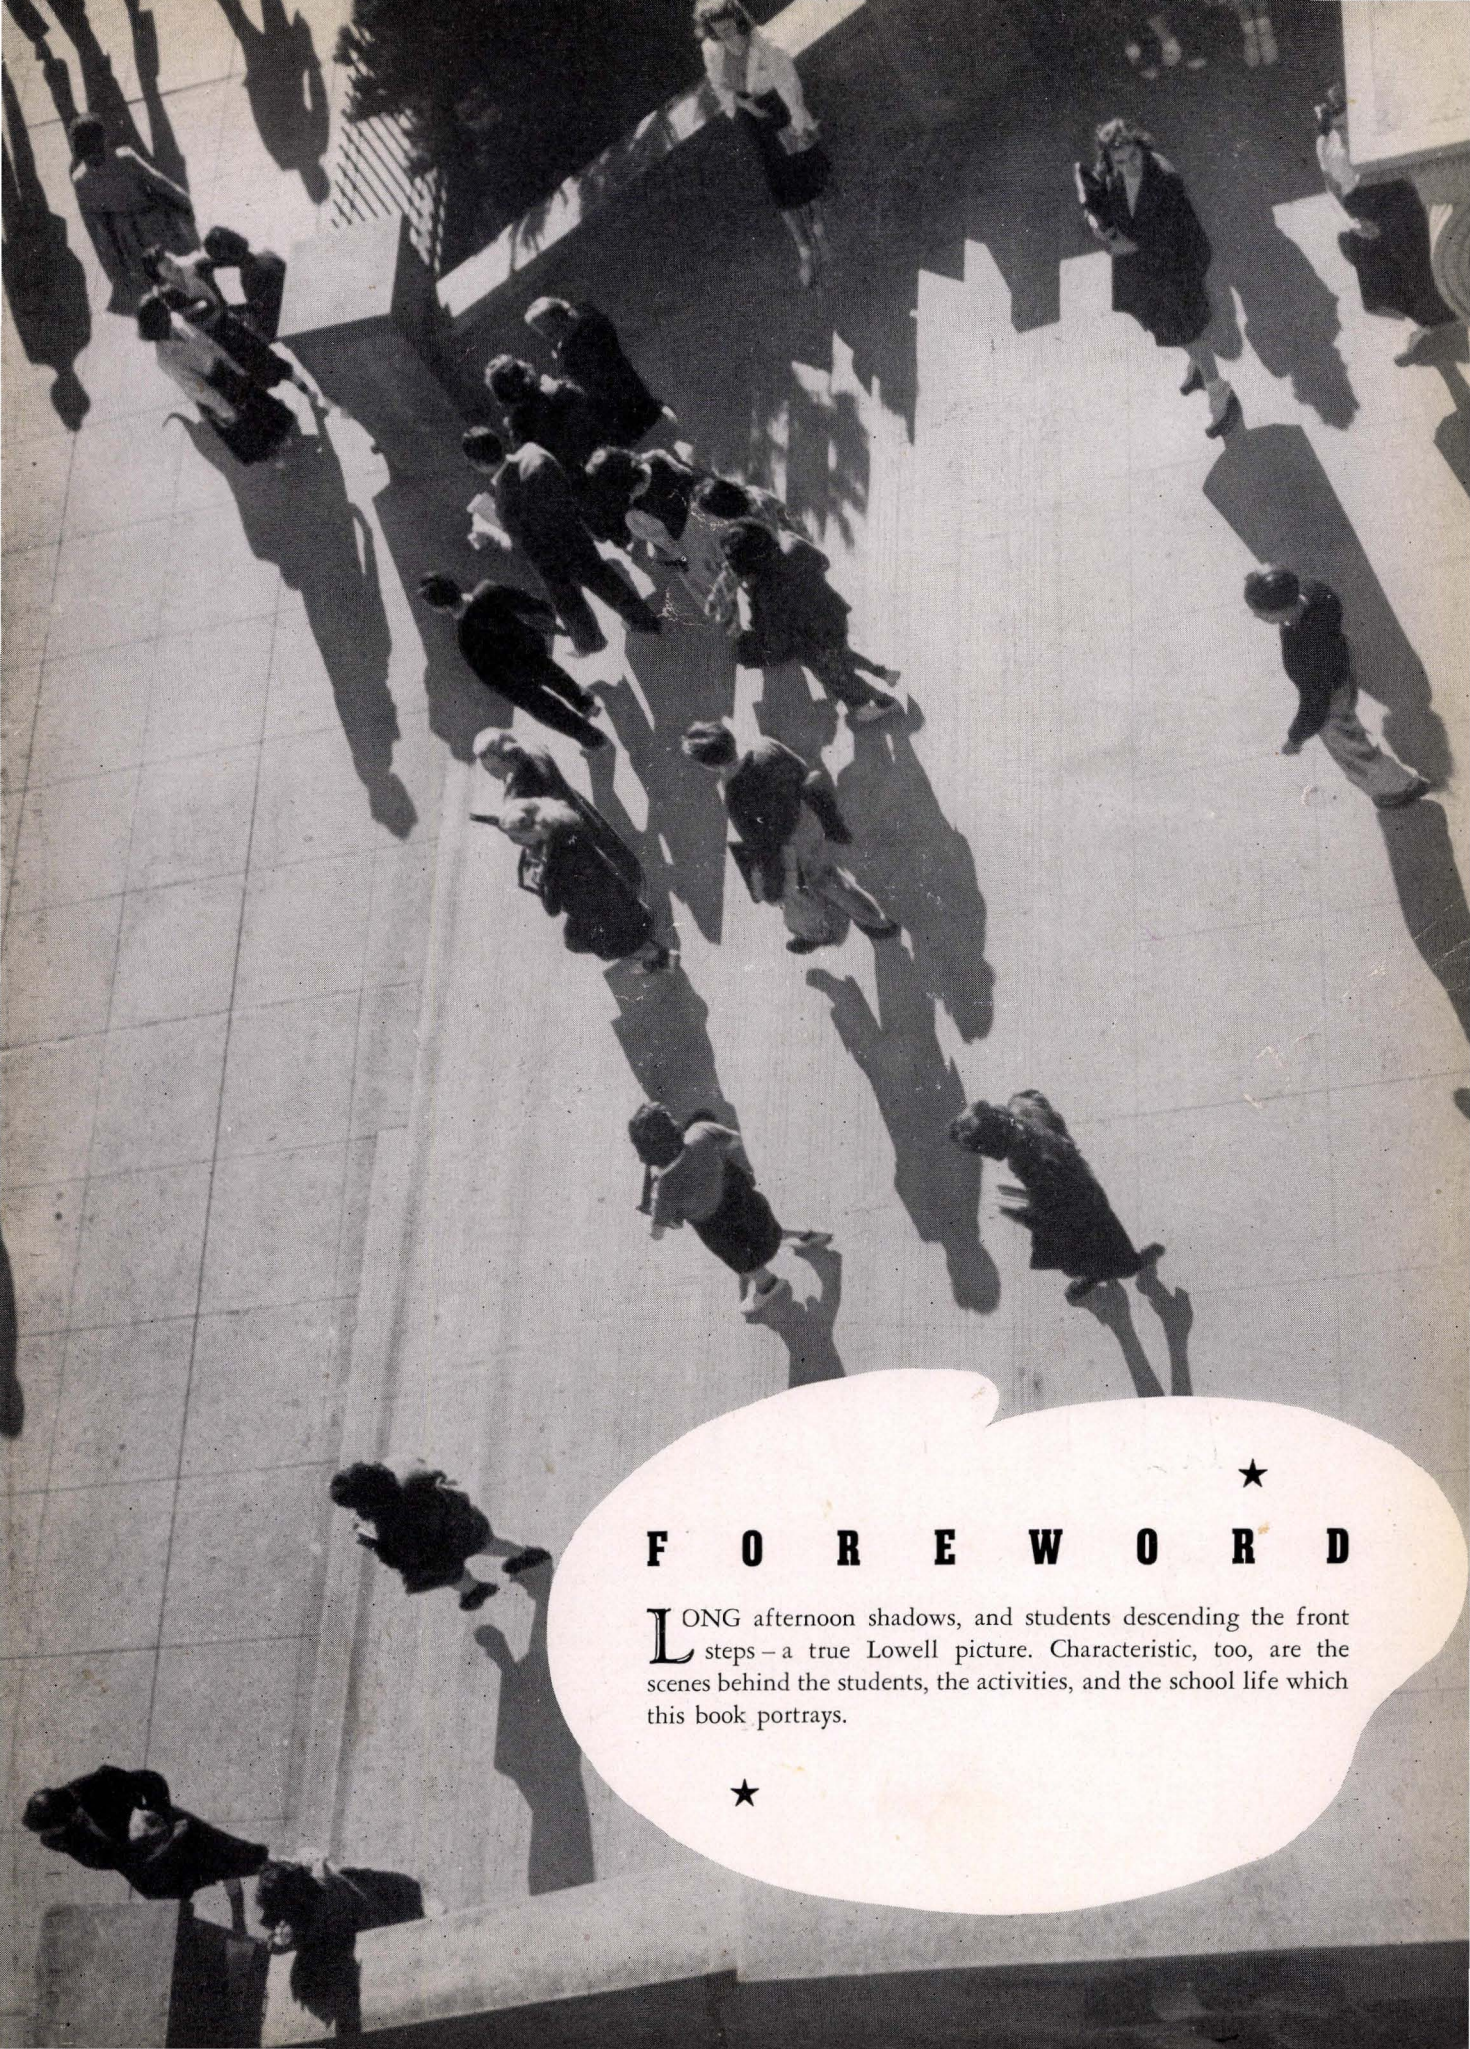

¶ Miss Gray, after seventeen years of gentle, sure, and scholarly influence on Lowell Spanish classes, retired early enough to plan for herself some years of pleasure and profit.

¶ Miss Hunt, whose vigorous and incisive mental ability inspired students of European history for the two decades between 1915 and 1935, was forced by ill health to withdraw from teaching during our stay at Galileo. She is now prevented from carrying out her determination to return to us.

¶ It can truly be said that no two women of our faculty have stood for more in the way of staunchness of character and unselfish devotion to the highest interests of the teaching profession than Miss Gray and Miss Hunt.

*To those "of little showing,"
For their work continueth,
and their work continueth,
Broad and deep continueth,
Great beyond their knowing."*

F O R E W O R D

LONG afternoon shadows, and students descending the front steps—a true Lowell picture. Characteristic, too, are the scenes behind the students, the activities, and the school life which this book portrays.

ADMINISTRATION

OUR schools are run not only by the efficient direction of the Faculty, but by a Board of Directors, Councils, Organized Bodies of Students who, perhaps with eager eyes turned towards national and state administrative officers in the future, receive the valuable training in these fields that today's school makes possible.

MR. LEROY H. STEPHENS

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

THE first link in our plans for expansion has been completed with the dedication of the new Boys' Gymnasium. Plans for the new Girls' Gymnasium have been prepared, and actual building will begin before the new term is over. This projected gymnasium will extend from the new boys' wing to the school proper, and, joined to it with an entrance from the first floor, will make a larger and more harmonious structure, better suited to the needs of our growing school. We are justly proud of this addition. It is a symbol of the trust and confidence the San Francisco Board of Education feels in the future of Lowell High School.

¶ In athletics the sportsmanlike conduct and the fine attitude of our boys may well serve as a model for future terms. The outstanding football team has shown that it knew how to wear its victories without pride or boastfulness, and to endure a defeat without bitterness or ill will—lessons that endure a lifetime.

¶ In scholarship Lowell students have not only learned the satisfaction that comes from the mastery of a difficult subject, but also the joy that comes from imparting something of this knowledge. Their voluntary coaching of less gifted boys and girls marks a forward step in Lowell's history.

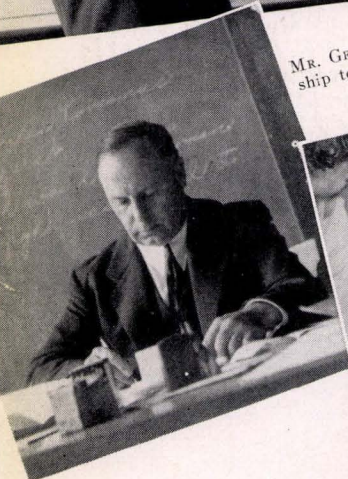

Mr. ALGER—history man, book tender, Gabriel.

F A C U L

Mr. GERLOUGH—jumped from a Rhodes Scholarship to authority on California History—quite a jump.

Mrs. KUHNLE—teaches us to talk and to publish "Red and Whites"—also quite a jump.

Mrs. JORDAN—many students' choice for "First Lady" of the English Department—because of, or in spite of, Subject A. policy is being determined. Mr. STEPHENS the person you don't see.

An artist (comic and scientific) in the Biology Department. Could Mr. KAST have missed his calling?

JACK SLOAN
President

ERNEST GENTNER
Secretary

FREDERICK MIELKE
Editor, "Red and White"

President Jack Sloan led the Lowell students in a very successful term. He officiated at the meetings of the Board of Directors and at the rallies, which spurred the football team on to its many victories. Vice-president Shirley Brown conducted the girls' rallies and led the girls in their support of the team. Secretary Ernest Gentner kept the affairs of the Board of Directors in order. Treasurer James Honnert set a new record when he sold student body cards to more than 98 per cent of the Lowell students. Donald Minkler led the rooters at rallies and games. Allan Sapiro kept the students informed about school events through the "Lowell", which Smith, Stock, Thompson, Vucinich, Waddell, Watwood, Welcome, and Yee; Franklin Leavick served as Clerk of Awards; Clyde Curley was Athletic Manager. Next year's football team will miss Berwick, Chase, Gentner, Molina, Moore, Morgan, Musante, Sleeper, Sloan, and Vucinich; Gentner and Vucinich were co-captains. Participating in lightweight basketball were Brush, Blumenfeld, Basso, and Delehanty. Soccer interested Christiansen, and Haberman; Berwick and Dimpfl were members of the swimming team. President of the Girls' Block L was Catherine Guerena. Senior members were Brown, Burnett, Clausen, Corcoran, Critchley, Cruickshank, Greenback, Greene, Guerena, Larrieu, Mouradian, Sammis, Singdahl, and Stephens. Geraldine White was G. A. A. Clerk of Awards.

¶ The seniors who were members of the C. S. F. were Agueret, Alch, Dawes, Dorey, Fort, de Giobbi, Gallagher, Ichiyasu, Johnson, Keifer, Kobayashi, Mouradian, Nishino, O'Brien, J. Smith, Stapff, van der Wal, White, and Wynn.

¶ Not always serious, the seniors started a Kiddies Kut-Up day and came to school the day of the Galileo rally dressed as children.

¶ This term, for the first time in Lowell's history, the senior class held an election and voted to wear caps and gowns at the graduation exercises. Following a very impressive commencement at the War Memorial Opera House, at which time the class was represented by President, Redmond Waddell; Valedictorian, Frederick Mielke; Historian, Robert Smith; a girl speaker, Mary Elizabeth O'Brien; a guest speaker, Mr. Jack Curts (class of June, 1927); the senior ball was held at the Fairmont Hotel.

CLASS HISTORY

1935-1938—four years out of a lifetime. Four years of happiness and thrilling excitement, new faces, friends, teachers. New studies, homework, exams. New social activities, athletics—one after the other—all new and intensely interesting.

¶ Four years of work and play. Years of mental growth and physical development. Years which back there at the beginning of 1935 seemed to stretch ahead interminably, but now at the close of 1938 suddenly become a series of experiences which combined make up our high school careers.

¶ Four years at Lowell! Eventful years, teeming with memories we will cherish throughout our lives.

¶ Our first scene was at Galileo High School. The Time: January, 1935. Amongst the hundreds of students assembled for school opening was a timid group of Low Freshmen representing the Lowell Fall Class of 1935-1938, and everywhere was a spirit of confusion, heightened by unfamiliar faces and strange surroundings. Class registry disclosed an acquaintance here and there, and before we realized it the routine of school activities absorbed us and the character of our class began to take form.

¶ With great patience and friendly understanding, the faculty, under the leadership of our Principal, Mr. Stephens, guided us during this formative period. In mid term our first Freshman Reception was held and it was there we realized that among our new classmates were many we now counted as close friends. Summer vacation arrived and before it was over we were longing for school to reopen so we could busy ourselves in the affairs and companionships which had been interrupted.

¶ The new term held one disappointment—for weeks we had eagerly looked forward to assembling in our own school building, but circumstances prevented. We registered at Polytechnic, and although the hospitality extended was most generous, we could not entirely conquer the feeling that we are the guests of our traditional rivals. However, we settled down to the responsibility of our studies and before long the term was over and Christmas holidays brought an end to our Freshman year.

¶ Then the scene changed, and augmented by second year students from other schools, the enlarged class moved into the present building of Lowell High School as we know it today.

¶ With the opening of the new term we approached our studies with increased confidence. Our appreciation for the value of education

FALL 1938

Robert Smith

grew so that we now recognized the importance and honor of our service societies. Athletics, rallies, and other activities aroused new interest and enthusiasm.

¶ Then came our Junior year. At last we were upper classmen with the responsibility of self-government. We learned the thrill of electing our own officers and arranging our own dances. Some of our members were honored by selection for the honor societies. Others, outstanding in sports, were awarded the coveted Block "L". Many of our scholars were honored by the California Scholarship Federation. Now our school work changed in character and became more purposeful and serious. The carefree days of boy-and-girlhood were replaced by a growing sense of duty. Vacation was little more than an interlude when Christmas arrived and the term ended.

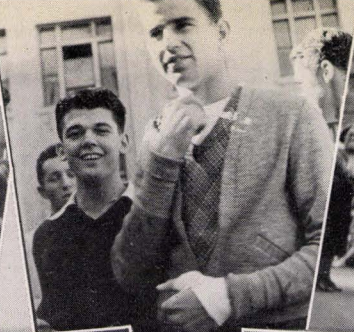

¶ 1938! We were seniors—the school leaders! In every activity the student body was looking to us for the embodiment of Lowell spirit and ideals. In scholarship, debating, dramatics, and athletics—in every phase of school life the senior class was making its final contribution to Lowell history and tradition. The difference between the children we were in 1935 and the young men and women we are today is in a large measure due to our Alma Mater. The use we make of our Lowell heritage in years to come will be the measure of our appreciation.

¶ Senior year cannot be described in events; it is a series of emotions—the dominating one being that heart sinking feeling of loneliness that comes with the parting of friends. We have loved it all—every day—every class—every teacher—every student.

¶ Years from now most San Franciscans will recall 1935-1938 as the period during which our two great bridges were built. But our recollection will be even more vivid of a different kind of bridge constructed then—a mental one. Instead of spanning a body of water our bridge extends over a period of time—the four years between childhood and adolescence. Instead of concrete anchored below sea-level, our foundation is the character and spirit that has been built in our hearts. Instead of steel spun into cables to support the structure, ours will be held together with a loving friendship that nothing can destroy.

¶ And, like the material bridge that man has created, ours also has a broad roadway to travel on, and along it, walking confidently into the future, arm in arm, are ourselves—the Lowell Fall class of 1938, seeking happiness and fortune wherever destiny may lead us.

1. Well, looks like all the boys in reg 331. Friend Mr. Barnes is in there, too. Can you find him?

2. Let's jump rope. Charlie Morgan, star grid quarterback, all dressed up in his "Kid Kut-Up" suit shows the lads how it's done.

3. "Moose" Musante is another football man. Almost looks here as if he has a frog in his throat.

4. Girls jumped rope, too, on "Kid Kut-Up Day". Here we have Shirley Keifer and Sylvia Glassman showing how they used to do it.

9. One of the great brainstorms of the senior class is "Chuck" Gallagher. This is how you look when you don't have to worry over your report card.

10. Another brainy person is Carol Barnes. She's an artist, too; did some art work for the "Red and White".

11. Sports Editor of "The Lowell", Bill Cunha, gets a big thrill when he dances with Jeanne Ferrari, Vice-President of the Senior Class. Where's Waddell?

15. Another intellectual person is Paula White. When she's in your class you know it. When her friend's a Senior we'll tell you who he is.

16. Another combination seniors know. Dale Farnow and Gloria Yaffee. And he didn't forget his pants—it's "Kid Kut-Up Day".

17. "Kewpie" Gordon is head man around the R. O. T. C. Ever watch all the recruits salute him? Must make him feel pretty medal-chested.

18. A genial wit and lad of super-intellect is Ed Roleson. He's the fellow who used to write the clever things in "The Lowell" joke column last term.

S E N I O R

5. Bob Smith—from this you'd think he was the serious type, but not if you know him. He is class historian, though.

6. Al Peters sneaked in here when we weren't looking, but it's too late to get him out now.
7. Here's a combination that seniors are used to. The costume is a little different but it's still Wayne Welcome and "Tat" Guarena.

8. All city basketball man was Larry Margolin. Did he swallow a fly or does he always look like that?
12. "Sourpuss" Mielke seems to be enjoying a lollipop. Oh, well, some people just don't seem to grow up.

13. First Lieutenant Charles W. Mackenzie, Jr., is also a photographer. How photographers do pose when having pictures taken!
14. Gloria Greenback seems to be studying. Now you know how she became a life member of the C. S. F.

19. Still another two-some seen often is "Whacky" Watwood and Dot Thurmond. Watwood captained the varsity crew.
20. Dot Mills munches a sandwich. She's girls' yell leader. Find the division page she designed.

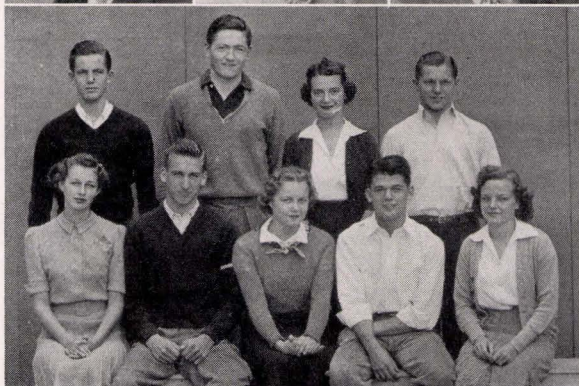

21. Looks like the star fullback himself. Seems as if Milt Vucinich can entertain girls as well as football fans.

THE High Juniors were ably led this fall term by Douglas Clifford, president; Barbara Don, vice-president, and Howard Hall, secretary. Aiding these officers was an active dance committee, which planned the "Screenland Scramble," hold on October 21, a huge success. Betty Larrieu was Cafeteria Manager. The Scroll and "L" claimed Douglas Clifford and Glenn Wollman; the Shield and "L," Barbara Don and Betty Larrieu; Frances Bittner was president of the Chemistry Club; Barbara Bamman, vice-president of the "C. S. F."; Jean Levinson was girls' yell leader.

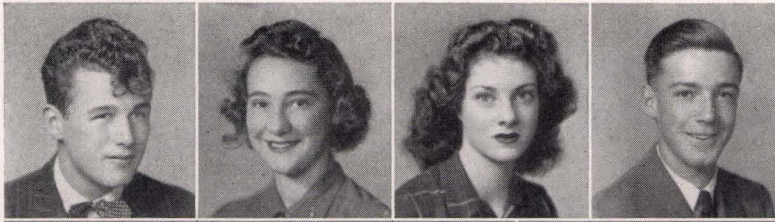

¶ On the staff of the "Red and White" were, Barbara Burke, Frank Gillio, Jean Levinson and Elena Thomas; Edward Jellins was on the art staff. On the "Lowell" were Edith Bliss, Gloria Essman, William Gilman, Dorothy Majors, Frances McNeilly, Robert Rockwell and Vera Sedloff. Prominent debaters were Hans Beetz, Barbara Don, Arthur Foff and Frank Gillio. Shirley Bernstein, Doris Brodofsky, Barbara Cowles, Virginia Goldsworthy, Jeanne Katz, Jacqueline Manuel, Patricia Randall, Norma Ramsgard, Christina Reid, Leo Ryan, and Vera Sedloff participated in dramatics.

¶ High Junior girls were active in the "G. A. A." this term, turning out in large numbers for the eight different sports. Irene Old was hockey manager; Mary McCabe, assisted by Lorraine Schwerin and Elena Thomas, was badminton manager. Brolan, Cooney, Garcia, Gregory, Kracke, Long, Milton and Schwartz were prominent in football. Those who played soccer were Hall, MacNamara, Manning, Moore, and Peters. Basketball claimed Ferris, Jellins and Thurm. George Brown played golf.

THE Low Junior Class, broken into the sensation of being respected upper classmen, commenced its term by electing a very capable group of class officers. Edgar Cerf filled the office of president, while Patricia Niemeyer, who withdrew from school midway in the term, and was succeeded by Lynne Galloway, were vice-presidents; Robert Curley was secretary. The class dance, "Boy Meet Girl," proved highly successful. Much credit is due the dance committee, consisting of Edgar Cerf, Lynne Galloway, Robert Curley, Emma Mae Cowden, Eugene Clark, Betty Longland, James Weeks, Frances Hubbard, Robert Neph, Frances McNeil, and Bruce Sutherland. ¶Eugene Clark and William Joslyn were chosen members of the Scroll and L. James Honnert served as student body treasurer; Robert Curley and Noel Reyburn were assistant well leaders. The "Red and White" had as its financial manager Bruce Sutherland; on the "Lowell" staff were Katinka Gallin and Betty Mae Lewis. Rosemarie Young, William Garry, and Warren Mohr took part in the term play. Valuable debaters were Marion Neustadt, Barbara McRae, and Pearl Steiner. Barbara McRae presided over the Music club; Doris Lewis, the Girls' Advanced Glee. Pearl Steiner sang in the Girls' Triple Trio; William Garry, Richard Landre, and John Rubke, also band leader, in the Boys' Double Quartet. ¶The class of June '40, contained many notable athletes; Joslyn, Honnert, and Stephenson, in football; Bemis and De Lano, in 120,s basketball. A great many Low Junior girls were members of the G. A. A.. Many great achievements are eagerly anticipated from this class, already off to an excellent beginning.

FRESHMEN and SOPHOMORES

LOWER Classmen have worked hard to be in all school activities possible, and to participate in social events equally with the upper classes.

¶The term started with the Newcomers' Reception on September 8, the Scroll and Shield combining with an interesting program of skits to make it a huge success.

¶Clubs interested many and were frequently presided over by Lower Classmen; Stamp Club, Pierre Salinger; Tropical Aquaria, James McFarland; Advanced and Beginning Chess, Peter Rossick and Robert Pederson, respectively. Music was particularly entertaining for Shirley Button and Lillian Morgan, Girls' Glee; Eugene McClain, accompanist of the Boys' Glee. Sports enrolled many lower division girls.

¶In boys' sports, the 110-lb. basketball team was made up entirely of lower classmen, Gilpin, Lew, Lum, Master-son, Signer, Woo, Yip, Wear; 120's were Hagerty and Kotta; soccer was the sport for Bruton; American football for Burmeister.

¶The "Red and White" occupied Helen Degenhardt and Alvin Heyman.

¶Library staff workers were Marie Anderson, Ann Bowman, Marjilea Chrisman, Marjorie Coffey, Della Mae Davis, Pauline De Carlo, Marian Gorman, Patricia Kelly, Betty Klinker, Frank Landecker, Patricia Lenhart, Juanda Loysen, Theodore Matthews, Nancy Mays, Bernice McCook, Mary Louise McGuire, Jean Peaselee, Henry Picard, Shirley Seidkin, Margaret Schaffer, Naomi Shain, Geraldine Stowell Davona Williams.

¶Service committees of all sorts, girls' sports, and every large activity group claimed freshmen and sophomore members. The interest that they have shown should do much to assure Lowell of the ability of her future leaders.

BOYS' BLOCK L SOCIETY

UNDER the capable leadership of William Moore, president; William Joslyn, vice-president, and Ernest Gentner, secretary, and with the able advice of Mr. Monroe, dean of boys, and Mr. Walsh, faculty adviser, the Boys' Block L Society again contributed much school service. This fall the Block L had over two hundred members, the largest roster in Lowell's history, showing the Cardinal predominance in sports.

¶ Much credit must be given to the members of the traffic squad under the guidance of Mr. Walsh and Robert Bareilles, captain, for their outstanding work in the enforcement of traffic laws.

¶ Block L members have been very valuable by acting as "Big Brothers" to all new students, by cleaning and preparing the court for rallies, and by keeping order at all the football games. All these services they have given to Lowell, earning for the Block L the reputation of being one of the finest service groups at Lowell.

WITH a membership of over two hundred, the Lowell chapter of the California Scholarship Federation finished its fourth year of existence. Pearl Lapidaire was elected president at the first meeting of the term; Barbara Bamman, vice-president, and Marie Cummings, secretary. Mr. L. B. Barnes, and Mr. S. W. Moore served capably as the society's faculty advisors.

¶ One of the most important committees was the coaching group, headed by Jean Schwarzenbek and Janna van der Wal. On October 8, Lowell sent delegates to a convention at Hayward High School. Mary Elizabeth O'Brien was Lowell's representative speaker in the panel discussion on "Resolved, That Freedom of Thought and Honor Scholarship is Vanishing From the World Today."

¶ An auditorium program was held on October 18 for all C. S. F. members and low and high seniors who intended to enter the University of California. Guests from George Washington and Polytechnic attended. Speakers for the day were Miss Patricia Golten, Phi Beta Kappa, and Dr. Franz Schneider, head of the German Department of the University of California. The dance committee with Barbara Harter as chairman, scheduled a dance for the society on December 9. The theme for the dance was "Hats" and the slogan "It's the Tops."

Lowell Battalion

LOWELL'S battalion made great strides forward this term under the leadership of Capt. H. J. Flexsenhar and Lieut. Col. Marshall Gordon, together with 247 men, one of the largest units in the school's history.

¶Holding battalion parades every Wednesday, with four companies on line under the command of Captains Wiley, Perry, Surtees, and Pedersen, respectively, the unit took part in many activities. At the Commandant's Cup Competition, Lowell made a fine showing, although she failed to win the coveted cup. The battalion was also represented at the Armistice Day Parade with a special company participating. ¶Men from the Lowell unit helped make the Traffic Squad's trip to the Presidio on October twenty-seventh a success. A well deserved compliment was paid then, when an officer of the regular army informed Capt. Flexsenhar that our unit's rifles were in the finest condition of any of the R. O. T. C. units in the entire Ninth Corps Area. For the first time in years the battalion moved, and now occupies the old gymnasium which was vacated by the boys late in the term.

UNDER the leadership of Mr. Madison Devlin, the advanced orchestra has contributed many pleasurable hours to school life. With Irwin Gimov as Concert Master, it has contributed something new—court concerts. These are given during the lunch periods and have proved to be a great success. The orchestra has played for dramatic productions, at the opening dedication of the new boys' gymnasium, and at Commencements. It is expected that the members will play for some of the 1939 Golden Gate-International Exposition audiences. ¶The red and white uniformed school band under the baton of Jack Rubke and the marching direction of Drum Major Allen Smithson, has played at all football games and has fired student-body spirit. Led by David Freed, the dance orchestra has been invaluable at class dances. ¶Much credit is due our fine music department for interesting 282 students to become members of nine different instrumental groups.

DUE to Miss Neppert's absence for three weeks early in the term, a later start than usual was made but with the whole-hearted cooperation of the members, the Glee Club soon reached its usual fine standard.

¶The single quartet of the Boys' Glee Club, composed of William Garry, Hugh Houston, Gordon Kenny and Gene Mead, represented Lowell at an Aptos Junior High Assembly. Their selections were "Carmencita," a Mexican folk song; two negro spirituals, "Who Did," and "Climb Up Ye Chillen Climb," and "Dream Boat." On various occasions the double quartet rendered its usual interesting group of selections, notably at the Commencement Exercises.

¶This Glee Club specializes in A Cappella singing. When an accompaniment is needed for lighter songs, Eugene McClain has proved himself very efficient. Officers for the term were: president, Gordon Kenney; vice-president, William Garry; secretary, Hugh Houston, and librarian, Paul Kohler.

UNDER the direction of Miss H. J. Alexander, the Triple Trio and Girls' Advanced Glee Club have given many successful programs: Officers of the Glee Club were, Doris Lewis, president; Jeanne Radanovich, vice-president; Pearl Steiner, secretary; Betty Carscadden and Lorraine Mann, librarians, and Shirley Rouse, accompanist.

¶The highlight of the term was that the Club was given new gowns to be worn at Commencement. At the time of publication the girls had entertained at two performances; one on Constitution Day, the other at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association. They plan singing at graduation.

¶The nine girls composing the Triple Trio have shown much talent. They are: Shirley Button, Jean Henderson, and Jeanne Radanovich, first sopranos; Neva Foster, Barbara Smith and Lorraine Thomas, second sopranos; and Lillian Morgan, Irene Old and Pearl Steiner, altos. Much appreciation is due this fine group of girls for the enjoyment they have rendered their audiences.

"The Women Folks," concerned a prospective bridegroom (Clifford Wiley), hounded by his family, (Jean Arnold, Yvonne Cyr, Jean Levinson, Edna Lucy, June Nielson, and Vera Sedloff). "The Adventure" was about a young man (William Tibbs), bored with life; and his doctor (Marshall Gordon). Shirley Cruickshank, William Puntigam, and Barbara Starr supported. ¶ Given at a mixed assembly, in "Peetsville Drama Group," a short-lived dramatics society is interviewed by an old-time actress (Shirley Cruickshank). "The Ace is Trumped" treats of gangsters (Marshall Gordon and Gordon Kenny) tricked to their death by a waitress (Shirley Cruickshank). Later, three plays were presented. "Good Medicine" dealt with a starving young doctor (Clifford Wiley), his wife (Yvonne Cyr), and the illnesses of society matron (Edna Lucy). In "Little Prison" an elevator sticks in a department store. Casted were Shirley Cruickshank, Dorothy Fitzpatrick, Priscilla Finley, Norma Ramsgard, and Barbara Starr. "Still Alarm," a melodrama, was played in polite society form. Honnert, Kenny, Tibbs, and Wiley acted.

STAGING COMMITTEE

Puntigam, Lynch

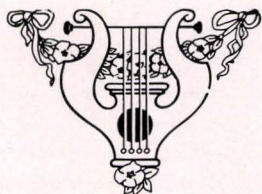

ON November 15, 16, and 18, the term play, "Stop Thief," by Carlyle Moore, an hilarious comedy, was presented to three enthusiastic audiences.

¶The action takes place at the Carr residence in Providence, Rhode Island, on the marriage day of Madge Carr and James Cluney. The plot concerns the plans of two crooks, Jack Doogan and Nell, his partner in crime, to steal the many valuable wedding presents which the couple have received. Complications arise when certain members of the wedding party are believed to be kleptomaniacs. The plot becomes more intricate, uproarious, until the third act, when the whole triangle is straightened by the arrival of the sergeant of police. Jack Doogan and Nell are finally forgiven and married, as are Dr. Willoughby and Joan, and Madge and James Cluney. Thus, a happy ending for all is reached.

¶Much credit is due the untiring work of the staging committee, consisting of Joseph Friedman, Jack Lynch, Theodore Pohlmann, Robert Puntigam, and George Roback. The difficult stage settings were much admired. But it is Mr. S. K. Polland, Lowell's expert dramatic coach, to whom the excellent directing honors should rightfully be paid.

limax of the play was reached when the Police Sergeant (Marshall Gordon) arrived with warrant to search the house. Only trouble was that the crook Jack Doogan (Gordon Kenny) stole the warrant. Here the cast is on its hands and knees looking for it.

ll through the fast moving scenes, the bride and groom (Yvonne Cyr and Bill Garry) stayed close together.

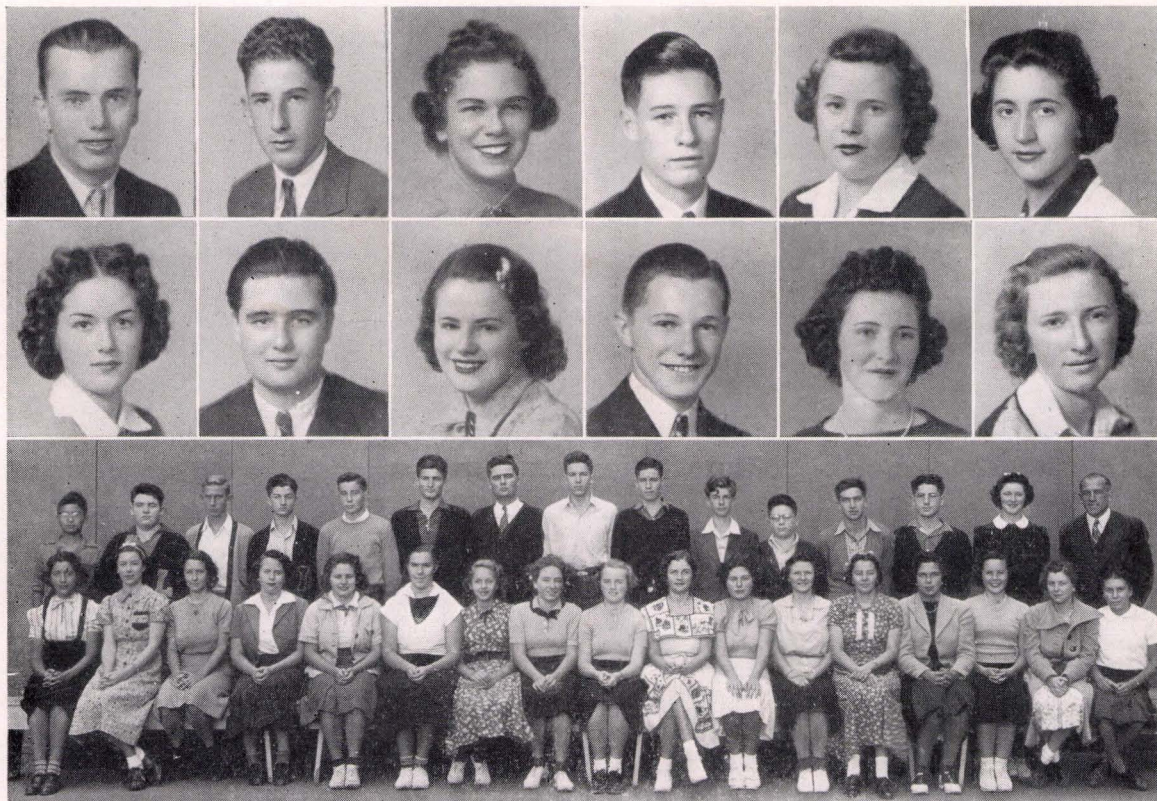

Mr. "Skippy" Polland was responsible for the play. He is shown here in a typical position as he critically surveys a practice performance.

All through the play Jack Doogan (Gordon Kenny) was forced to do some fast explaining to keep up his pretence of being a detective. Eventually he had half the cast believing they were kleptomaniacs. In the end, however, he is forgiven by the Carr family and marries his accomplice (Shirley Cruickshank) who is the maid.

ALAN ALCH
President
Debating Society

THIS year, as in every year past, Lowell has shown itself to be truly one of the foremost debating schools in the entire state of California. More than eighty enthusiastic students turned out for debating this term, and each was given a chance to prove his ability. The person responsible for bringing Lowell up to its topmost rank, is Mr. George Lorbeer. Lowell's fall forensic victories commenced with a league debate against Continuation High School. Alan Alch and Barbara Smith defended our school's honor and came out victorious. Frederick Mielke and Donald Minkler won their league debate from George Washington High School on the same day. The subject of the debates was: Resolved; "That the United States should establish an alliance with Great Britain."

¶ A little later in the term, two Lowell teams consisting of Barbara Don and Barbara McRae; and Marian Neustadt and Pearl Steiner, went to the Modesto High School for a practice debate. Another practice debate was held at Lowell with Santa Rosa High School as the opponents, and Ellen Shank and Betty Ross, and Carla Wagner and Carla Wassersleben upholding the home ground.

¶ On December 1, the All City Oratorical Contest was held at Mission High School. Participants were Frederick Mielke and Mary Elizabeth O'Brien.

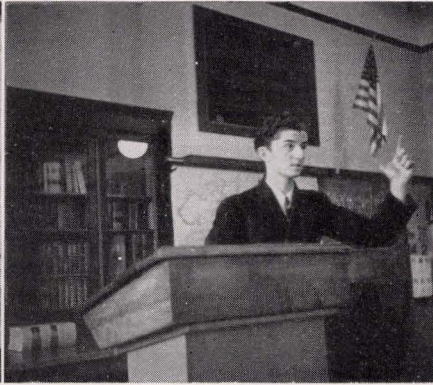

¶ The Modesto Tournament was held right on the heels of the Oratorical Contest—on December 3. Lowell

DEBATING

The bulletin board in back of Mr. Lorbeer's room is well known to debaters who constantly refer to it for announcements, results, and general information.

Ace league debater and president of the society is Alan Alch, shown here delivering a vital rebuttal thrust.

Coach of debating is George C. Lorbeer. After school, he can always be found with a flock of debaters around him discussing forensic tournaments, oratorical contests, etc., etc., etc.

sent fifteen teams to the tournament, to participate in the junior and senior divisions of the contest. The subject was: Resolved; "That the United States should adopt a policy of compulsory arbitration."

¶ The State Tournament followed on December 10 with thirteen teams entered. Those were: Rosenblatt and O'Brien, Cobb and Hubbard, Mielke and Minkler, McRae and Sawtelle, Don and L. Cohen, Parkinson and Neustadt, Alch and Steiner, Gillio and Beetz, Ross and Shank, Foff and McDonough, Wagner and Wassersleben, Friedman and Zelinsky, and Heiss and R. Cohen. The subject once again was "Compulsory Arbitration." Entered in the Girl's Oratory were Frances Hubbard, Pearl Lapidaire, Jean Levinson, Mary Elizabeth O'Brien, Barbara Smith, and Carla Wassersleben. In the Boy's Oratory were Frank Gillio, George Kitagawa, and John Rosenblatt. In the Extemporaneous speaking contest were Alan Alch, Hans Beetz, Frank Gillio, Frederick Mielke, Donald Minkler, and John Rosenblatt. Results of this tournament were not known at press time.

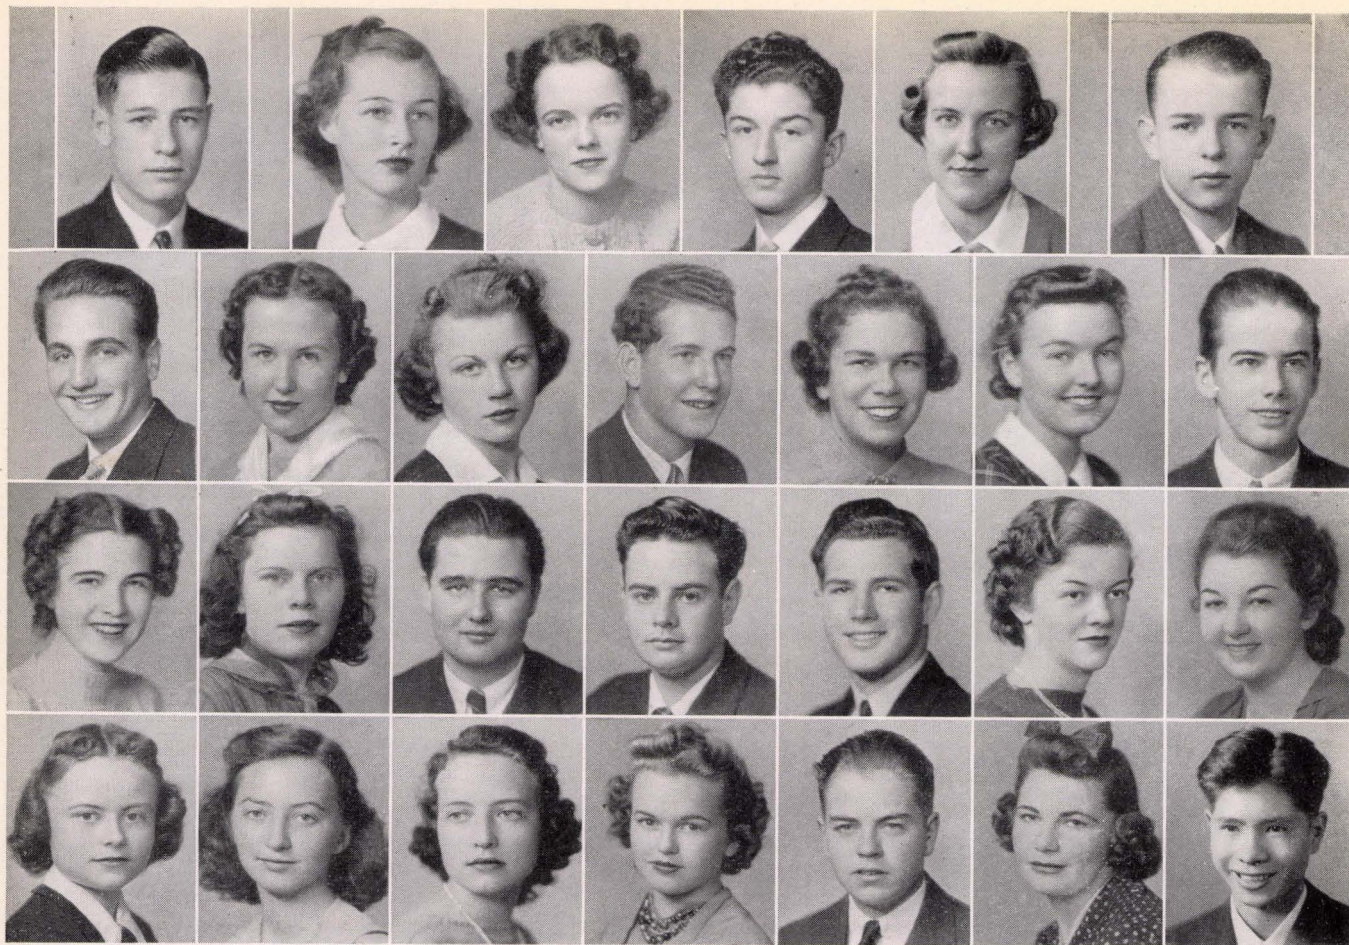

¶ A while later in the term, two more league debates were heatedly fought off. Alan Alch and Barbara Smith defended Lowell against Polytechnic High School. Donald Minkler and Mary Elizabeth O'Brien debated Girls' High School. The subject of both debates was: Resolved; "That the United States should adopt a system of socialized medicine,"

¶ Two non-decision debates with the California and Stanford Freshmen were held near the end of the term. Frederick Mielke, Donald Minkler, and Mary Elizabeth O'Brien debated the Stanford Frosh; while Alan Alch and Barbara Smith debated California's first-year men.

¶ During the Christmas vacation, a debating trip into Washington and Oregon is planned. The debaters who are going, are Alan Alch, Frederick Mielke, Donald Minkler, and John Rosenblatt.

¶ To conclude the term, the Debating Society held its usual banquet at a local restaurant. Awards were presented to those students who had made the most progress in debating and oratory during this fall term. Entertainment was provided by the Society members, and the entire function proved a great success. Lowell debaters have once again seen a highly successful term, under the excellent leadership of President Alan Alch, with John Rosenblatt and Betty Baget as vice-president and secretary.

RED AND WHITE

FRED Mielke, with Mrs. V. T. Kuhnle, faculty-advisor, has, with skillful direction and editing, given Lowell one of its finest journals. Bruce Sutherland, with assistance from Sophie Gorter, has shouldered the heavy burden of finance very capably. Teresa Guilfoil and Gertrude Ferris handled the senior writeups. Mr. O. H. McCord supervised the taking of group pictures, and as technical director, gave pages the best layouts possible.

¶ Jean Levinson compiled information about dramatics, debating, clubs, and the low junior class. Elena Thomas edited Girls' Sports. Alvin Heyman reviewed football with Robert Bacigalupi assisting in the numerous other boys' sports. Barbara Burke took over the service societies and committees, the music groups, and the high junior class; Helen Degenhardt, lower classes and publications; Sophie Gorter, index and C. S. F.; Bruce Sutherland, low senior class; Frank Gillio, literary and R. O. T. C.

THE LOWELL

ALLAN Sapiro, with Miss E. M. Osborn, faculty advisor for "The Lowell," has given the students a term of fine reporting on latest school news.

¶ "Tepee Tales" revealed latest student gossip. Cardinal Club Notes—a new feature—disclosed the many club activities. Minute Interviews continued to give the students' opinions on "live" topics. Editorials by the staff demonstrated the Lowell spirit for activities in and out of school. The School Bond issue and the Girls' Gym were typical topic

¶ Associate and assistant editors, Gavin High and Susan Peters worked with Sapiro and William Cunha, boys' sport editor, to give Lowell students a splendid newspaper. Girls' sports were ably represented by Claire Ridgway and Dorothy Heiss. Special assistants Roberta Falen, Jean Kronwetter, Val LeClair, Dorothy Lee, Robert Rockwell, Robert Schmalz, and Vera Sedloff, helped tremendously. Candid Shots were taken by staff photographers Warren Sleeper and Charles W. Mackenzie, Jr. The staff reporters were efficient and capable in their share of news gathering. They were: Edith Bliss, Richard Borden, Gloria Essman, Katinka Gallin, William Gilman, Dorothy Majors, Frances McNeilly, Betty Mae Lewis, Ben Parkinson, Betty Sullivan and Muriel Trendt.

THIS term proved to be one of the largest and most enthusiastic club terms Lowell has ever seen. New memberships soared higher than ever, and activities were highly original. Four new clubs were founded.

¶The Bicycle Club, with Donald Peters at its head, took many enjoyable rides. A sizeable and eager group turned out for the newly-formed Spanish Club, with Virginia Lorigan as president. The Tropical Aquaria Club, guided by Mr. Henrich, with James MacFarland as president, found the study of tropical fish a most fascinating and instructive pastime. Perhaps the most original club to be formed was the Junior Game Patrol, which learned to protect wild life. ¶The veteran clubs of Lowell flourished well, participating in new and interesting projects.

¶The Psychology Club was fortunate in having a number of fascinating speakers, among them the "Good Neighbor." Many photographic experiments were carried on by the Camera Club in its "dark-room," made possible by Mr. Baker. The Chess Clubs held a tournament, heatedly played off. The Chemistry Club performed experiments, delving into many of the wonders of that subject. ¶All clubs proved very worthwhile, and all students who took part found this term highly interesting.

FOOTBALL

ONE of the most powerful aggregation of prep gridsters ever assembled made this year's Lowell football team one of its greatest. Smothering Balboa, St. Ignatius, Sacred Heart, Commerce, Mission, the Red and White, called by some "the gem of the generation," played Galileo for the prep championship, but were defeated in a dramatic upset. Composed of Moore and Cooney, ends; Chase and Epting, tackles; Gentner and Berwick, guards; Joslyn, center; Morgan, quarterback; Gregory, right half; Honnert, Sloan, Musante, alternating at left half; Vucinich, full; the team played its first pre-season game against Jefferson, winning 14-0. In this game the power of the line was shown. The strength of the Lowell reserves was displayed when Vallejo was whipped, 31-0. San Rafael was smothered, 24-0 in a night game; Burlingame in a close 6-0; the San Francisco Junior College Reserves, at the Seals' Stadium, 13-0. Undefeated Bellarmine was downed, 12-0. This completed a series in which Lowell was the only team undefeated in practice games. Canfield, McKinnon and O'Brien suffered early injuries which kept them out for the balance of the season; Joslyn's injury in the Commerce contest lost him until the Poly fracas.

¶ Next year the Cardinals will be minus Berwick, Caglieri, Chase, Epting, Gentner, Havey, Marcus, Molina, Morgan, Moore, Musante, Sleeper, Sloan, Todd, Vucinich, but Berg, Beaver, Brolan, Brose, Burmeister, Camarco, Canfield, Cooney, Council, Garcia, Gregory, Hamilton, Honnert, Hupka, Jones, Joslyn, Kracke, Milton, MacKinnon, Neher, O'Brien, Rhodes, Russell, Stephenson, Tibbs, Wiedenhofer, and Williams, in addition to men who have gained valuable experience on the 30's, should form a valuable nucleus for Coach "Mike" Voyne to work with in 1939.

Sloan (13) ploughs through the middle with the help of Canfield (14). Buccaneers Hughes (30) Robertson behind Sloan, Sans (48), try to stop him. Burmeister (40) takes a spill.

LOWELL 15, BALBOA 0—September 7

A POWERFUL line, and fast-charging backs spelled doom for fighting Balboa in the season's opener. The first quarter was scoreless. Gregory's kicking and the line's power kept the Bucs from Indian territory. The big red machine started rolling in the second quarter with Honnert's slashing seven-yard gain. Vucinich through center, Gregory off tackle, brought the ball to Balboa's one. Vucinich went over. In the same quarter the ball was again maneuvered near enough for Joslyn to kick a field goal. In the final quarter, Sloan went over for a touchdown, completing a 54-yard march.

LOWELL 12, ST. IGNATIUS 0—September 23

THE Saints' championship hopes were blasted when the Cards marched up and down the field at will. The Indians got going in the second period when Gregory's kick was slapped out of the receiver's hands for Chase to recover on the eight. Honnert brought the ball to the two; Vucinich smashed inside guard three times, to the one but failed to go over. St. Ignatius punted to its own sixteen and Honnert carried to the eleven. Vucinich's pass to Sloan in the flat was good, Sloan running to a touchdown. In the third quarter Sloan intercepted a pass and returned to the twenty-four. Vucinich plowed to the two. Sloan sliced over through tackle. The fourth quarter was scoreless.

LOWELL 27, SACRED HEART 0—October 1

IN a lop-sided game, Lowell conquered Sacred Heart. The first quarter saw no score. Chief disaster was the injury to Canfield, star back, forced out for the season. Musante scored from the twenty-eight in the second period. Morgan converted. In the second half, Sloan caught a pass from the forty-eight and skirted over the goal-line. Morgan converted. Honnert from the five went over for the third score. Garcia plunged to the two from Indian territory. Milton carried it over.

LOWELL 31, COMMERCE 6—October 6

GOADED by a six-point Commerce lead, Lowell thoroughly trounced the Bulldogs. In the first quarter, after a Commerce fumble, Lowell worked to the two but was held.

A Bulldog pass scored in the second period against the second-string. Honnert's twenty-three-yard run started the Indian drive. A pass, Sloan to Vucinich, tied the score. Midway in the third quarter a long pass from Vucinich on the forty, to Gregory, broke the tie. A few plays later, Vucinich's pass interception made possible Honnert's end-run score. Morgan converted. Climaxing another Vucinich-engineered drive, Honnert scored inside tackle from the ten. In the fourth period Garcia charged seventy-eight yards to the seven. A pass to Council was the thirty-first point.

LOWELL 19, MISSION 0—October 14

MISSION'S snarling Bear was humbled when a recovered fumble in the first quarter gave Lowell a starting break. Vucinich slashed through the secondary for gains, Sloan alternated in carrying, until, around right end, he made the first score. The second and third periods were scoreless. Started by Gregory in the fourth quarter, Sloan and Vucinich carried to the seven. Vucinich knifed to a touchdown. In the last minute of play, Mission threw a desperate pass but Gregory intercepted to run twenty-eight yards for another score. Morgan converted.

LOWELL 0, GALILEO 9—October 29

THE Lowell Indian and the Galileo Lion fought before 20,000 fans for the city prep championship in a Saturday game. A highly-favored Indian had been conquered for the first time in ten games by an inspired underdog team in one of the biggest upsets in prep history. In the first quarter Galileo had Lowell on its own one-yard line, the result of a Lion kick. Gregory's attempted punt out of danger was blocked and an automatic safety chalked up. Lowell looked promising in the second quarter as Sloan, Vucinich, Gregory brought the ball from the 50 to the 22. But Galileo intercepted Lowell's pass and marched down the field to pay-dirt. Lowell, in the final period, completed many long passes but couldn't score. Line Captain Ernie Gentner showed the greatest ability to stop Galileo plays, forcing his way into the Purple and Gold backfield time after time for crucial tackles.

LOWELL 0, GEORGE WASHINGTON 3—November 8

IN the last fifteen seconds Le Baron's "educated toe" booted the pigskin squarely between the uprights, to break a scoreless game. After an exchange of downs in the first quarter, Lowell starting on its own thirty-three, and, with Vucinich, Gregory, and Honnert, brought it to the four but were held. During the last quarter many long passes were completed but nullified by Lowell at crucial points by costly fumbles. Credit is due Vucinich who played three-fourths of the game with a wrenched ankle, and to Tibbs for his splendid end-play.

LOWELL 0, POLYTECHNIC 9—November 24

FIFTEEN seniors ended their high school football career Thanksgiving Day, when Lowell was defeated by an aroused Poly Parrot. The Indians were in Poly territory most of the first quarter, with the help of Epting and Gentner who made many crucial tackles. The second quarter was scoreless, as Lowell in the last three minutes started a 40-yard march, but lost possession of the ball on the 18. In the third quarter Kilday of Poly intercepted a pass on their 40 and ran it to the Indians' five, to put them in scoring position. The Indians held for three downs, and then Ellis kicked a field goal, tallying three points for the Parrots. A desperate catch, over the goal, by all-city end Beals of Poly gave them their touchdown. Splendid defense by the line held Poly to short gains. Lowell staged a desperate last-minute stand when Gentner blocked a punt near pay-dirt but Poly refused to yield a score.

130-lb. FOOTBALL

STARTING out slowly, but picking up as the season progressed, the 130-pound football team, commonly known as the "Goofs", played six other weight teams this season. A month after practice began, Mr. Stanley Lighty, a new-comer to the physical education department, took over the "Goofs", replacing Mr. Claude Kitchen. ¶ Before Coach Lighty welded his men into a formidable outfit, San Rafael whipped the Papooses 30-0. ¶ The next game was with the San Francisco State Reserves. It was a hard-fought contest, the Papooses losing by a score of 19-0. Passes and a blocked punt gave State its touchdowns; little yardage was gained on the ground. ¶ Against Sacred Heart the team won 19-6, beating an over-anxious outfit. The line, and Brown and Cullin in the backfield, looked good. ¶ Lowell played Galileo next. The Lion Cubs defeated the Papooses 13-7, Galileo only carrying two strings on its varsity while Lowell drains its "Goofs" to carry four. Outstanding in this contest were Brown and Cullin., Cullin skirting around end to run eighty yards to a touchdown. Lowell played a good defensive game but was out-looked good. ¶ Lowell played Galileo next. The Lion Cubs defeated the Papooses 13-7, lost to the Parrots 6-0. ¶ A game scheduled with Washington's Reserve Eagles has been twice postponed as this journal goes to press. ¶ Those who show ability to play Varsity next year are: Backman, Culver, Graf, Rowe, Varellas, and Wiard, tackles; Misthos and O'Brien, guards; Eustace, Hamilton and Schwarz, ends; Calender, Cullin and Farren, backs. ¶ Coach Lighty intends next year to limit turnout for the "Goofs" to freshmen and sophomore boys who want to play football. Frosh who played exceptionally well this year were Angeli, Buchanan, Cardelli, Cohn, Holtz, Van der Lief. ¶ Bob Graf deserves special mention for he played outstanding ball all season; especially against Galileo he made many crucial tackles. He is probably very good 1939 Varsity material. Since nearly twenty players will be missing next year from Varsity ranks the experience gained by the "Goof" squad should do much to provide good replacements.

ELMER HARRIS
Coach

FALL TRACK

COACH Harris' tracksters had only two practice meets this fall, with Poly and Balboa. In the Poly event, the Indians marched home with every first place except two, in which there were no men entered. The squad gives promise of being a strong contender for the 1939 A. A. A. title. Many fellows have turned out for track and have shown much talent in practice events at U. S. F. field. Player-manager Phil Arnot, a great help to Coach Harris, puts the shot and flings a very good discus. ¶ In the 100 and 220-yard sprints, George Good, who seems to be the class of the League, has been undefeated in all of the practice events. Ben Silva is also coming up fast in the sprints. Johnny Meier has proved himself to be one of the classiest high jumpers in the city; he also runs a fast 880. Bob Curley, who runs the 440 in near record time, took second place at that distance in last year's A. A. A.; Bob is back this term to crack the record. Ed Ellis is the fastest 880 man on the team. In the distance events the Cardinal is also strong. Gene Clark is a top-notch runner in the mile. Out of a field of 159, Clark placed a good ninth in the Tribune Marathon. Butler Greer is the best in Lowell for the low and high hurdles; he is improving with every meet. ¶ In the field events, Stanley Bernhardt has been putting the shot and throwing the discus with great finesse. The relay team has exceptional talent in the running of Good, Mendelson, Silva and Wakefield. Barring any accident, they should make a good showing in any meet. Many of last year's tracksters are busy in other sports during the fall, but when the spring rolls around all of them will be back on the cinder path fighting. ¶ Much credit and praise must be given to Coach Elmer Harris for his hard work throughout the term in attempting to mold a championship team for the 1939 season.

120-1b. BASKETBALL

Ben Neff

THE 120 basketball team was a veteran squad. Practically all of last year's 110's came up to the 20's. The first six on the squad were, Bob Bemis, guard; Lenny Blumenfeld, forward; Phil DeLano, forward; Toshio Horio, forward; Gin Kinoshita, center, and Dave Wilson, guard.

¶ In their first game with Commerce, the 20's completely outclassed the Bulldogs, winning 27-20. The Pups were greatly hindered by the close guarding and sharp shooting of Dave Wilson, who was high point man with 9 tallies.

¶ Sparked by Gin Kinoshita, who tanked 10 points, the Cards smeared St. Ignatius 20-8. Fine guarding was exhibited by Bob Bemis and Speed Blumenfeld in holding down the Wildcat five.

¶ In one of the most thrilling games of the season, the 20's nosed out the rugged Poly team 17-16. It was Horio's last minute bucket that pulled the game out of the fire for the Red-men. Bob Bemis and Dave Wilson each had 4 markers to high point honors.

¶ Lowell easily took Mission 28-22. The Bears never threatened and the Indians won handily. Wilson took high scorer with 9 points.

¶ The Papooses scalped a sharp shooting Galileo Lion, 25-12. Sparking the attack was Phil DeLano who tanked 7 digits. The Lions were greatly harassed by the ball stealing tactics of Len Blumenfeld.

¶ The Cards suffered their first defeat at the hands of a greatly improved George Washington Eagle, 14-19. Phil DeLano bagged 6 digits, but as a whole the Lowellites could not seem to find their shooting eye.

¶ After the George Washington defeat, the Cards spanked Balboa. To win first place in the A. A. A. and bring home another championship to Lowell.

¶ In the final game of the season the lightweights, having already won the championship, lost to a fast Sacred Heart team, 25-26, in a non-league game.

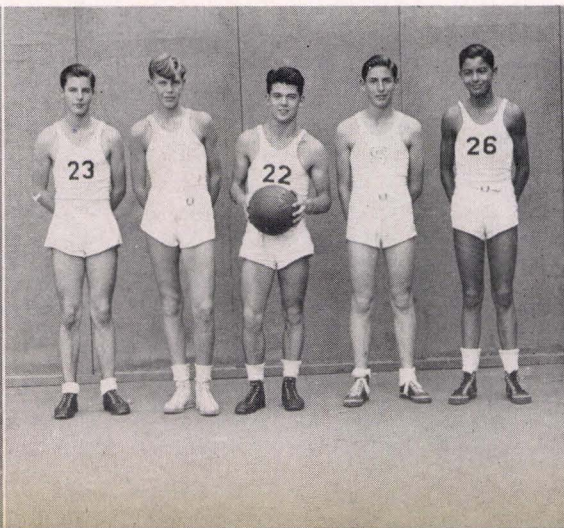

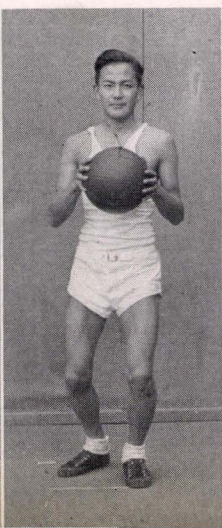

¶ Much credit must be given to Ben Neff who coached the team to the championship.

110-1b. BASKETBALL

THIS season Coach Ben Neff, had to mold an entirely new team for not one of last year's men returned. The first string was composed of Lew, Masterson, Signer, Woo, and Yip, with Gilpin, Lum and Wear forming capable substitutes. ¶ In their curtain raiser for the 1938 season the defending champs were dealt a severe defeat at the hands of the Commerce Pups by the score of 25-20. Signer managed to drop 6 points through the mesh for high point honors. ¶ After the Commerce setback the Tens came back to scalp a slow breaking St. Ignatius five, 13-11. The Papooses were slow to start, but with some fine guarding and shooting, they came out on top. ¶ The Cards nosed out the Poly lightweights in an overtime game, 18-16, with Signer saving the battle with a long shot in the final seconds to tie the game. Lew came through in the overtime period to tank one to take high point honors. ¶ Sparked by Lew, high point man with 20 tallies, the Indians completely smothered a bewildered Mission Bear, 32-21. ¶ The next hurdle for the championship bound Tens was Galileo, a top contender. The Lions were tamed, 29-21, by a razzle-dazzle Lowell outfit. Lew again was high man with 11 points. ¶ High scorer of the League, Lew, led the Cards with 21 points to swamp the Washington Eagles. The Indians were in complete control of the situation, winning 33-18. ¶ With only one defeat on their record, the Tens subdued a fast-breaking Balboa five in a non-league game, 28-12, with Lew hitting the hoop for 17 digits. ¶ In the last game of the season the Tens trounced Sacred Heart, 23-10, to cinch second place in the A. A. A., another tribute to what Coach Ben Neff can do with an entirely green team.

AT THE start of the 1938 soccer season the shinkickers' championship hopes were high. Practically all of the '37 varsity returned. In an out-of-town game, their first practice tilt, the Cards nosed out Pescadero High. A last-minute goal by Forward Marcel (Frenchy) Bruton brought victory to the Lowell aggregation. Following this victory the Redmen fought a tight battle with the California Frosh in two overtime periods. The game ended in a scoreless deadlock.

¶ In the first League encounter, the Cards suffered a disappointing defeat at the hands of a surprisingly strong George Washington Eagle by the score of 1-0. This game established the first string as Captain Harry Christiansen, fullback; Miller Jensen, goalkeeper, a sure bet for all-city; Howard Hall, center fullback; Nick Gravem, left wing; Ed McNomara, right wing; Marcel Bruton, left forward; Fred Monroe, center forward; Tom Woods, center half; Bill Knauber, left half; Clark Grant, right half; and Hugh Houston, right wing.

¶ In the second League game the Cards' and Commerce's defense was perfect, and the game ended in a scoreless tie.

¶ The next hurdle for Lowell was Mission. Again the Cards' offense was not clicking and the game ended 0-0.

¶ Balboa dropped a goal through and won the game 1-0. ¶ Definitely out of the championship race, the Cards met and held the City Champs, Galileo, scoreless. They were the only team in the city to do this.

¶ The Cards ended the season in third place, but the returning squad shows good nucleus for next year's varsity.

120-LB. SOCCER

AS MOSTLY all of last year's 120-pound men went up to the varsity, Coach Elmer Harris was left with an entirely new lightweight team. As the squad consists mostly of lower classmen who have terms of eligibility ahead of them, Lowell's future soccer hopes are high. The baby shinkickers held practice tilts, but they did not seem to be champions. Coach Harris' first unit consisted of Arnot and Zapanta, wings; Vladimiroff, center fullback; inside full, Poulo and Friend, with Vasquez, Tonnesen, Goto and Smith at the halves; Selchau, full; and Kilday and Watson, goalies.

¶ In their first League game for the 1938 season, Lowell lost an exciting game to Commerce, 5-0. Although the score shows defeat, the Cards fought the entire game.

¶ After being defeated by Commerce, the 20's were determined to beat Mission, but the unforeseen happened and they lost a tight battle, 3-0.

¶ In the Poly game, a crippled Lowell team was on the field and was no match for the runner-ups in the League, the Parrots. The Redmen lost the game, 2-0.

¶ The Galileo game was only a repetition of the preceding games, the Lightweights going down before the sharp Lion passers, 2-1.

¶ In the conclusion of a season of many defeats, the Lowellites showed that they were still fighting by tying the Balboa Bucs 0-0.

¶ Although finishing in the League cellar, the Cards showed spirit and many the faults of inexperience that were visible in early season had been ironed out.

SPORTS ADMINISTRATION

HIGHLIGHTS of this Sport season was the dedication of our long-awaited Boys' Gymnasium, on November 6th, with appropriate ceremonies. The boys are now able to plan even more comprehensive physical activity schedules. A similar building for the girls will be dedicated next Fall, also enabling them to enlarge their gymnastic and sports program.

¶ Boys' Sports on this Fall's calendar were efficiently handled by Athletic Manager Clyde Curley, assisted by Philip Arnot, Track Manager; Kenneth Glaser, Soccer Manager; Basketball Managers, Donald Modlin, Jack Nealis, Roy Thompson, Bill Walby, and Jack Woodfield; and Football Managers, Paterson Allen, Robert Cardinal, Donald Kranich, Harold Silverstein and Boris Wolper. These boys took charge of all athletic equipment and helped arrange a full sports program.

¶ Clerk of Awards Franklin Leavick, aided by Skiles Hoffman and Carl Sjolund, handled Block L points for hundreds of boys. Mr. Claude L. Kitchen, head of the physical education department, directed schedule-making as Lowell's representative in the A. A. A.

¶ Seven hundred girls, over 60 per cent of the total enrollment, participated in sports this term under the G. A. A. banner. This organization flourished under the leadership of President Dorothy Libby, Secretary Priscilla Finley, and Clerk of Awards Geraldine White. A Girls' Jinx, Football Follies", was enjoyed on November 4th; a luncheon was held at the end of the term.

¶ Fifty girls, meeting bi-weekly, were in the Block L. They ushered at all girls' rallies and arranged the G. A. A. Sports Luncheon. Miss Flynn was Faculty Advisor; Catherine Guerena, President; and Estelle Mouradian, Secretary.

700 GIRLS participated in eight sports. Within a year, when we have our new gym, this program should be even larger. Miss Wilson, aided by Helen Conlisk, manager; Jean Flaum and Bobby Harter, assistants, conducted two-hour rides on Saturdays, in addition to the weekly hour rides. One of the two-hour rides culminated in a barbecue at Sigmund Stern Grove. In Lowell's semi-annual horse-show, 84 girls participated in the various divisions. 25 hockey enthusiasts led by Mrs. Smith, Manager Irene Old, and assistants, Ruth Carew and Claire Ridgway, trekked out to Golden Gate Park each Tuesday. From this group two "crack" teams were chosen to compete for the term cup, engraved with the names of the winning team. ¶Ice-skating claimed a larger group of followers than any other sport, with nearly 150 girls taking part. The advanced learned figure-skating under the tutelage of Mrs. Smith, Veronica Foley, manager, and her assistant, Irene Weed. The beginners studied the fundamentals. Only 48 advanced players had the opportunity to participate in tennis. Replacing beginning and intermediate tennis, Miss Adams organized a Volleyball group, which 80 girls joined. Manager June Meese and assistants Inge Buenger and Irene Schunick, handled both sports. ¶125 girls signed up for swimming at the Y. W. C. A. pool. Beginners learned the fundamentals under the supervision of a life guard, while the advanced, with the aid of Miss Adams, manager Betty Stoffers, Dorothea Franklin and Vera Sedloff, assistants, practiced diving, and the back crawl. 132 girls took part in Badminton, under the guidance of Miss Flynn, Mary McCabe, manager, Marylee Callow, Dorothy Fitzpatrick, Lorraine Schwerin and Elena Thomas, assistants. The semi-annual play-day with Everett was held in our gymnasium. Ladder and elimination tournaments were conducted. Lowell had 72 golfers under the supervision of Miss Flynn and Dorothea Jorgensen. They held a barbecue at Sigmund Stern Grove. ¶Challenge tournaments were conducted in each division. The advanced girls held an elimination tournament, the winner of which received an engraved cup.

APPRECIATION

Out of the hands of many comes this Fall 1938 edition of the "Red and White." To those many people whose efforts have made its publication possible, may I gratefully extend my appreciation: to Mr. Leroy H. Stephens for his contract supervision, to Miss Eugénie Lacoste and Mr. Hudson Monroe for their helpful assistance, Mr. John Curtis and Mr. Frank Tucker for the handling of the financial records, Miss Edith Harrison and Mrs. Rose Miller for office privileges, Mr. Kenneth Elder and Mr. Raymond Peterson of the Walter J. Mann Engraving Co., Mr. Brian Harvey of the Independent Pressroom, Inc., Mr. Harold Fontecilla of the California Press. Mr. Robert Stevens of the San Francisco "Chronicle," Mr. Robert Brachman of the San Francisco "Examiner," and Mr. Floyd Walter of the San Francisco "News" for the loan of certain football pictures; also to Mr. Edward Gallagher and the members of his typing classes, and to the many amateur photographers whose snapshots have lent life to this book. Again, may I thank them all.

FREDERICK MIELKE,
Editor
