THE MISSION YEAR BOOK

A RECORD OF THE ACTIVITIES OF THE
STUDENTS OF MISSION HIGH SCHOOL

FOR THE SPRING TERM 1930
SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

Our School

Farewell

O'er Mission hills our students paths
    Long, long have now been straying,
And ocean, bay and terraced park
    Bright visions been portraying.
For us no more their vistas gleam,
    For we are distant going;
A few short years—we shall but dream
    Of fancies youth's been sowing.

Oh, then, farewell
    To all they tell—
A fond good-bye,
    A joyful sigh—
For we are distant going.

Within the walls of Mission High,
    Where we have long been learning,
On heart and brain now glow the truths
    Of pages we've been turning;
Engraved for aye—the task is done;
    And we, now distant going,
With joy proclaim the victory won—
    Our recompense—the knowing.

Our School

In the next section of our Journal, we are grouping a few scenes in and about our school and the grounds. In years to come, they will recall many treasured memories and happy associations of our beloved Alma Mater.

*“In memory’s dream, we see the Mission Tower
In shaded silhouette against the moonlit sky.”*

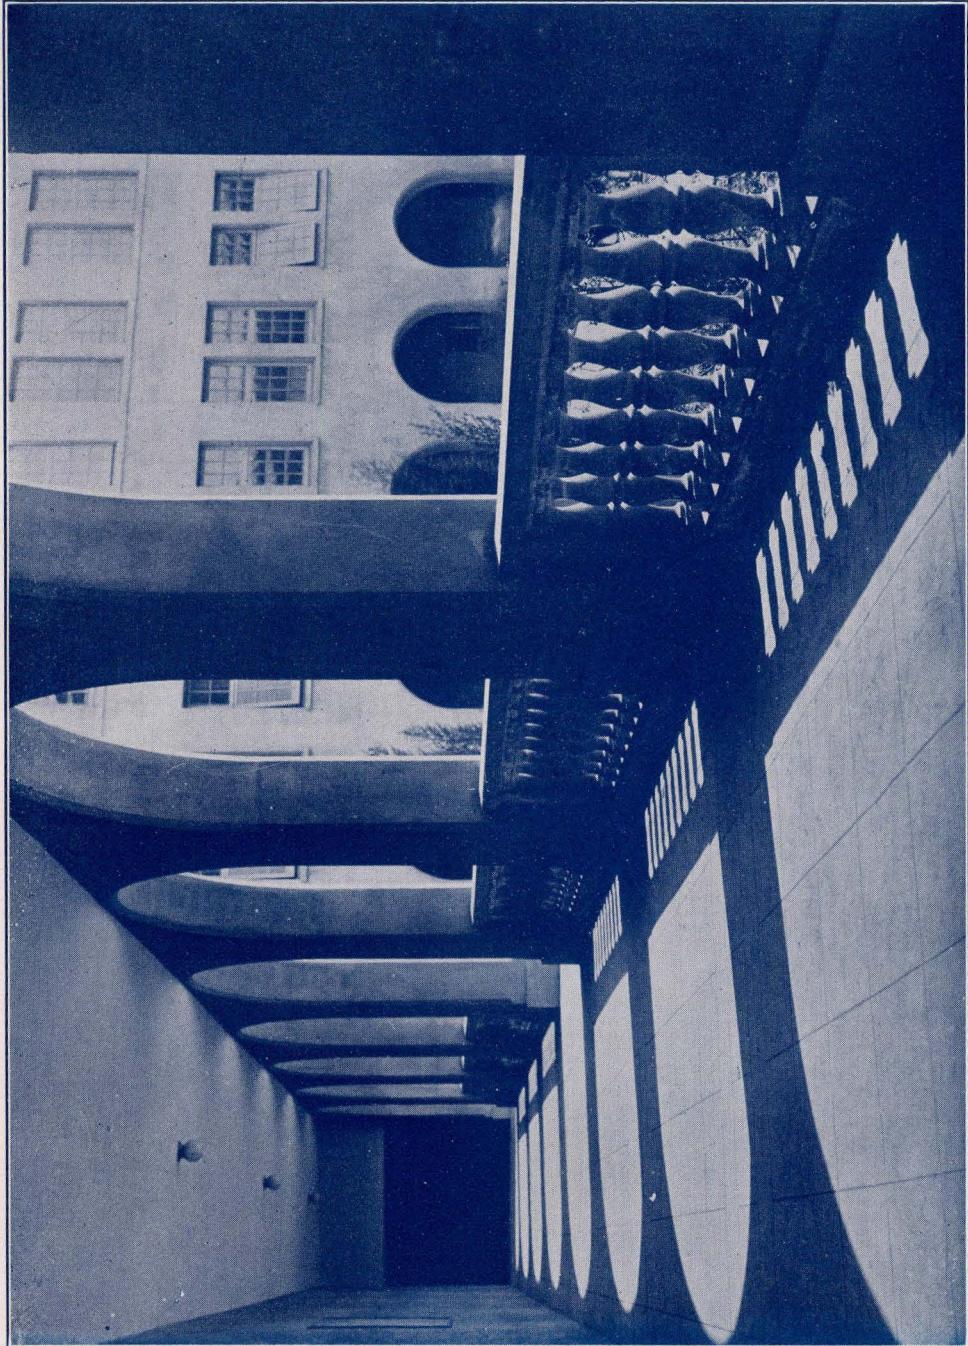

*“More like the beauty of a dream,
The hushed roadways lulled to rest.”*

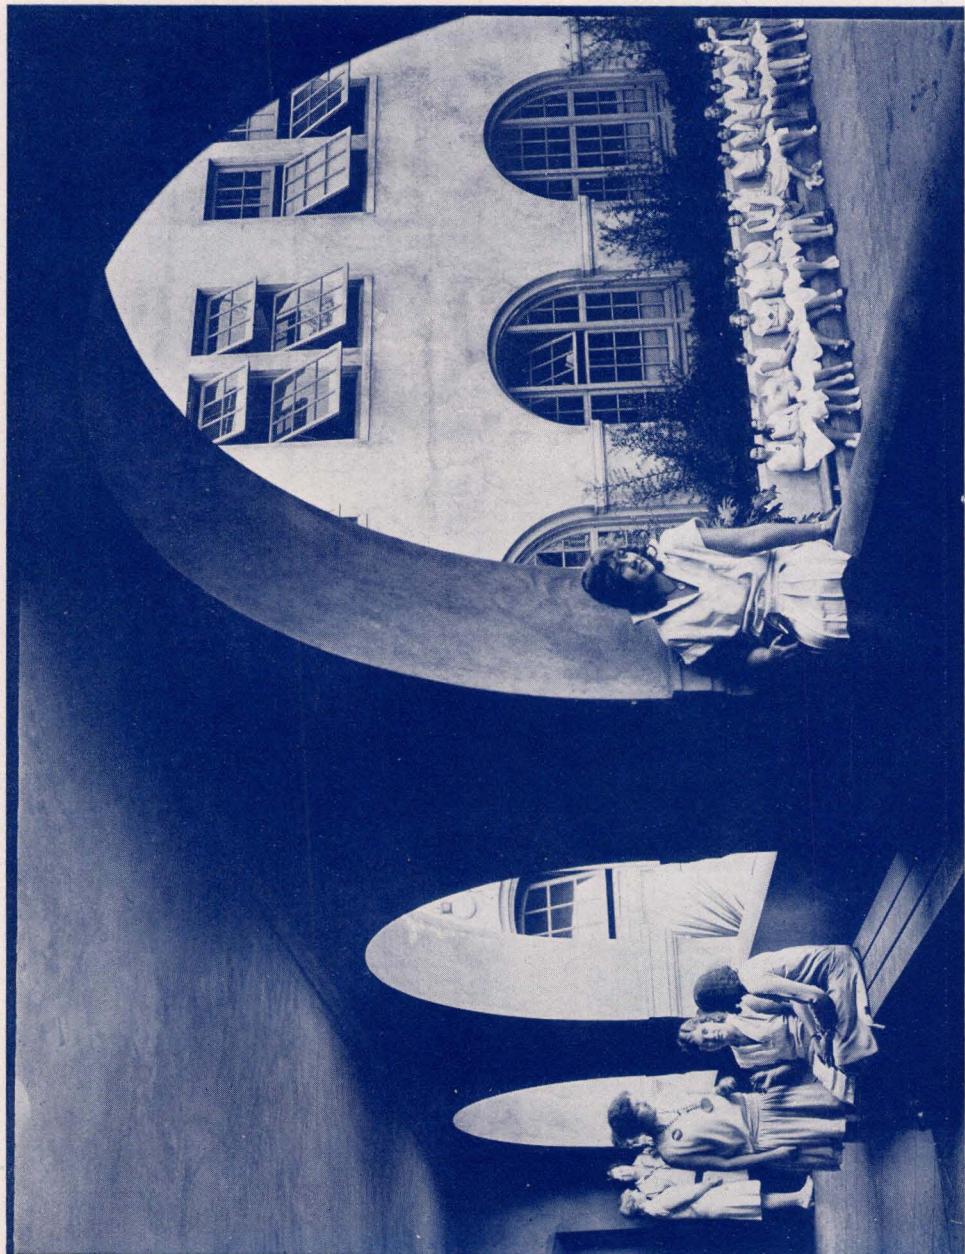

*“The West Wing Court with memories
Of carnivals so gay.”*

"We dream of vistas of the Mission Park."

*“Through spacious archways
We wander again in our fancy.”*

*“In shaded arcades facing sunny courts
We spent our recreation hours.”*

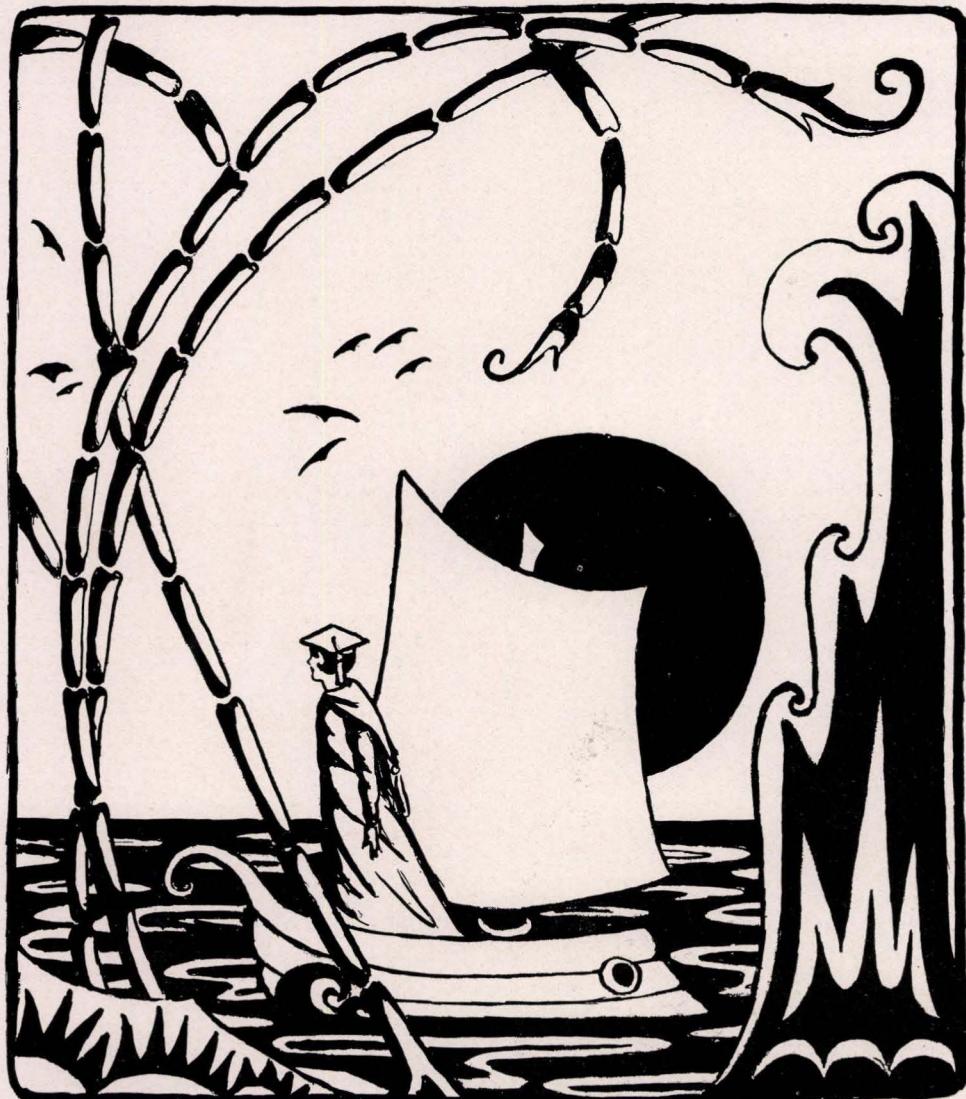

*“In sunny upper court—
We passed our recreation hours.”*

*“To see the future through the palm tree grove,
Whose distant vista is the artist’s dream,
Where ends the day’s sweet strain and spirits rove,
From heights where hopes in golden lustre gleam.”*

The Girls Council

The Girls Council of Mission High School

THE members of the Girls Council have had several very important meetings under the direction of Miss Kelly, Vice Principal and Dean of Girls, and plans for the activities of the term and for the girls' committees have been discussed and formulated.

The new Sophomores entering from the Junior High Schools were called together during the second week of the term. The plan, the object and the activities of the Girls Council were explained to the girls, and Bernice Darry, Esther Offenbach and Katherine Grassell gave very interesting talks on various phases of the work of last term. The new Sophomores were most enthusiastic and the representatives from Junior High schools were nominated and elected. The elections and appointments of the other classes were made later in the term.

The girls are arranging committees for work under these heads: Social Service, Thrift and Finance, Social Activities, Court and Grounds, First Aid, Traffic, and Reception.

The Low-Two members are: Laura Bonfiglio, Anne Carboff, Gertrude Cirevos, Dorothy Cuneo, Elsa Gaetter, Cora Hoolhurst, Emily Rogers, Isabelle Stewart, Florence Sylva, Dorothea Tedsen, Alice Townsley, Alberta Winslow.

The High-Two representatives are: Ruth Backerud, Chrissy Braimes, Gertrude Foley, Emily Maraccini, Margaret McNeil, Phylis Maas, Muriel Pears, Wilma Read, Ermalinda Romagnani.

The girls representing the Low-Three class are: Henriette Akivis, Mary Barry, Bernice Blennerhassett, Cecil Davis, Ruth Bode, Irene Ducasse, Evelyn Husted, Stella Lane, Myrtle Mooney, Gwendolyn Quadras, Francis Sabiezke, Annette Sutt, Verna Wiley.

The High-Three delegates are: Marian Brady, Thelma Carey, Edith Domingues, Lenora Essley, Florence Hansen, Lorene Hittman, Rose Uebelacker, Violet Colman.

The Senior members are: Ivy Chalstrom, Elinor Conley, Bernice Darry, Doris Freeman, Hyacinth Giddings, Katherine Grassel, Jean Harliss, Catherine Leoni, Dorothy Leoni, Lurline Matson, Alice O'Connor, Esther Offenbach, Lorene Orth, Margarie Rose, Ida Zacher.

In addition to their regular activities of Social Service, the girls collected over two hundred books for the children of the Sunshine School. They prepared a Christmas tree and a Christmas Party for these little children and presented toys, dolls, and story-books. At Easter, they planned an Easter party and presented Easter eggs, bunnies, and candy to the children.

To close the Term activities, the girls are planning a luncheon.

Drama

THE presentation of Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" and "Twelfth Night" was one of the most interesting of the productions rendered by Mission High School. In these selections the students displayed their talent for character acting and comedy, extracting from the plays all the humor that the Bard of Avon intended. The irrational, tempestuous shrew, Katharine, was skillfully interpreted by Thelma Carey and Bernice Blennerhassett. Petruchio, Katharine's husband, who brings about the taming of the shrew, was humorously played by Charles Hewitt and Ed Bridgman. Vernon Howard gave a well rounded interpretation of Baptista, while Howard Cahill distinguished himself in the part of Grumio, displaying a flair for broad comedy. James Gallagher amusingly interpreted the role of Biondello. Bianca, fair sister of Katharine, was charmingly played by Ruth Williams, while Paul Hersch made an ideal lover. The parts of Gremio and Tranio were interpreted with great sincerity by Bruno Botto and Frank Schivo. Morris Simon and Henry Geordando played their roles with equal depth of feeling. The widow was pleasingly acted by Marjorie Collonan.

The scene from "Twelfth Night", as the "Taming of the Shrew", offered the students a great chance for comedy, of which they gratefully seized the opportunity. The result was a hilarious, charming production which never lagged in interest from beginning to end.

The two well-known comedy characters, Sir Toby Belch and Sir Andrew Aguechuk were charmingly played by Francis Dumont and Sol Nathan. Feste, the jester, performed by Walter Young and Mike Morango, clowned his way into the hearts of the audience. Byron Peterson and Erwin Decker amusingly portrayed Malvolio, the vain, pompous old servant of Olivia. Olivia was played with distinction by Gertrude Connors and Barbara Warfield. Oscar Springer gave a creditable performance in the part of Fabian. Maria, that clever roguish minx of a servant woman of Olivia was pleasingly interpreted by Dolly Johnson and Sally Sankowich.

COMMITTEE ON THE PLAY

Miss A. G. Kelly, Chairman

Miss A. V. Donaldson, Director of Production

Miss S. McD. Rabourn, Head of English Department

Mr. Chas. E. Rust, Head of Shop Department

Mr. Swartz, Director of Lighting

Mr. Geo. D. Ingram, Representative of Music Department

Miss Emily Michels, Stagecraft and Costumes

Mr. A. Tiesselinck, Art Metal

Mrs. M. Y. Hobart, Head of Art Department

Mr. W. Wieland, Head of the History Department

Mr. R. T. Conlan, Commercial Department

The other activities of the Dramatic classes included the following productions:

“Grandma Pulls the String”, a fine specimen of light comedy, was given for the Parent Teachers’ Association’s program and dance at the beginning of the term. The cast included—Dolly Johnson, Marjorie Collonan, Eddie Burke, Esther Buerg, Bernice Blennerhassett, and Estelle Jones.

The Two Masks Guild presented an amusing little comedy, “Rosalie”, before one of the school assemblies. Those who took part in the play were Byron Peterson, Dorothy Sherwood, and Irene Colonna.

“The Ghost Hunters”, a mystery thriller, was given for the benefit of the West Wing entertainment and was greeted by an enthusiastic audience. Byron Peterson, Dorothy Sherwood, Paul Hersch, and Beth Murphy played the leading parts.

The puppet play, “The Christmas Carol,” was repeated this term and proved to be very successful. Distinguished visitors from all of the schools attended the performance.

The visit of the distinguished Chinese actor, Mei Lan Fang, who made his first appearance in San Francisco, inspired the drama classes to offer a Chinese fantasy, “The Turtle Dove.” This production was especially noteworthy because of the unusual costumes and background displayed.

The actors performed in the true Chinese style, using no scenery but a huge willow plate in the background. The costumes and plate were designed by the stage craft class under the direction of Miss E. J. Michaels. Those who took part in the performance were Dorothy Sherwood, Phillip Deredi, Erwin Decker, Francis Dumont, Oscar Springer, Mike Marango.

The Senior Boys' Glee Club

THE Senior Boys' Glee Club is an organized class with Mr. H. E. Owen as our capable director. The class consists of thirty members. This class has made the term a very successful one by taking upon themselves special responsibilities which met with the approval of each member.

In addition to the assigned work the club has taken part in the Music Week Program at the Civic Auditorium. They have also prepared an old time minstral show and a negro play which is to be given in the school auditorium.

The boys of the switch board unit have full charge of the switch board which controls all of the lighting for the auditorium and the stage. Many hours are put in before and after school and also some evenings, working out the various lighting effect called for at the many assemblies and entertainments.

The boys of the stage hand unit have full charge of the stage, arrangement of curtain, and stage setting. They too put in many hours erecting scenery and are on duty at their stations at all assemblies and entertainments, whether in the day time or the evening.

Mission High Bank Staff

The Bear helps to eliminate "a rainy day"

THE Mission High Bank Staff, under the supervision of Miss Kelly, has operated efficiently during this term just completed. The officers, who were students of all classes, wore brown and gold insignia to denote their rank. Being a student project, from the actual receiving of deposits to publicity in the student body, the functions of the staff are dependent upon the students.

On Wednesday, the regular Bank Day, the students are impressed with the fact that when one saves the pennies, the dollars take care of themselves.

The officers for the spring term, 1930, are as follows:

Michael Chabracek, Colonel; Alice O'Connor, Lt. Colonel; William Martens, Lt. Colonel; Ruth Bode, Major; Marguerite Rose, Major; Paul Hersch, Major; James Stinchcomb, Major; Beth Murphy, Lieutenant; Bernice Darry, Lieutenant; Dorothy Sherwood, Lieutenant; Lorene Orth, Captain; Philip Deredi, Captain; Cyril Feldstein, Captain; Dorothy Kane, Lieutenant; Dolly Johnson, Lieutenant; Ellen Clasby, Lieutenant; Alfred Marshall, Lieutenant.

THE Mission Battalion, R.O.T.C., has enjoyed one of the most successful semesters since its organization. This term, the battalion has been commanded by Cadet Major Leon Karp, and its success has been due to the co-operation of Cadet First Lieutenant Adjutant William Martens and Cadet Captains Antone Ivicevich, Frank Marano, George Schmidt, Edward Clark, and Fred Smith, and even more so, to the untiring work of Sergeant Carinus Labonte and Sergeant Malcolm Green, instructors.

The first achievement of the term was the recovery of the use of the park for ceremonial and drill purposes. At the beginning of the term, it was necessary for the battalion to crowd itself into the tennis courts to conduct its ceremonies. This caused modification of the ceremonies due to lack of space and it was foreseen that unless a change were made, Mission would not be able to impress favorably Lieutenant Colonel Edmund C. Waddell at the annual inspection for the War Department.

Through the co-operation of Mr. Drew, the Executive Committee, the Physical Education Department, and the West Wing, his Honor, Mayor James Rolph Jr., and Mr. Byron G. Mobbs, prominent banker of the Mission District, the use of the park was finally recovered.

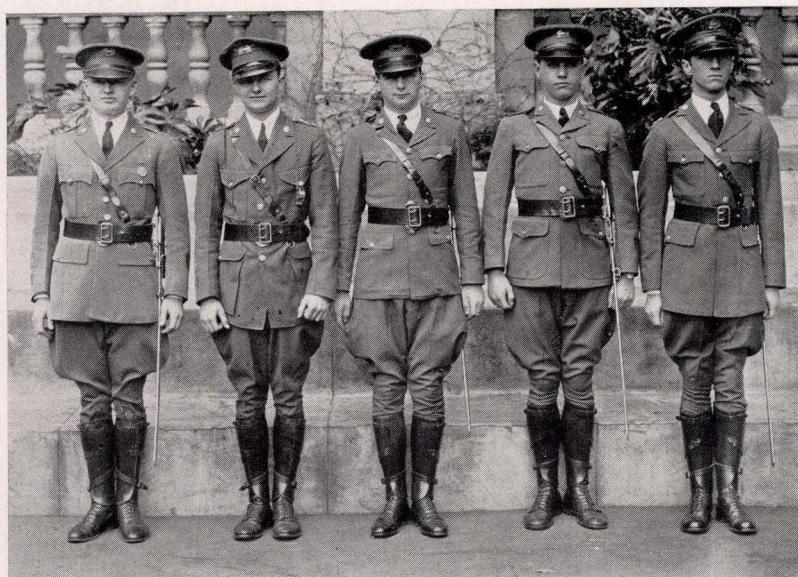

When the first obstacle was overcome, attention was turned to the first competition of the term, the rifle team contest, an account of which is given in a separate article in this journal.

Next, attention was centered upon the rapidly approaching Honor School Inspection. Then began the sincere, hard work of every member of the battalion, from the rawest recruit to the cadet Major. Rifles had to be perfectly clean, uniforms cleaned and pressed, and drills perfected.

At the suggestion of Major Karp and Lieutenant Martens, classes in theoretical subjects were formed and these met at eight o'clock each morning. Major Karp conducted the group of third year (Seniors) students in R.O.T.C. and drilled them on theoretical subjects as map reading, musketry, combat principles, and minor tactics. Lieutenant Martens took charge of the second year men and formed a class in the subjects of scouting and patrolling, rifle marksmanship, and field-message writing. Captain Ivicevich conducted a class of first year students in the subjects of first aid, personal hygiene, camp sanitation, and military courtesy.

These classes presented had a very large attendance and interest and knowledge in the subjects constantly increased. As a result of these classes, Mission made a fine showing when Colonel Waddell quizzed the cadets on the subjects mentioned above.

Nor was the band to be outdone. The band drilled daily until they were able to present a proficient, military appearance. Instruments were rubbed and polished until they shone like mirrors. Uniforms were cleaned and pressed, buttons were polished.

When finally, the day of the inspection arrived, Dr. Drew permitted the entire school to witness the inspection of the battalions. The ceremony began with a battalion parade which was executed perfectly. The battalion was formed and inspected by the Colonel.

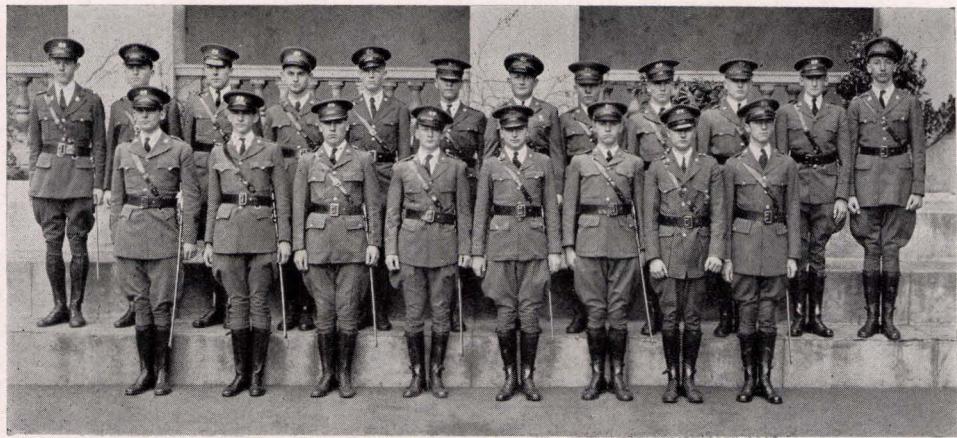

"The cleanest band I have ever inspected," was the comment of the Colonel after inspecting that unit of the battalion. When the colonel had completed the inspection of equipment, he added, "Not a dirty rifle in the Battalion."

The Colonel then directed the band to play and drill. He was very complimentary in his comment on the Mission band. Then, Company "B" under Cadet Second Lieutenant Raymond Jansen gave an exceptionally fine demonstration of physical drill, which was followed by company drill by Company "C" under Captain Ivicevich. Captain Ivicevich was highly complimented for his fine explanation of a movement in company drill.

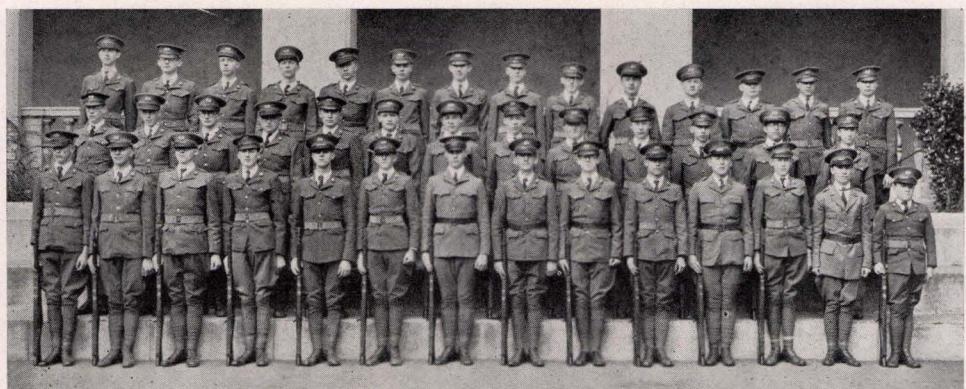

The inspection in the park was concluded with the execution of extended order drill by Company "A" under Captain George Schmidt.

After "quizzing" a representative group of cadets in the armory on the theory subject covered by the R.O.T.C. course, the colonel stated that Mission had far surpassed not only all of its previous showings, but also his own expectations.

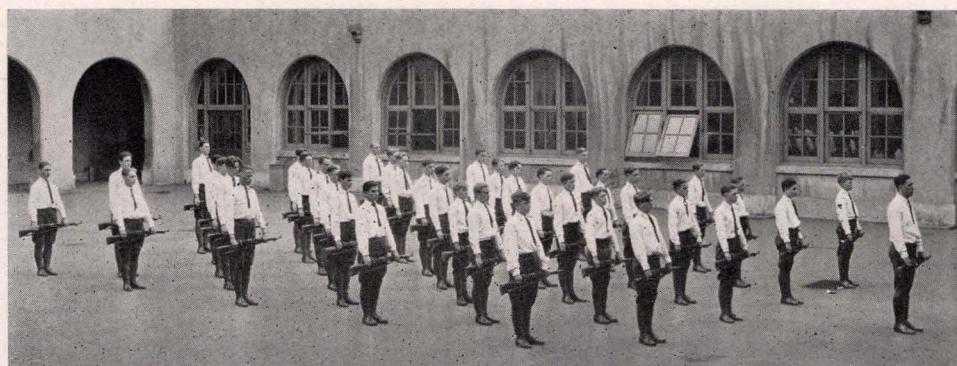

Although, as the Journal goes to press, it is not yet known whether Mission will be an "Honor School", the cadet officers of the battalion, basing their belief on the complimentary attitude of Captain Adams, Commandant of R.O.T.C. in San Francisco, and on the comment of Captain Lysle, Assistant Commandant, Mission has made a better showing than any other San Francisco High School, believe that this time Mission has reached the goal and has earned the coveted honor in becoming an Honor School. Time will tell the story.

The Rifle Team

UNDER the splendid coaching of Sergeant Labonte, the Rifle Team has made remarkable strides forward this term. Although the scores were surpassed by other schools, they were sufficiently high to show that the team is improving year by year, and that ultimately Mission's Rifle Team will be one of the best in the Bay region. With but few exceptions, the majority of the good shots will be with the team next year so Mission can look forward to a successful year, at least where the Rifle Team is concerned.

This term the team competed in two events, the Ninth Corps Area Shoot, and the Hearst Trophy Shoot. In the first named shoot, the competition was open to all military schools in the seven states comprising the Ninth Corps Area and in the Hearst Shoot, the competition was open to the entire United States. Needless to say, Mission made a creditable showing in both matches.

The official match shooting is done in Mission's own shooting gallery, incidentally one of the city's finest, under the supervision of Captain John P. Adams, the commandant of the San Francisco R.O.T.C. Rifles, ammunition, and targets are furnished by the government, time being the only expense levied upon the individual.

Sea Scouts

THE great task of the Mission Ship of Sea Scouts the last term has been the improving the condition of the equipment. During the term the motorized whaleboat "Rover" has been taken to Alameda and entirely refitted. The motor was overhauled in the school auto shop by Scouts Bain Nicolai, O'Connor and Littman. The trial trip of the rehabilitated scoutship was held Sunday, May 11th.

Another task was the overhauling of Mission's sailboat. Mast and rigging were gone over and put in first class shape by Scouts Sibley and Ingram. The work of painting the boat, and replacing the sailing keel, which was knocked off on a trip, was successfully put through by the combined efforts of the scouts, aided by Skipper Wieland and Mr. Fagin.

Among the interesting trips taken were several fishing trips to Marin Islands and Southampton Lighthouse, a three-day cruise to Mar Island and a number of sailing practices along the Bay Shore between the harbor entrance and Goat Island.

Unlimited Basketball

COACH KITTREDGE'S basketeers enjoyed a successful practice season, defeating some of the best college "frosh and prep casaba" teams in the Bay vicinity. The team also did fairly well, this season, in the 3A-tournament, placing fourth in the final league standing, and winning four out of seven contests.

This year marked the first time in three years that Mission's fighting unlimited quintet was able to trounce its traditional rival, Commerce, in the Big Bear-Bulldog Classic.

The following are the players on the squad:

Lang, Elwood (Captain)	Serda, Ray
Baat, Jack	Schreiber, Herbert
Gallager, James	Portoni, James
Price, Henry	Carlyon, James
Calderwood, Jack	Laub, Frances
Bridgeman, Ed	Williams, Jack

The Baseball Team

WITH many letter-men returning from last year's team, Coach Elder was able to put forth a formidable nine to uphold the Brown and Gold in the 3A League. The Bear athletes displayed wonderful ability and promise in practice games, thus being rated highly as prospects for the loop's champions.

At the start of the pennant race, Mission put forth a team that showed championship calibre. However, the Bears fell down in this representation by losing to the Lions and Wildcats.

Next year the Bears are figured to be in the running, and Coach Elder is to be complimented in building up a team composed of Sophs and Juniors to carry Mission forward in the future.

The personnel of the team is:

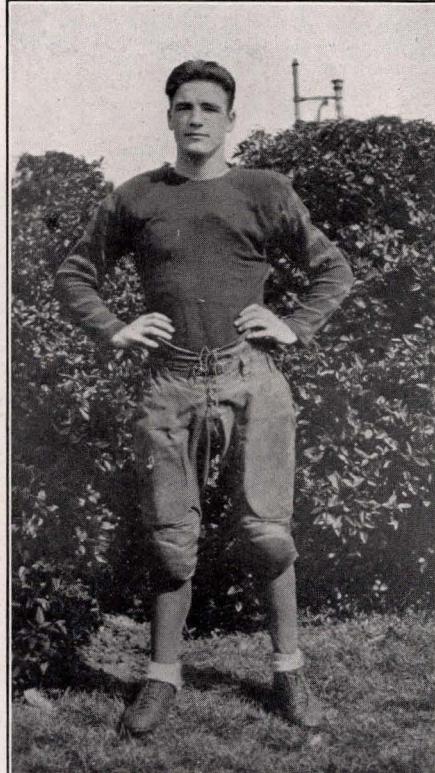

Switzer (Captain)	Fieber	Kendall
Tomasello	Doyle	Cottrell
Vella	Curtin	Hurwitz
Jones	Feree	Calegari
Murphy	Macklin	Batz

James Cannell, Manager

"Johnnie"

Ex-Captain Jack Baat

Captain John Kelly

Lightweight Track Teams

WITH the small total of eleven and three-fourths points, Mission's lightweight track teams managed to take sixth place in the Fourth Annual A.A.A. Track and Field Meet held on Saturday, May 10. Even though the Bears placed two steps above the cellar position, they did exceptionally good considering the small number of tracksters on each team.

Those spikesters who participated in the meet follow:

100 Pound Class: Owen

110 Pound Class: (None)

120 pound Class: Corsiglia, Decker, Tobock, Vaughn

130 Pound Class: Licciardo, Swanson.

The Unlimited Track Team

WITH a hope for second place in the A.A.A. track meet in view, Coach Haas, at the time of this writing, is putting his men through some rigorous workouts. Although it is impossible for the Journal to wait until the results of the meet, Coach Haas feels confident that we will take at least second place.

The Bears may do a Houdini and walk off with the meet, but, taking all things evenly, if the Fates and Breaks are with us, there is no reason why we should not romp away with second.

At the present moment, the following is the personnel of the squad which is under the leadership of Captain Mayer:

100 Yd. dash—Perigo, Gridefat	Shot Put—Woods, John
220 Yd. dash—Silva, Perigo, Ritter	Jaselin—Mottram, Seramin, Cerdia
440 Yd. dash—Schwoob, Le Guennec, Misso	Discus—Laub
880 Yd. dash—Lynch, Mayer, Barbarian	Broad Jump—Gee, Stith, Dunning
Mile—Mayer, Lynch, Kenna	Pole Vault—Cooney, Bagnini
Low Hurdle—Stith, Cooney, O'Donnell	High Jump—Bridgeman, Laub, Sieger

The Championship Varsity Crew

ROWING on a course and in a boat to which they were unaccustomed, the Varsity crew opened the season by losing to Polytechnic College of Engineering by one boat length, on the Lake Merritt course, April 30. Under the supervision of Coach Fagin the crew (at the time of this writing) is working hard to get into shape for the big A.A.A. regatta to be held on Saturday morning, May 17. The following students are trying for a position in the boat for the A.A.A. regatta:

AS THE MISSION is being rolled off the press, the 130-pound crew is practicing daily at Yacht Harbor, under the coaching of Mr. Fagan, Head of the Boys' Physical Education Department. In their first race of the season, Mission's crew lost to Polytechnic College of Engineering on Lake Merritt, by one and one-half boat lengths. The race was held on April 30.

Students who are trying out for a place in the first boat are: Verbrugge, Anderson, Cabezud, Erwin, Raffo, Kirik, Actis, Segura, Roberts, Maycock, Smith, Richards, Spear and Cawson.

The coach is Mr. Fagan, the Head of the Boys' Physical Department.

A Psalm of Solitude

I live in the cathedral of the Past;
Upon its altars lit with sifted glow
I lay burnt offering: and muted, low
Sweet strains comfort me, away from the fast,
Loose present. Aye, a thing apart I go,
For I love not today. The light I blow
Blows over them. They whom I loved are massed
In marble sepulchres along this wall,
This vaulted wall, this barrier between
Me and Today. The footsteps low that fall
Outside, I hear them not. I am unseen—
Unseen, unfelt. The voices that I hear
Are not of present time nor are they near.
They speak: their accents voluble resound
Throughout these pillars. They are all around;
Their bones are dust . . . Away; speak not to me.
I am not of Today, nor do I see
Aught of Today. My world must lie
Below stained windows. Darkness falls and I
Would be alone to hear the echoes roll
Back from other days to heal my soul.

—EDWIN MORBY.

The Girls' Reception Committee

THE Girls' Reception Committee consists of representatives from each of the six groups of sophomores, juniors and seniors. They have given excellent service to the school both as individuals and collectively in numerous ways. These girls are called upon to assist in escorting visitors about the building whenever there is an important function at the school.

The Reception Committee gave invaluable service to the school when they acted as escorts to the parents and friends of the students on "Open House Day." The girls played very good games, maintaining their interest and good sportsmanship throughout the games.

They played four games, meeting the Juniors twice and the Seniors twice. They won two games, just enough to give them second place with the Seniors.

The Juniors played very well, and fully deserved the honor of first place. Their captain, Audrey McCracken, received a silver trophy cup given by Miss Kelly. We hope to win the trophy next term.

The volley ball season opened about the third of March, and the girls practiced once a week until the teams were chosen.

Georgia Baines, Virginia Beeker, Chrissy Braimes, Ruth Bree, Josephine Conrado, Dorothy Cuadro, Reva Levy, Ruth Montague, Manager, Wilma Read, Capt., Betty Sabitzky, Jone Simon, Hilda Teske, and Alberta Winslow are the members of the team.

MISSION 1870

The Mission High Parent Teachers Association

Invites every parent and guardian of a Mission High student to join.
And to go further, it needs them—every one.

In "Union there is strength" is never signified more strongly than Parent-Teacher work. It is a union of parents and teachers for the development and happiness of our children. Ask the grandparents of our children what schools were in their day and note the difference. The P. T. A. helped in this improvement. With a 100% Parent-Teacher membership, we could do still more for both parents and children and that is what we are here for.

For every hour you give, for every dollar you spend in P. T. A. work, it will be returned to you tenfold by what you get out of it.

MRS. J. C. ROBERTS, President

San Francisco
