The Lone Cypress

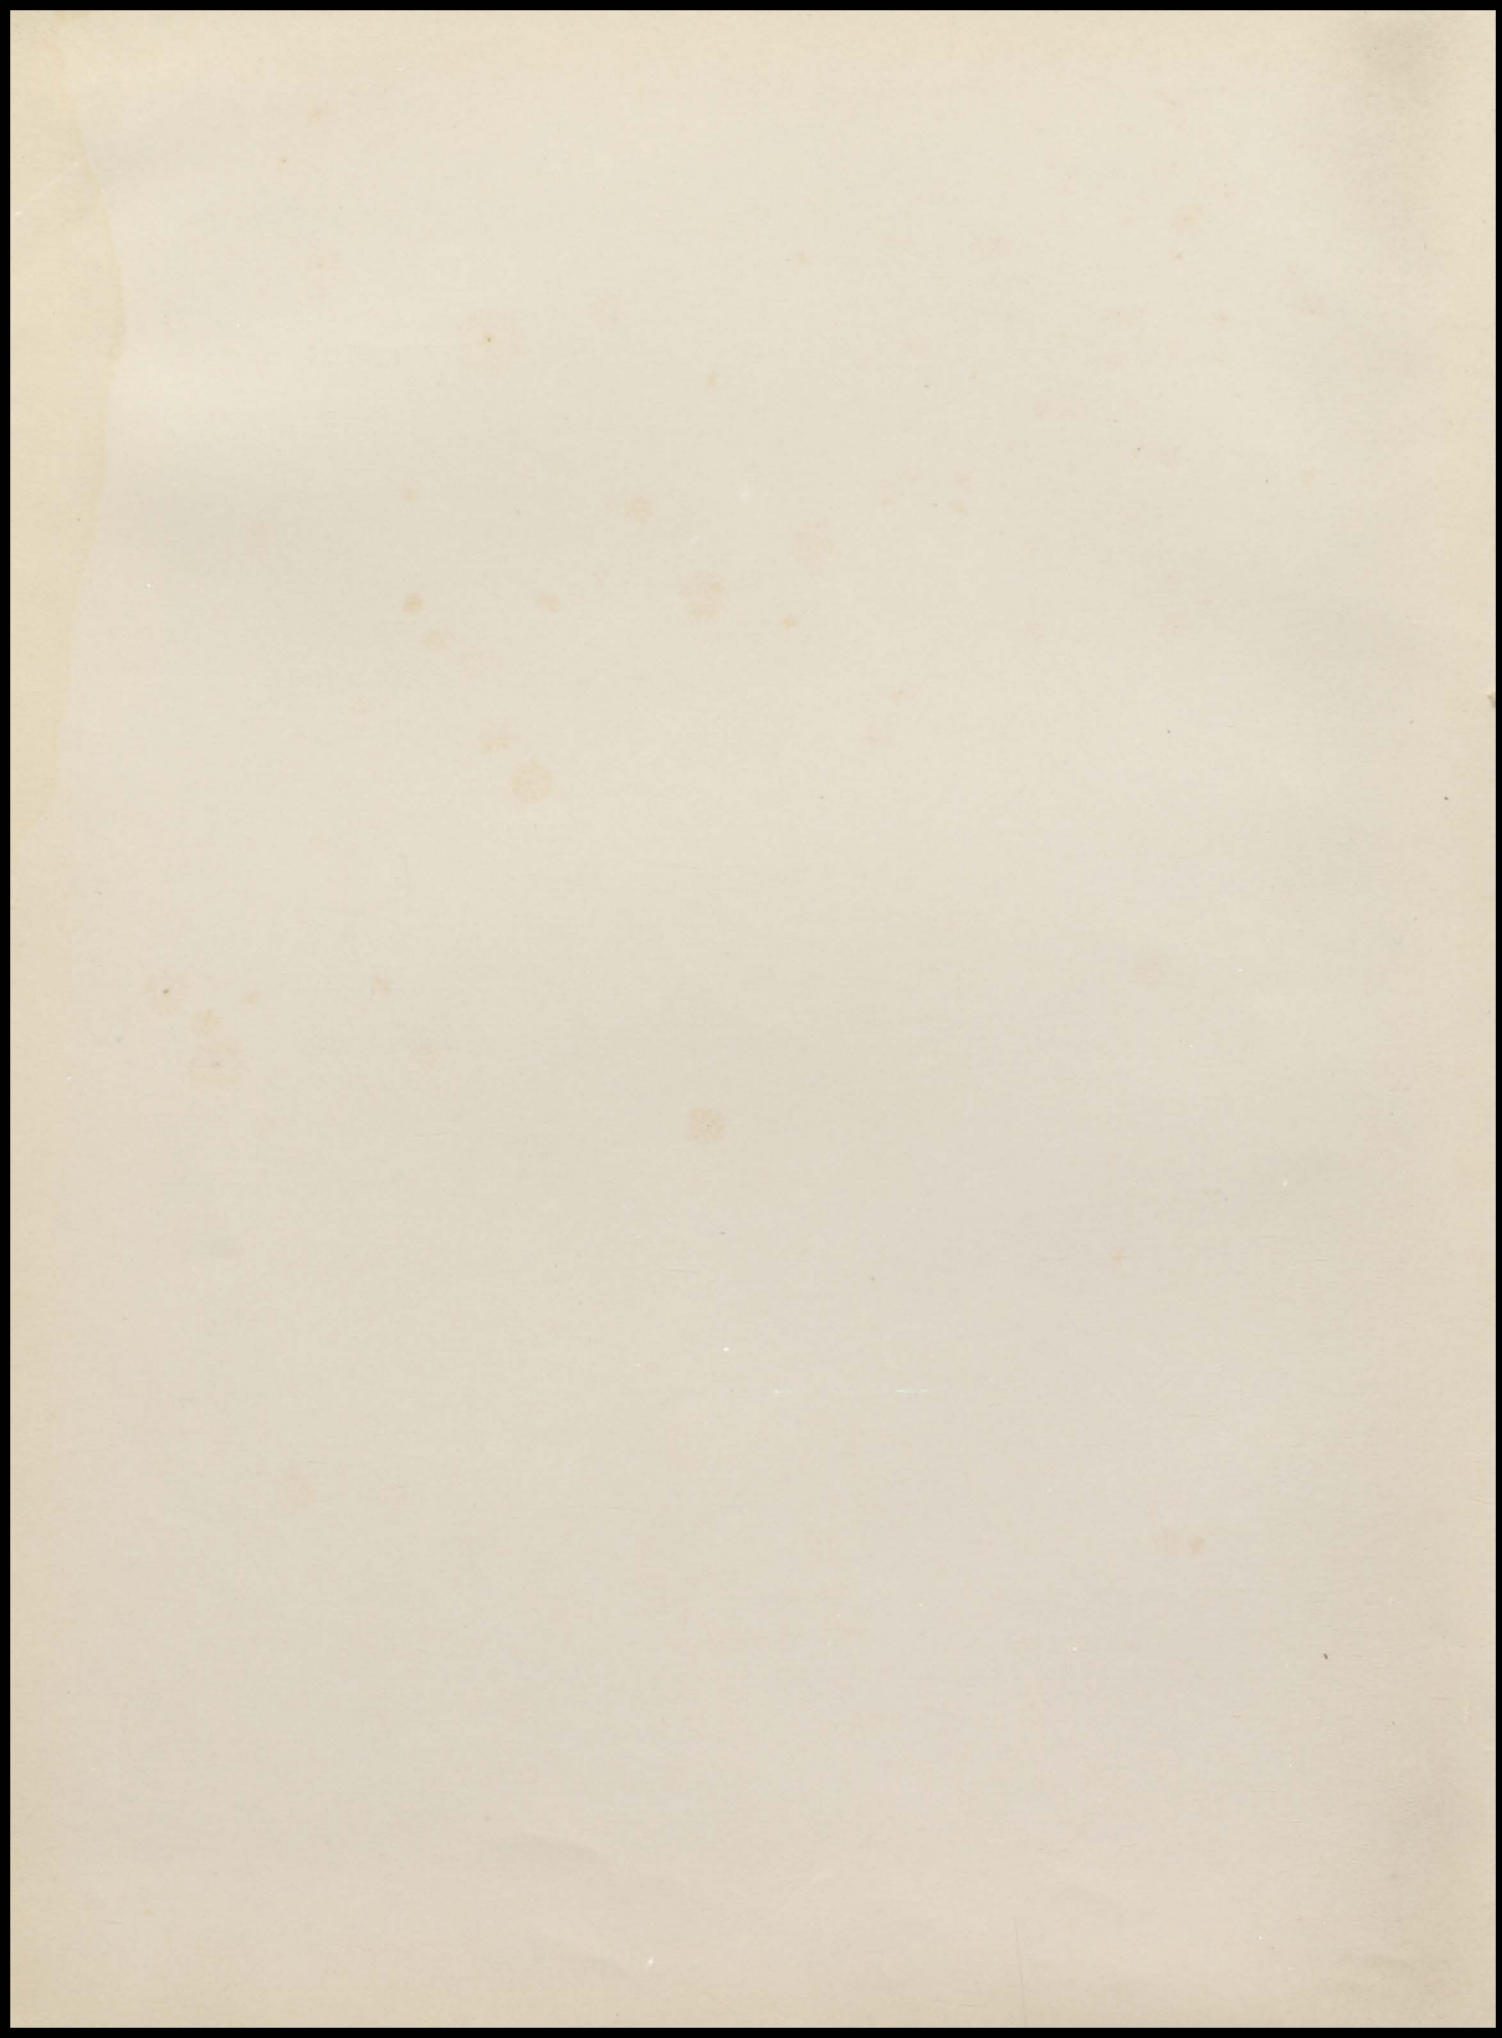

The Lone Cypress stands
With head bowed down,
Bare limbs well worn with age,
Meeting each day, with strength,
The storms that strike in rage.

Still standing strong,
This tree looks on
Our doubtful world, today.
Tomorrow will she find it thus
Or better than our yesterday?

In Retrospect

Dear Friends:

Certain years become landmarks in the history of an institution. In the life of Monterey Union High School, the purchase of our campus, the improvement of the athletic field, the two periods of construction, and the beautification of the grounds set up such landmarks. In contrast to these, the present year will be known as the year of change.

Recognizing the crowded condition of the school and the Peninsula's need of collegiate accommodation for its high school graduates, the high school board bought an additional site, held an election to raise money to improve it, and applied for Public Works Administration aid in erecting the necessary buildings. But movements arose to have a separate high school in Carmel and to transfer some of the northern elementary school districts from us to Salinas and Watsonville.

The net result of these conflicting movements was to reduce our district by six elementary school districts and leave us with a student body that is likely to diminish by a hundred twenty-five, or so, students during the next two years.

To add to the variety of student and faculty experience, a boiler room fire in September put the heating plant out of commission and compelled the dismissal of school for two weeks.

Despite these temporary setbacks, there has been growth in various ways. In numbers, all previous years have been surpassed, and the day school enrollment has exceeded eleven hundred. The adult school has again reached two thousand, in round numbers.

In the more important matters of student-teacher enterprise, joint effort has resulted in some championship teams, a long list of successful undertakings, a few new clubs to keep social and club opportunity expanding with the growing enrollment, and in the opening of some new or wider avenues for the expression of student skill and energy. Frequent radio programs are one illustration. Larger, more numerous, and more expert musical organizations are another. The Shop has reached a peak in its enrollment, in the range of its opportunity, and in the fulness of its use of its facilities. Shop boys are following a new plan in their study of English and history. In student finances, there have been some disappointments, but the desperate measures demanded some years in the recent past have not been called for.

All in all, therefore, this Annual helps record and signalize a year of happy accomplishment for both teachers and pupils.

Faithfully yours,

J. R. McKILLOP,

District Superintendent

Thanks, Folks!

The Class of 1939 Reminiscences

The history of the Class of 1939 is really the story of the evolution of a group.

As freshmen we were probably the most undistinguished and motley crew ever to grace the fair campus of Monterey High.

When we look upon the blank expressions of this present Freshmen Class, it is easy enough to imagine what we looked like four long years ago. As far as class activities were concerned, we considered ourselves very fortunate to hold even two meetings. The grand total of our other class undertakings that first year amounted to exactly nil.

After graduating from lowly Freshman ranks we woke up to a slight degree. Our class meetings became peppier and we had a financially successful concession in the May Circus.

But the Junior Year may well be termed the time when we came of age. It was then that we burst out of our lethargy and became about the most active and successful Junior Class in the school's history up to that time.

We grew aware of our vital importance as UPPER-classmen, and demanded recognition of the fact that we were now among the privileged overlords of all we surveyed. Naturally, we didn't remain in this state long—the Class of 1938 saw to that!

At any rate, we began to show the school that we were good for something. We were proprietors of the best concession in the May Circus, 1938, and we held a successful pie sale. Rumor has it that our two dances were the year's best. The Junior Dance was held to raise money, and the Junior-Senior Prom was held to spend the money which we had raised.

As individuals, members of our class distinguished themselves in all phases of student affairs. Some turned their hands to running general student body business, others took part in the work of various organizations. Indeed, when we reached our senior status quo, we believed that we had really accomplished something.

So—here we are, proud and mighty seniors, a long way from the dazed freshmen of yesterday. Today we can sit back with disdain and watch the struggling underclassmen strive to attain our lofty heights of attainment as a class. But as individual members of a school, society and state we are aiming toward further goals of usefulness.

Our hope is, that when we leave Monterey High to go out to add our bit to civilization, we may be even more successful in our later endeavors than we have been here in our class activities.

Senior Personalities

When we view our great state of California we seldom stop to think of it as made up of many component parts. Rather we tend to look upon it as a whole. Actually, California is an ever-shifting panorama. From the great silent forests of the north to the constantly changing life of the south, California is indeed fortunately different.

In this, our state may well be compared to our Class of 1939. It is possible to liken the varied personalities of a class to the different sections of a state.

First, there is Hollywood—the synthetic city of glamour. There, what counts is the outward impression—the real things that are deep down underneath are of little consequence. In the southland, the artificial reigns supreme. It is easy to picture a person who is the personification of this part of California. One can easily imagine him or her walking down the street dressed in flashy clothes, giving the glad hand to every acquaintance—no matter how slight.

Then we come north to the great majestic Sierras, calm and tranquil under their covering of cool green forest and everlasting snow. In this region of silent grandeur, mere man must move with almost reverent step. The entire atmosphere is one of tranquillity and silent thought. A far cry indeed from the rush and hurry of the south. Here is the person who believes in thinking things out for himself, standing on his own two feet. Superficial matters hold little interest for him.

Then we have the limitless expanse of dry arid desert. In this inferno of scorched wasteland not a living thing exists. The only signs of motion are the waves of hot air incessantly drifting toward the sky. Can't you see him with a dull, blank, expressionless look on his face—with his everlasting reams of words about nothing in particular pouring out as if from an eternal geyser? All who contact this wasteland are smitten with ennui.

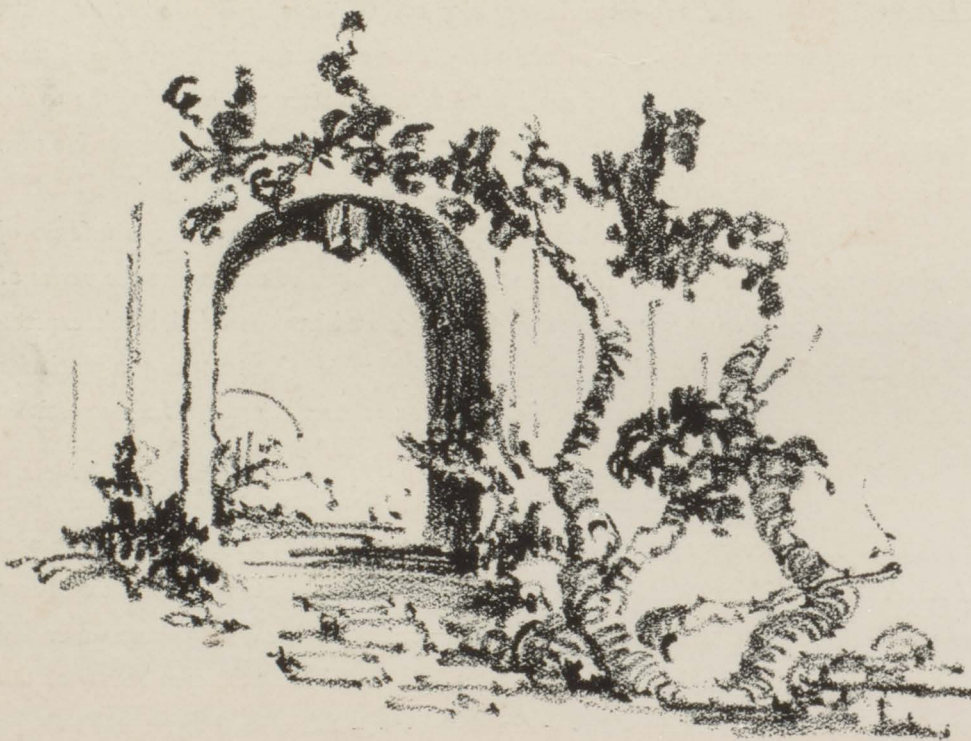

From there we go to bustling, cosmopolitan San Francisco. Here is a city containing a little of every portion of the world—yet totally different from any single part of it. A feeling of charm and good fellowship permeates the atmosphere. One cannot help absorbing a little of the rare and fascinating. The background of blue water and silver steel, furnished by the bay and the great bridges enhances the rare beauty of this city. From quaint and curious Chinatown with its myriads of odd shops and twisting streets to patrician Nob Hill with its tall, stately buildings San Francisco is unique. The person to represent San Francisco is very hard to picture. She should be someone whose head isn't in the clouds; whose feelings run toward real things rather than to fleeting whimsies. She should be eternally engaging in some worthwhile activity or organization, but she will still have plenty of time to do those many little things that prove just how human she is.

The curtain falls upon our brief view of some of the warp and woof that weave the golden tapestry of California. This glimpse of the variegated personalities that are woven together to make up our class is likewise concluded.

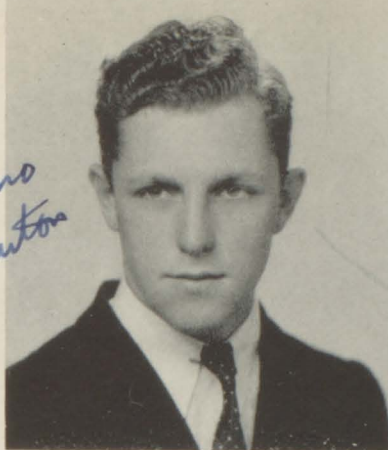

Let us hope, as our Commonwealth grows greater, and takes a more important part in the national affairs, that we of the Class of 1939, as individuals or a group, may expand until able to make valuable contributions to this world of ours.

Coming Up Fast

CLASS OF 1940

The class that is to graduate next year, known as the Class of '40, is considered outstanding in several respects. Among its members are several of our most prominent scholars and athletes. Although there has been a paucity of class activity, individual Juniors have not been idle. For example, they had several spirited class meetings during the current school year, as a result of which was held one successful pie sale. [Three whole pies were sold at a net profit of $1.07.] But the Junior Dance, entirely managed by students, was topnotch entertainment and good fun. The committee planning and decorating for the dance proved to be capable of exceptionally fine work. As for the Junior-Senior Prom, and the part the Class of '40 played in that—well, let memory bring back those pleasant times to you.

Officers of the Junior Class this year have been: Max Hagemeyer and Mary Louise Selbicky, presidents; Stewart Martin, vice-president; Zoe Littlefield, secretary; and Gordon Ewig, treasurer.

CLASS OF 1941

The Class of '41 has among its ranks some of the finest scholars this school has ever had. It has been consistently high on the honor roll, taking first place away from the senior class one quarter. One class member, Adeline Mignano, holds the all-time record for points under our honor system, with the total of twenty-four points, or six A-pluses. We believe that she deserves special mention.

So far this year, the Sophs have had few extra-curricular activities, but their one pie sale was a tremendous success. Officers have been: Dick Williams, president; Barbara Lee Rico, vice-president; Jacqueline Klein, secretary; and John Sand, treasurer. J. R. Ballard and Jerry Dusek were sergeants-at-arms.

CLASS OF 1942

Coming to life slowly, but surely, the Freshman Class has not yet set our campus on fire. They have, however, done a great deal of planning. Some of their number have contributed to school activities in splendid form, and show promise of becoming leaders on the campus in another year or so. Freshmen as a class must be complimented for cooperation in school affairs.

Class officers have been: Sean Flavin, president; Rosemary Baker, vice-president; March Rochetti, secretary; and Andrew Shepard, treasurer.

All About Our Clubs

The title may be misleading, for "All About Our Clubs" means something about them at the time that this review is being snatched by time-hungry printers for their grist-mill. Then again, take the word "Our," which is debatable and ambiguous. Nor should we lightly pass over the term "Clubs." Several of the "organizations," "associations," or "societies" discussed here are not clubs. But for want of a better word, you'll have to use this one with us. Here goes:

Streak and Daub

Following their annual custom, members of this art society donated baskets of food to the needy at Christmas time. At first under the guidance of Miss Virginia Dutcher (now Mrs. Benjamin Abarr), and later, under the leadership of Miss Gladys Barry, the group kept busy during the entire term. Pie sales, parties, initiations, picnics and poster-making were,—despite the alliteration,—other 1938-1939 pastimes.

California Scholarship Federation

The local C.S.F. is part of the state organization. Our chapter number is 195. Membership is based on semester grade-points. The revised second semester list, according to Miss Gertrude Rendtorff, included: Rosemary Baker, James Beaumont, Margaret Beidler, Laurel Bixler, Carol Card, Benny Chinn, Helen Dasbach, Beverley Douglas, Sean Flavin, Virginia Grogan, Max Hagemeyer, Galyn Hammond, Paul Hazdovac, Geraldine Heinrich, John Hilliard, Jean Humphrey, Victoria Jing, Eugene Kodani, June Lykins, Stewart Martin, Adeline Mignano, Vivian Modigh, Isamu Narasaki, Valdo Oleari, June Petty, Katherine Sandholdt, Andrew Shepard, Frank Siino, Milancy Smith, Ramona Smith, Arthur Strasburger, Marilyn Strasburger, Kunio Sumido and Mary Wong.

Le Cercle Francais

Frenchmen had a very full calendar this year. A pie sale, a Christmas party, two active May Circus concessions and a spring picnic were par excellence. Regular monthly meetings were usually high-lighted by entertainment also.

Discipuli Romani

What may be termed the most important activity of the large and healthy "Latin Club" was its annual Slave Sale. At that time the first year students were auctioned off to the advanced students. The spring dance of the society was a pleasure to patrician and plebeian alike, for it was blessed with the presence of Julius Caesar's Ragtime Band [Campus Cats, to you].

Girl's League

Due to the fact that the gymnasium was unusable for a long time this year, the overpopulated Girl's League had a difficult time. During the second semester, however, they did big things, sponsoring, as usual, a fashion review under Miss Ruth Blanchard's style-set gaze, a girls' assembly program, and an annual picnic.

Dramatics Class

Striving to provide amusement and entertainment for the students of M.U.H.S. has been the aim of the actors. Members produced and presented such plays as "Weenies on Wednesday," "Thanks Awfully," "Two Crooks and a Lady," "Such is Fame," "Grandma Pulls the Strings," and the three-act play "Hoosier Schoolmaster."

Los Trobadores

The Spanish group, although not engaging in many outside activities, had a lot of fun among its own members. Spanish songs and dances were learned. Membership grew to over one hundred. Handicapped by the illness of Miss Susan Gregory, the Spaniards confined their outside social efforts to the May Circus concession.

Block M

Unquestionably the most active organization in the school is the Block M. This bunch of lively fellows sponsored the year's first dance, and staged a football game between varsity players. Furthermore, they sponsored two skating parties, the Ozark Hill-billies' appearance, and the annual G.A.A. picnic. They distributed rule-books at the Santa Cruz game, sold megaphones during basketball season, awarded sixteen varsity sweaters and co-sponsored the boxing matches.

The Library Class

Behind the scenes in the library there is a tremendous amount of activity. Supplying the demands of a daily average of one thousand student and teacher patrons, a staff of sixty to seventy library assistants were kept busy by their trained librarian, Miss Harriett Baker. Always helpful to the school in carrying out educational, recreational and inspirational aims, the library points to this year as its biggest and best.

Japanese Students Club

Organized in 1935 and sponsored by the Monterey Japanese-American Citizen's League, the Japanese Club has been active from its inception. A great social event was the outing with the sister Salinas club. Several delegates attended the conference of the Northern California Japanese Students Federation. Of everlasting importance and worth was the gift of sixty blossoming cherry trees, made by the club and its sponsoring organization, to the high school, at a colorful outdoor assembly.

Key Club

Sponsored by the local Kiwanis Club, the Key Club meets every other Thursday evening for dinner and fellowship, as well as instruction. The purpose of the organization is to furnish members with knowledge of various vocations, which are discussed by speakers who know.

Office Staff

Under the efficient eye of Misses Mae Garrett, Ernestine Lobo, and Anne Bernard, members of the office staff rendered their customary services to the school this year, with more than customary skill and effectiveness.

Rifle-Club

The sharpshooters have recently been re-organized, calling themselves the M.U.H.S. Junior Rifle Club, with a national charter. In the newly-equipped indoor range the members with Mr. Bell and Mr. Peiffer, sponsors, held target practice one evening a week. Several members qualified for the first and second medal awards, granted by the national organization.

G. A. A.

This year the Girl's Athletic Association had a basketball game which ended in a tie, but yielded enough cash to provide initiates with a dinner afterwards. The annual Block M-G.A.A. picnic at the Indian Village, a hike, a girls' picnic at Point Lobos, and an excellent concession at the May Circus topped the round of ordinary activities.

Cafeteria Staff

Blushing with modesty the cafeteria student-employees were prevailed upon to have a picture in El Susurro. One of the most valuable groups on the campus—everyone has to eat sometime—the staff was instructed and supervised by Miss Putnam and the other permanent adult staff members. Activities of the group included—well, you know how they served you every school day.

Kennel Club

Proving definitely that M.U.H.S. is going to the bow-wows, certain canine-centered students this spring organized the brand-new Kennel Club. Sponsored by Miss Rendtorff, whose interest in dogs is well known, the club members had several "doggy" meetings, at which they listened to lectures by authorities on the care and feeding of pets.

El Susurro

Publication of the yearbook was a tough job handled by a changing and changeable staff. Pie and cake sales, dances, programs, a snapshot contest, subscription sales, advertising sales and a picnic occupied the business staff, while the editorial staff found itself busy with production of copy. For the first time in the history of El Susurro, an attempt was made to name every face in the formal (?) pictures. And we do mean you.

The Galleon

After dutifully obeying a ruling by the Board of Trustees that no advertising be sold to Monterey business men, the Galleon eventually became financially disabled. It continued to appear, however, in mimeographed form. Staff members also produced another untimely sheet labeled The Skiff. This publication alternated for a while with the Galleon. Journalists also furnished local newspapers with school items, newsy and otherwise, and assisted with El Susurro.

The A Cappella Chorus

The most recently organized group at Monterey High, the A Cappella Chorus, under the direction of Miss Madeline Currey, has a membership of fifty. The chorus presents a striking and uniform appearance when dressed in their new maroon-colored robes. The excellence of the appearance of the chorus is exceeded only by the quality of music presented. This year the group has presented programs over radio station KDON and at the Coast Counties Music Festival.

The Band

Monterey High School can well be proud of this year's band, which is one of the finest the school has ever had. Under the able direction of Mr. Franklin A. Young, the band worked hard and progressed rapidly.

The group more than held its own at the Coast Counties Music Festival, and also won "Excellent" rating at Treasure Island in San Francisco.

The Advanced Orchestra

The advanced orchestra, consisting of thirty-seven members, was one of the best organizations of its kind in the state.

In addition to giving several musical programs at the high school, the group traveled to Treasure Island, where it was hailed as one of the finest among competing orchestras.

During the stay at Treasure Island, the ensemble had the distinction of being the only organization out of 125 orchestras to represent California schools in a broadcast over a nation-wide hook-up,

What the Shop Has Done this Year

The Vocation Education building, familiarly called the Shop, has been developed greatly during the past year. According to Mr. Roy W. Frisbie, the most important administrative factors are as follows: a re-defining of objects to be gained and subject matter to be covered within given periods during each four-year course; a reorganization of the English course, and of trade-related and related-technical mathematics; and the institution of a course in "Advisement, Adjustment, and Placement."

Many major jobs have been completed which show the progress of students in their training practice for their future.

Mr. Mosher's Mill Cabinet classes have constructed Miss Ronchetti's newsstand, with furnishings and fixtures, which is in the Monterey Post Office; ten cedar chests; several boats from twelve to fifteen feet in length; and other work of similar nature.

The framework of a four-room cottage, seven large library tables and forty-one hurdles are the outstanding achievements of Mr. Mosher's carpentry classes.

Machinists, directed by Mr. Bell, have accomplished much in their field including anvils and drill-presses for their own use, a horse-trailer, and a power-saw for cutting cord-wood.

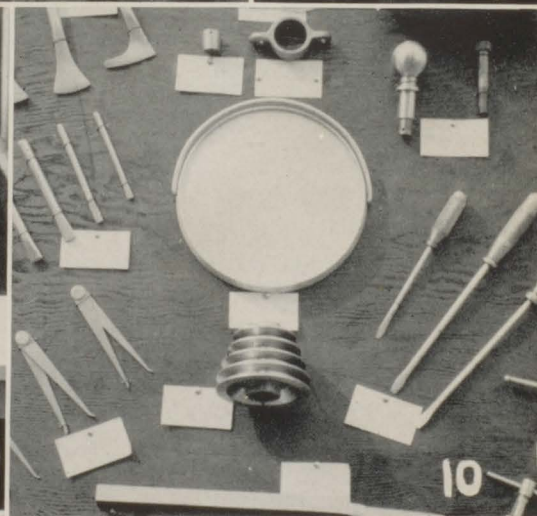

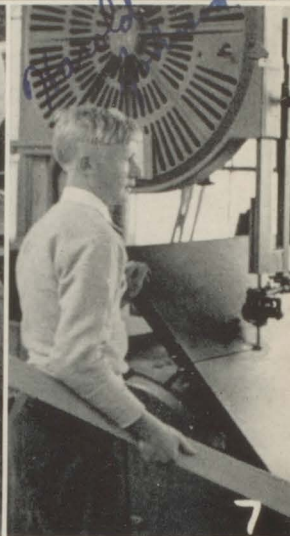

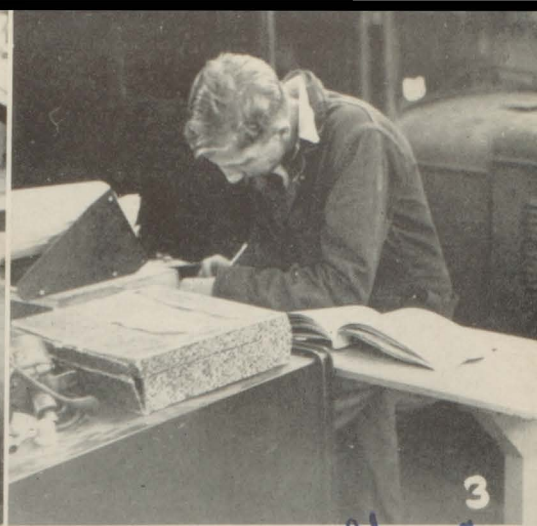

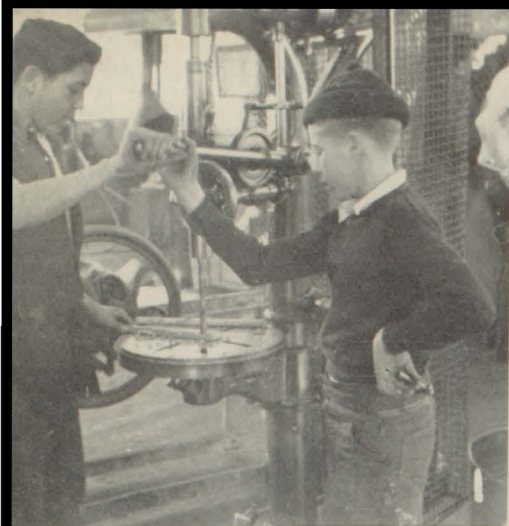

The boys in Mr. Martin's Advanced Auto Mechanics groups have been doing a new type of work by using modern motor tune-up equipment. They have had the use of one of the finest libraries of technical books and manuals on the Pacific Coast, compiled by their instructor.

Also of special interest is the development of a modern course in Elementary Auto Mechanics, by Mr. Holman. Each student, to reach his objective, follows organized lesson plans in the study of operations and necessary maintenance of each unit of the automobile. These units are represented in assemblies from dismantled automobiles as follows: the running gear, with its springs, wheels and axles; the transmission of power, with its clutch, change of speed gears, drive shaft and universal, and differential; the control unit, with its steering gear, brakes, shift lever, and switches; and the electrical system with its battery, generator, starter and wiring.

Educational tours have been an important factor in this year's program. In relation to Social Science, groups have visited the Monterey Herald office and the police court. Trips to San Francisco, the Spreckels Sugar Refinery, the telephone exchange, the airport and to motor companies have added to the boys' first-hand knowledge of their trades.

The Shop Club members, with their official emblem of an English "M" incorporated with a mechanic's square and divider, have been successful in all of their activities.

On June 5, the club held its annual barbecue, which proved to be a day of fun and fellowship, as it has been for twenty years. The Shop Club Dance was one of the most successful of the season. This was probably due to the fact that the boys lived up to the insignia of their novel dance tickets. It was an encircled letter "S," which signifies unity and cooperation in all Shop affairs.

The 1938 football season closed with the Toreadors winning their first C.C.A. L. championship in eight years. The Green and Gold went through the season undefeated but tied twice. The varsity proved to be one of the best that Coach "Hal" Youngman has had the pleasure of coaching

MONTEREY 7 • SEQUOIA 0

Traveling to Redwood City for its first practice game, Monterey defeated a stubborn Sequoia eleven, who later became champions of their own league. In the closing minutes of a close-fought game, a pass from Cornett to Hayford accounted for the score. A flat pass to Medo made the extra point.

MONTEREY 6 • SAN LUIS OBISPO 6

After traveling 165 miles by bus, a night game at San Luis Obispo found the Toreadors outplaying the Tigers in a practice game, only to be tied in the final period. Monterey scored on a pass but showed plenty of promise of power for future opponents.

MONTEREY 13 • HAYWARD 6

Displaying power as well as a clever passing attack, the Toreadors scored twice against the Farmers in the initial quarter. Bruno smashed off tackle for the first score and a pass was good for the second. Hayward tallied late in the third quarter after a series of end runs. Monterey had possession of the ball on the Farmers' eight yard marker when the gun ended the game.

MONTEREY 19 • WATSONVILLE 19

The most exciting game of the year found Monterey leading the Wildcats 13-0 in the first period only to be tied early in the third quarter. Everything pointed to a Toreador victory when Bruno broke away for a sixty-three yard gallop to pay dirt. But with the help of a long punt return and a pass, Watsonville was able to tie the score a second time. The heroes of the game were Neno Bruno and Frankie Hayford, who broke through to block Watsonville's try for a winning point.

MONTEREY 13 • SANTA CRUZ 6

In the most crucial game of the year, Monterey met a determined Santa Cruz outfit. Victory at this point would most likely mean the championship for either eleven.

The Toreadors started off with a bang, for on the opening kick-off, Hayford took a reverse from Bruno and raced to the forty-nine yard line, much to the bewilderment of the Cards. In ten plays, Chappell climaxed a fifty-one yard march with a score over tackle. On the second touchdown drive of fifty-three yards, Bruno cracked over from one yard out. Santa Cruz wasn't through as yet, for two long passes connected and they were able to score from five yards out.

Joy of the victory was somewhat lessened, when it was learned that Oleari would be out for the rest of the season, due to an injury.

MONTEREY 19 • SALINAS 0

A victory over Salinas would cinch the C.C.A.L. title for Monterey, if Santa Cruz could either beat or tie Watsonville. As it came out, a 0-0 deadlock was played in the "Apple City."

The Toreadors didn't start as fast as usual and weren't able to score until early in the second quarter. A pass from Cornett to Chappell was good for seven yards to the Cowboys' thirty-two yard marker. On the next play, Bruno broke away to the one-yard line. As he was tackled, he fumbled and Salinas recovered. The Cowboys lined up in punt formation and with the snap of the ball Hayford broke through to block the kick. Manaka fell on the ball for Monterey's first score in the game. In the closing minutes of the first half the Toreadors were able to score again. Salinas kicked out of bounds to their twenty-four. In three plays, six more points were chalked up against the hapless Cowboys. In the final period, Chappell recovered the fumble of an unfortunate Cowboy safety man on their five-yard line. Two cracks into the line by Bruno netted another score for Monterey. Even as the gun sounded, the Green and Gold squatted on the enemy's five-yard line, ready for another score.

Reluctance

Many of the boys saw the 1938 season draw to a close with reluctance. Those who wore the Green and Gold on the gridiron the last time for Monterey were: Hayford, Oleari, P. Cardinale, Nodilo, Isakson, Chappell, Cornett, Manaka, D. Bruno, Sanders, White, Yamamoto, Levinson, Rutherford, Medo and Skinner.

All in all, the Toreadors had a successful season: beating Sequoia of Redwood City, champions of their league; tying with San Luis Obispo (also champs of their league) in a night game; winning the championship of our own C.C.A.L. The latter accomplishment was a real feat, for all C.C.A.L. schools were well represented in foot-

Bits About 'Em

Franklin Hayford, LE: Specialties were snagging passes and blocking kicks. Played his last season and turned in an all-around bang-up game at end. An all-C.C.A.L. choice.

Wayne Millington, LT: One of the cleanest players on the squad. Usually turned in a swell game at tackle. He will see another season.

Neno Bruno, LG: Was the whole center of the line on defense. Very few yards were gained on him. He will return next season.

Valdo Oleari, C: "Val" is a quiet fellow, never saying much. Could always be depended upon to turn in a good game. In spite of being hurt early in the season, he made honorable mention.

Pete Cardinale, RG: "Bread" was spark plug of the line. Was always in there fighting and talking it up. Played his last season and easily made all-C.C.A.L.

Martin Nodilo, RT: Martin played captain most of the season and could always be relied upon to turn in a good defensive and offensive game. He will graduate this year.

Milton Isakson, RE: "Swede" is a very scrappy player, playing half-back on defense, and end on offense. He'll be lost to next year's team.

Louie Manaka, RH: The hardest hitter on the squad. Played a whale of a game at defensive end and was a sure blocker on offense.

Jack Cornett, LH: Specialized in throwing passes and in running interference. He always played an excitingly good defensive game. He will also graduate this year.

Manuel Chappell, Q: "Manny" was the "brains" of the team. Placed second team in C.C.A.L. Was very adept at place-kicking.

Salvatore Bruno, F: The hardest hitting back in the league, and gained more yards than any other back. Unanimous choice for C.C.A.L.

Satoshi Yamamoto, LH: Much credit should be given to "Sat" as he played an exceptionally good all-around game in spite of his lack of weight. He could fill any position on the team.

Ed Keeley, RT: A very powerful defensive player who still has another year of football. He will easily be a C.C.A.L. choice next year.

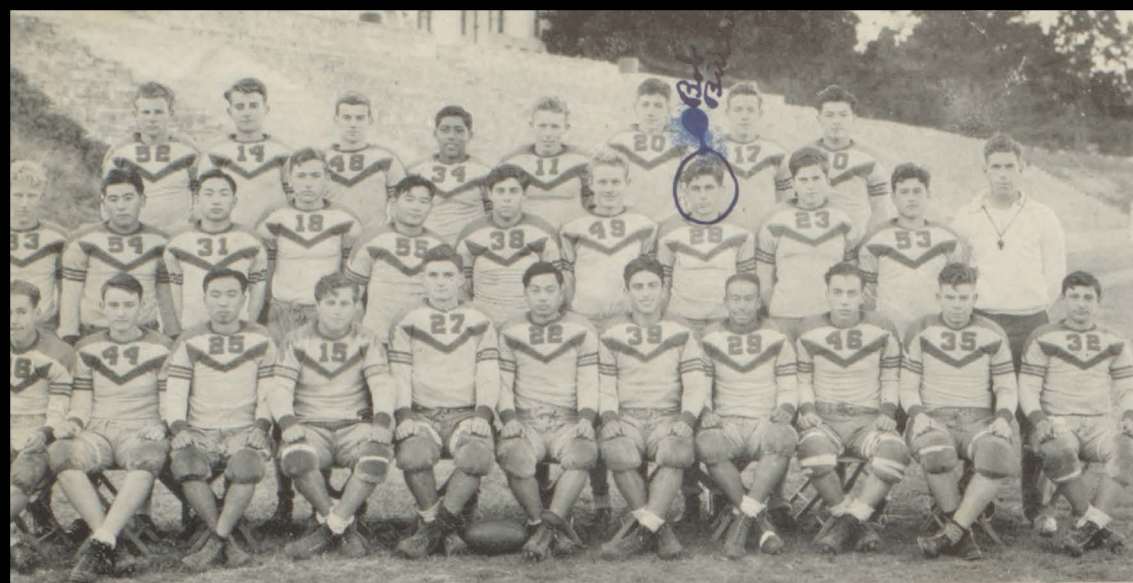

Jack Sanders, LE: Jack was held back because of lack of weight but was a good player in spite of this. He will graduate this year.

Homer Levinson, C: Would have been an exceptionally good player except for injuries which lasted all season. His tackling was outstanding. He is also of the class of "39."

Ed Rutherford, RH: An extremely light and fast player who really hit hard. Made several exceptional pass catches and several beautiful runs. He has seen his last year of high school football.

Clifton White, RE: Cliff played about every position on the team and didn't do at all bad at any of them. He was hard to stop when packing the ball. He, too, is through this year.

Alex Skinner, RG: A very light but hard-hitting player. With a little more weight he would have "killed" everyone he hit. He has another year of football. Watch out for him.

Lightweight Football . . . 1938

The lightweight season started poorly, with losses of 13-0 and 8-0 at the hands of the Salinas lightweights and the Gonzales heavyweights, respectively. But success came suddenly in the form of a smashing victory over Watsonville, the first in five long years.

Then Hollister tamed the Toreador babes in a close game—heart-breaking, in fact—to the tune of 7-0. Bouncing back again, the lightweights traveled to Santa Cruz to beat the Cardlets in a one-sided affair. According to spectators Monterey's babes could have scored numerous times, but heavy penalties set them back.

When the end of the season drew near, the Toreador lightweights were in tie-standing with Salinas for the lead in the C.C.A.L. The big game with Salinas was a hair-raiser. Tight in the first half, breaks came for Salinas in the second half. First came a fumble, than an intercepted pass that tossed Salinas into a 13-0 lead. Monterey tried hard to score, but at the end of the game found the score standing right there. Despite these set-backs, and considering all angles to the season's frays, it was a successful season for Coach Jim Francis and the Toreador lightweights.

First-stringers included Hiraga, Sumido, Enes and Mercante, ends; Ford, Manning, Cano, tackles; Vasquez, center; Cardinale, Francis, Fell, guards; Martin, quarterback; Hiraga, Harrison, halfbacks; and Melicia, fullback.

Heavyweight Basketball . . . 1938

The Toreador hoopsters wrought rather unsuccessfully throughout the basketball season. This was due in part to the handicap in the team's lack of height. Foster and Nodilo were the only six-footers on the team, the rest of the boys being under five feet ten inches and two only five feet seven inches tall. On the other hand, all other teams in the league had men who were six feet or over. The Toreadors' main trouble this year seemed to be their inability to get started until the second half of almost every game. If the Toreadors could have played the first halves of the games as they played the second halves, they would have lost only two games; those being to Santa Cruz, whose Cardinals won the C.C.A.L. championship this year.

The first game of the season was a hard-fought game with King City in which Monterey lost by the score of 24 to 26.

Next came Salinas who took the nod over Monterey to the tune of 38 to 28.

Santa Cruz and Watsonville both defeated the Toreadors by one-sided scores.

After that, the local quintet came to life and defeated Pacific Grove and King City in the second half of the "Round Robin."

But it was the same old story in the remaining games, with Monterey taking it on the chin from Salinas, Santa Cruz, Watsonville and Pacific Grove.

The first string was composed of Manuel Chappell, Jack Sanders, forwards; Al Foster, center; Walter Kuswalt, Satoshi Yamamoto, guards. At mid-term Valdo Oleari, Ralph Pietrobono and Jack Cornett replaced Sanders, Foster and Chappell. Other players who saw action through the season were Albert Perez, Tad Kato, Tom Dusek, Bill Marchant, Martin Nodilo, Sam Mendis, Frank Medo and Vince Russo.

The heavyweight basketball team of 1938-1939 elected Walter Kuswalt, captain.

Lightweight Basketball

Monterey's limited basketball team was built around the three Motos left over from the 1938 team—Tosh Minemoto, Maya Miyamoto, and Tad Marumoto. Tony Mercante and Frank Thacker soon earned the other two starting positions. The team was small compared with the other teams in the league, but they gave a good account of themselves, making all their games very interesting to watch. All but three of the boys on the squad will return next year and all should be able to make the limited squad. If so, Monterey will have a strong team.

Baseball

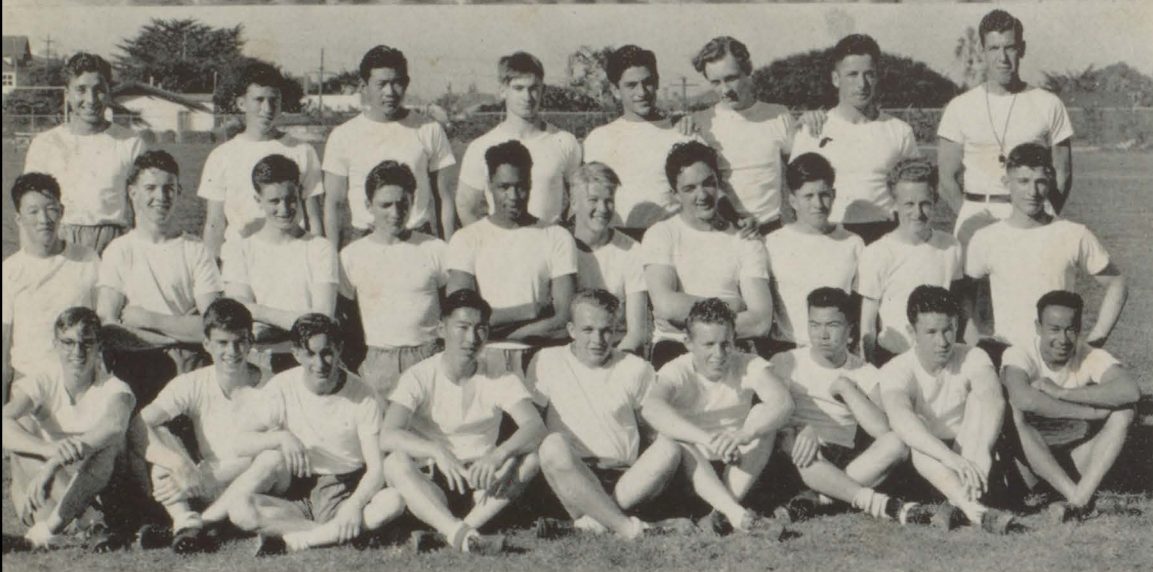

After a five-year vacation, Monterey returned to the diamond this year. As we go to press, the Toreadors have won one out of four games; the winning game over the league's leader, Hollister. The team has yet to meet Santa Cruz, and has return games with King City, Salinas, Hollister, Watsonville, and Santa Cruz.

The nine's hitting attack was sparked by Arden Ardaiz, Maya Miyamoto, Carl Fell, Louie Manaka, and Neno Cardinale. Others who played for the Toreadors were Orin Ford, Neno Bruno, Darrell Jordan, Sam Mendez, Joe Vasquez, Giro Oka, Tad Marumoto, and Howard Ingles.

Lightweights

Once again Monterey has enjoyed a successful track season. As we go to press, the lightweights have triumphed over Pacific Grove, Hollister, Santa Cruz and Salinas in dual meets. At the King City Invitational, for the first time in the history of our school, the lightweights brought home the trophy, by scoring $19 \frac{1}{5}$ points. Jack Habgood collected ten points in the shot and discus, breaking the discus record with a heave of $127\frac{2}{3}$ feet. William Whiteman also garnered three points in the discus, with a second place. Stewart Martin, a second in the low hurdles, made three points; Tadanori Marumoto, two and one-fifth in the pole vault in a five-way tie for first; William Harrison, one point for a fourth in the hundred yard dash.

Other consistent point scorers were: Isamu Shingai, Toshio Miura, Carl Fell, Lloyd Quock, Salvatore Lombardi, Robert Gargiulo, Samuel Tarantino, Takashi Hattori, Louie Menendez, Louie Tabiayo and Takuji Oshita.

Heavyweights

The heavyweights dropped meets to Santa Cruz, Salinas and Pacific Grove, but won from Hollister. At the King City Invitational Satoshi Yamamoto took a first in the broadjump; Clifton White tied for third in the high jump. In the Interclass Meet, Yamamoto broke the school record with a jump of 22 feet, $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches. Members of the team included Pat Crichton, William Frolli, Arden Ardaiz, Ed Rutherford, Ted Melicia, Ernest Roche, John Taylor, and Martin Nodilo.

Swimming

This year Monterey dropped meets to Palo Alto, Polytechnic of San Francisco, and San Jose State Frosh.

Outstanding performers for the aquatic team were Sidney Briggs in the sprints, Sherwood Barstad in diving, Myron Oliver in the relay, and Harold Dasbach in the backstroke. Other boys on the team were Jack Pelton, Eldon Christian, Halbert Mohler, Paul Warrington, Ralph Pietrobono, John Elizalde, and Vincent Smith.

The team had many able swimmers, but due to lack of practice, the boys were unable to cope with their more experienced opponents.

1938 ♣ Golf ♣ 1939

Monterey, after experiencing several years of outstanding golf, found that 1939 was to be a year when we must rest upon our laurels with the hope of building again for the future.

With this in view, Coach Youngman arranged the same tough schedule as in former years—meeting San Jose, Menlo, Poly, and Alameda High Schools. The team also played in the Northern California Golf Association Junior Championship and met the Stanford freshmen at Stanford.

The following boys played regularly on the squad: Neno Bruno, George Bevan, Ed Keeley, Frank Thacker, Walter Kuswalt, Mike Criscuolo, Jerry Dusek, Vincent Andante, and Tom Dusek.
