FALL

Your high school course has now come to a successful conclusion, and you are ready for the next important step in your life.

Some of you will continue your education in higher institutions of learning—others will seek employment in business or industry. Possibly some of you may serve your country in military service.

Be assured that the faculty of Polytechnic will follow your progress with great interest. Our best wishes go with you.

Sincerely,

CARL A. ANDERSON
Principal

A Word From Our Administrators

Congratulations on your graduation day!

How often did that thrilling phrase echo in those final exciting moments?

Do you ever think of the relatively short time we worked together before that eventful day,—and the awesome importance to you of the fact that you graduated from high school at all?

Now as you face a world of uncertainty, remember your responsibility to keep alive that hope of high school graduation in a free country for those who follow you.

Yours in memory,

SIGNE WALKER
Dean of Girls

The school year 1950-51 will be remembered as the year we started having air raid drills again. To me it is the second time as the dean of boys that I bid goodbye to Polytechnic graduating classes and realize that members of these classes will have a score to settle in world affairs before they will be allowed to settle down themselves.

I extend my sincere wishes for a long, prosperous, and useful career to each of you.

Cordially,

PAUL S. HUNGERFORD

Student Officers, Fall, 1950

During the Fall term of 1950 the student government of Polytechnic was under the competent leadership of President Bob Korte. Ably assisting the president was Vice-President Nancy Hopkins, who very successfully put over the student body dance, "Stairway to the Stars."

Seeing to it that our finances were kept in proper condition were Treasurer Roberta Sunde and her assistant, Harry Busse.

If any Poly alumnus should have seen a session of the student court, he would, no doubt, have been surprised and pleased to see Carol Menhennet as judge. Carol started a new precedent by being selected the first girl student court judge in the history of Poly.

Sam Butler, athletic manager, was responsible for ticket sales and promotion of sports events this term. Our custodian, Carl Bascomb, polished the cups and awards in the first floor trophy case and saw to it that all announcements were posted. Speaker of Congress, Denis O'Malley, was kept active with his duty of presiding over the representative body.

Although this term was marked by the loss of football championship, Cheer Leader Bill Rodarte did an excellent job of keeping up school spirit with his numerous card stunts and yells.

President Bob introduced something new in entertainment this term by presenting an exchange rally with Lincoln High School. Mr. Kinney, student body adviser, hoped to make this exchange rally with Lincoln a tradition.

The Presidents' Council, consisting of the president and vice-president of each San Francisco high school and also a delegate-at-large, was successfully organized this term and is anticipated to continue in future terms.

Thus, we have closed the pages of another successful term.

The 1950 AAA prep football pennant siege came up with the most surprising and controversial argument of recent years.

The debate concerned a ruling by league officials which denied the Poly High gridsters the right to meet the Commerce Bulldogs in the long delayed championship game.

It was claimed that the Parrot's use of a so-called ineligible man (Jim Blankenship, all-city Parrot back) in the Semi-finals should disqualify them from entering the championship tilt.

Prep football enthusiasts, coaches, and sportswriters all agreed on the unfairness of the ridiculous, although legal, ruling. The decision prevented the Mechanics from snaring their fifth straight AAA crown.

Although the club missed out on the pennant race and the championship went to the Bulldogs, who the Parrots had whipped 7-0 earlier in the season, the Red and Black aggregation still held the spotlight for being what the prep sportswriters termed the "cream of the AAA grid crop." The plucky Parrots rolled up a total of 158 points while allowing their opponents only 37 points in six games.

The Red and Black not only claimed one of the best offensive teams in the city, it also had one of the best defensive teams.

Holding down the offensive positions in the backfield were Stan Ozaki, Jim Blankenship, and Bob Nicola. These men netted 925 yards on the ground. The fourth member of this powerful running attack was Quarterback Charley Sackett who netted 735 yards by his passing.

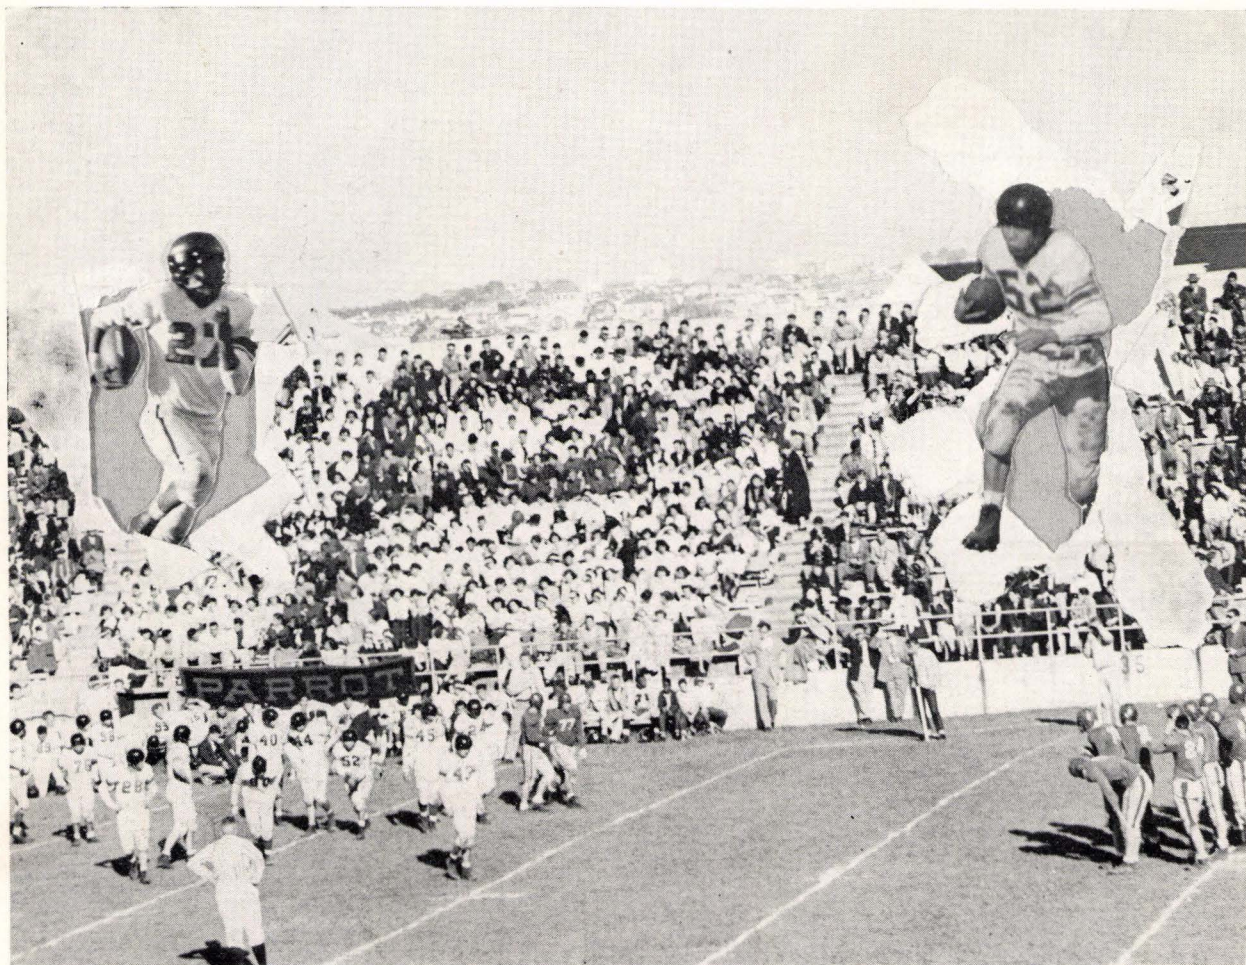

Up in front there were Art Di Cello, Jim O'Neil, ends; Ed Johnson and Al Herboldsheimer, tackles; Bob Moore and Norm Wheelock, guards; and Harry Kuntz at the center spot.

Holding down the defensive positions were: Art Di Cello and Mel Lapava, ends; Ed Johnson and Al Herboldsheimer, tackles; Jack Schori and Clair Parsh, Bob Moore, and Norm Wheelock, guards. The line backing was split up among four men. On the left side there were: Bob Nicola and Blackie Jorgenson. The right side was split up between Harry Kuntz and Warren Fannin. The halfbacks were Joe Escobar, Jim Blankenship, and Stan Ozaki. The safety man was Willie Sampson. Sampson was one of the best safety men in the league as the team found out.

POLY 7 — COMMERCE 0

The Parrots opened their 1950 campaign looking slightly ragged. The game was extremely hard fought all the way and if it had not been for a brilliant 62-yard touchdown jaunt on a pass interception by Jim Blankenship, the game would have ended in a scoreless tie. As it was, the Bulldogs had a little edge in the statistics. The chief cause for the Parrot's weak showing in the line was sensational Commerce sophomore guard, Sonny Sanchez.

POLY 19 — WASHINGTON 0

Poly's air game finally came into its own in this game. Charley Sackett, Parrot quarterback, was threading the needle with his tosses, getting 260 yards on 13 completions.

The initial T. D. came in the first period on a Sackett pass to Ozaki good for 47 yards. Jim O'Neill, all-city end, made a spectacular catch of a 28-yard Sackett touchdown pass in the second quarter to give the Red and Black their second airborne T. D. of the game. Bob Nicola pushed over from the 5 yard line to rack up the final Parrot six points.

POLY 21 — MISSION 6

Due to the efforts of Jim Blankenship and Stan Ozaki, the mechanics were able to hand favored Mission a 21-6 defeat.

The Parrots struck quickly in the first minute of play. Stan Ozaki scrambled 35 yards to the Mission 1 yard line. Blankenship then plunged over for the first of his three touchdowns. Two more Blankenship pay dirt thrusts came in the second and fourth periods. Ozaki set the second one up with a nifty 40-yard jaunt. The Parrot line improved tremendously in this game.

POLY 40 — LOWELL 12

In the traditional game with Lowell, the Parrots took a 40-12 win over a big Card team. The game was much tighter than the score seems to indicate and if it had not been for costly Indian blunders at the wrong moments Coach Mike Voyne's boys might have made a close game of it.

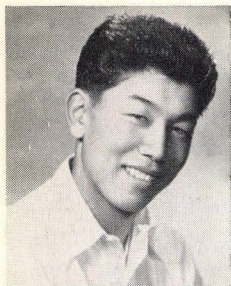

Again the Mechanics' air game broke the opposition's back. Charley Sackett combined a masterful passing attack with clever play-calling.

Scoring for Poly were Ozaki, Blankenship, Art Di Cello, Charley Sackett, Ed Johnson, and Joe Escobar.

The '50 Season in Action

POLY 20 — LINCOLN 6

The fine punting of Jim O'Neil and Willie Sampson's two all important pass interceptions were the main factors in the Parrots 20-6 triumph over Lincoln.

The Red and Black drew first blood on Joe Escobar's 45-yard T. D. scamper in the first minutes. The Links came back to make it 7-6, Poly's favor at halftime.

The Mustangs had two important drives broken up by Sampson's timely interceptions both of which set up the final Poly T.D.'s. One was scored by Sackett on a 1 yard quarterback sneak and the clincher by Sampson on Frank Hall's 20-yard scoring pass play.

POLY 51 — BALBOA 13

The Red and Black played by far their most powerful game of the season and romped over a confused Balboa eleven, 51-13.

After having given the Bucs a 13-6 edge in the first period, the Parrots exploded with 28 points in the second frame. Ozaki, Nicola, Sampson and Wilbur Williams scored the four T. D.'s in that period.

Poly shoved across another by Sampson in the third period and Ozaki, who played a tremendous game, racked up two more in the final quarter.

POLY 7 — MISSION 0

Rain and wind caused the mud in Kezar Stadium which was the worst of its kind since 1920.

When a pass was thrown, spectators had to wait for the men to run in order to determine whether it was a completion or interception.

It wasn't until the second quarter that the Parrots "cut loose" in series of "kick blocking." Poly's tackle Ed Johnson blocked Mission's Chuck Brown's punt on the five yard line. Poly's John Lighty recovered.

Five plays later on the same five yard line, the Bears attempted another punt to get themselves out of trouble. And trouble it was! Poly's Mel La Pava broke through the stubborn Mission line in time to block the pigskin. Team-mate Jack Schori recovered in the end zone for the one and only touchdown. The ball was passed over for the final 7.

Credit was awarded to the red and black's Bob Moore, Bob Nicola, and Jim O'Neil for their excellent playing throughout the season. These boys were picked for the first string All-City Football squad of 1950.

Fine pigskin players include Art Di Cello, Pete Peterson, John Forbes, Dick Ross, Harry Kuntz, Warren Fannin, and Norman Wheelock.

Soccer Team Captures Second Place

Defeated by one team only, Poly's soccer team brought their season to a successful close by winning second place. Led by all-city selections Louie Hilbert and Cliff Waterman, the booters did everything but win the championship, which they lost to Galileo by a score of 1-0.

The most important position of the team, that of goalie, was shared by Charles Coleman, Ron Ferguson, and Bob Thulander.

Poly's powerful fullbacks Robert McGuirk, Phil Claussen, Bill Hawkins, Bud Summers, and Bill Chapman.

Halfback positions were held by Louis Hilbert, Sam Butler, Stanley Burrows, Ben Dominguez, Robert Derrigan, Hank Uribe and Floyd Kellman.

Members of the line, were Jim Patiris, Cliff Waterman, George Obregon, Enrique Mello, Bob Zavaleta, Don Revere, Gomer Thomas, Nick Melnick, Pete Revilla, Leon Cathey, Pete Rossi, Robert Laws, Bob Tisnado, and Fred Quinn.

The team was beset at the beginning of the season by the loss of their talented right wing, Leon Collette, who suffered a head concussion in a practice game. Again the team suffered right before the championship game, when their powerful center forward, Don Revere, contracted a broken ankle, and could not play in the final game. If it were not for these setbacks, the spirited team might have made the one point which separated them from the championship.

Cross-Country Takes First Place

SECOND CONSECUTIVE CROSS-COUNTRY CHAMPIONSHIP FOR POLY

Poly's hard-working endurance men wound up the cross-country season very nicely, sharing championship with Washington. Before the All-City meet, Poly's runners were victorious in all their practice meets with other high schools. These victories were over Balboa, Tamalpais, Palo Alto, Commerce, and Saint Ignatius.

The five members of the team were Warren Fairbanks, Bill Rodarte, Dan Radke, Frank Wright, and Milton Howard.

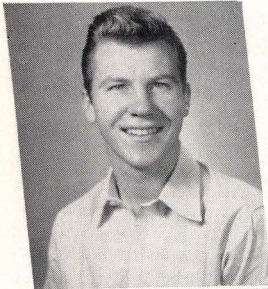

In the championship meet, the best high school runners in San Francisco fought it out for supremacy. The meet was held on a marked course in Golden Gate Park, ending with a lap around the three-quarter mile track in the old stadium. It turned out to be a Poly harrier who conquered the pack of eighty-seven runners.

In a tremendous finish drive, Poly's Warren Fairbanks thundered past Washington's Gordon Lee to become the first runner in San Francisco's cross-country history to win the gruelling mile and one-half run for the Parrots.

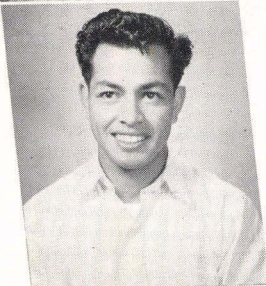

Bill Rodarte of Poly turned in a powerful eighth place, and Dan Radke, Frank Wright, and Milton Howard sprinted it out, with Radke taking eleventh, Wright twelfth, and Howard fourteenth.

The team was also backed up by such outstanding runners as Bob Derrigan, Bob Knuth, Walter Knutson, Fred Quinn, and Stan Burrows.

Next year's team should be equally as great, with veterans Fairbanks, Wright, and Howard returning and with the same expert guidance to the newcomers from Coach Edgar Williams that fostered this year's team to championship.

POLY 120's

Poly 120's completed the season with four wins and five losses. The team work was outstanding, even though they lost several games. The first string consisted of Walter Lee and Bob Comer at the forward positions; Bob Stevens, at center; and Harris and Barros, at the guard spots; with the scoring burden being carried by Bob Stevens and Walter Lee.

The closest game of the season was against Sacred Heart. Bob Stevens took high point honors with nine digits. The casabers led most of this game and won by the close margin of 24 to 23.

Poly had a successful lightweight team and next season most of these boys will be 130's. They are eager and willing and under the able hand of Coach Gordon Carlson they should go far.

POLY 110's

The Poly 110's won five of their nine league games. The top scorers were Gary Gillmor, Lyn English, and Joe Cathey. During the league play the Poly 110's were the only team to beat the Mission Bears, who topped the league. The team went through the successful season with these boys seeing most of the action: Gillmor and Cathey, at forwards; English, at center; and at the guard positions, Rosenthal and Camera. Most of the players on the team are freshmen and will return next year. Poly's arch rival, Lowell, downed our boys by a score of 42 to 27.

FARE THEE WELL

Twelve years of school, and now what? We, the graduating seniors of Fall '50, have many memories of our four years at Poly. Polytechnic is one of the oldest and most famous of San Francisco schools. It has produced many great athletes and scholars of today's world. It therefore, has a high reputation that present students must keep up and carry on. We hope we have contributed something to Poly's reputation and history.

For many students school will not be over when they leave Poly. These are the students who are going on to college. For many more, the routine of school will be over. These are the students who will seek positions in the business world.

Within two weeks, we will all be a part of the vast and changing world of today. As we march down the stairs on graduation night, after singing, probably for the last time as students, "Hail Polytechnic," we won't be adolescents anymore, but young adults.

We, the Fall class of 1950, leave this message to Poly: Farewell to our friends, teachers, and classmates. May the four years that future Polyites spend here be as well worth remembering as ours will be in the future.

GIRLS' BLOCK "P"

This past year the Girls' Block "P" Society celebrated its twentieth anniversary. The society was formed in 1931 under the supervision of Miss Florence McCall. The girls are allowed to join the organization when they have completed certain, specified requirements. These requirements are: maintaining a "C" average in scholarship, keeping a good citizenship record, and participating in sports for three consecutive years.

Back in 1931 the only sports offered were crew, archery, basketball, tennis, and riflery. Today our scope of sports is almost limitless. Bowling, volleyball, basketball, swimming, ice skating, roller skating, tennis, badminton, and riflery.

The officers for the fall term of 1951 were: president, Gail Ellis; vice-president, Francis Smith; secretary, Bonnie Dresser; treasurer, Carol Menhennet; historian, Carolyn Barnidge; publicity manager, Marilyn Hoover; sergeant-at-arms, Bethel Banderob; yell leaders, Pat Harper and Mary Forster.

The annual Block "P" dance, "Pass That Peace Pipe," was successfully presented in the girls' gym during the month of October. Near the end of the term, both the girls and boys of both societies attended an informal dinner dance held at Luccas Restaurant.

Our officers for the spring term were: president, Mary Forster; vice-president, Mary Dominguez; secretary, Joanne Leggett; treasurer, Rachel Borsberry; historian, Pat Leonard; publicity manager, Mary Mills; sergeant-at-arms, Bethel Banderob. The faculty advisor, Mrs. Alvarado, sees that the meetings are orderly and keeps us up-to-date on the school business we should discuss.

The activities this term were of various types. First, was the initiation, which came on February 21, fourth and fifth periods, under the direction of Bethel Banderob. April 14, brought the play day at San Francisco State College. Pat Leonard and Mary Forster attended the play day in which they participated in relays, volleyball, basketball, and the most exciting activity of all, swimming in the new college pool. Our night at Skateland at the Beach produced much fun and laughter for all. On May 18, sixth and seventh periods, we had our semi-annual Awards Rally. At this time blocks, stars, and pins were presented to the girls who had made achievement in the past term.

G. A. A.

The Girls' Athletic Association of Polytechnic can boast of having the largest membership of any school organization. The G.A.A. consists of approximately five hundred girls, all of whom participate actively in at least one after-school or seventh period sport. Included in the activities listed on the G.A.A. calendar this year were volleyball, bowling, tennis, swimming, ice-skating, basketball, badminton and riflery.

Each sport has a manager and an assistant manager. These girls compose the G.A.A. Council, the governing body of the association. The council elects its own officers who are largely responsible for the furtherance of the school sports program. The officers for the terms Fall '50 and Spring '51 were president, Janet Dawson; vice president, Rena Brugnara; secretary, Barbara Birdsall; treasurer, Audrey Aldrich; historian, Marilyn Aguiar; and yell leader, Joan Ruggiero.

The enthusiasm of the G.A.A. soared to new heights this year. During the fall term the Association, in conjunction with the Girls' Block "P" Society, presented a sports' award rally for all the girls of the student body. At this time the blocks, stars and pins were awarded by guests Ann Curtis and Barbara Jensen.

As the semester came to a close the Council members celebrated a successful term by dining at Luccas.

In the spring the Council planned a series of individual intramural playdays for each school sport which proved very successful.

The climax of the year was the installation of both the new Block "P" and Council officers at a beautiful and impressive candlelight ceremony.

R.O.T.C. Receives Renewed

When the United States Armed Forces, under orders of the United Nations, began fighting in Korea, the importance of the R.O.T.C. courses in high schools and colleges was reappraised. Since most young men will have to include service in the branches of our military forces, the R.O.T.C. may safely be regarded as one of the most important courses in Poly.

There is no immediate glory for taking R.O.T.C. as in sports, but cadets know that the training they receive will be of incalculable value to them. With our country virtually at war, there is no way of estimating the importance of the R.O.T.C.

When a cadet leaves Poly he is mentally prepared for combat. All he requires is the physical training which his service will give him. Not only is he ready to fight, but also he is ready to lead men.

Attention in 1951

Poly's battalion has suffered both losses and gains. Sergeant Herbert Woodward is instructing in another school. He was succeeded by Sergeant Gerald Flood, who now teaches first year cadets. Captain Dale Cuniffe replaced former Captain Ernest Stewart, now a major, as third-year cadet instructor.

This year's battalion commander is Cadet Colonel Charles Hurley; the executive officer, Cadet Major Richard Cook, the battalion adjutant, Cadet Captain Herbert Lee. The unit is divided into three companies, with company commanders, platoon leaders, and various non-commissioned officers operating under the staff members.

A new method of promotions has been introduced here. Any man, with certain qualifications, can become an officer or non-commissioned officer if he is able to pass a test.

THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The music department of Polytechnic High School is an inspiration to all music lovers. The Glee Club is composed of ninety members, including solo singers. It is under the direction of Miss Alma Rother.

Every Fall term, the Glee Club goes to the University of California with its outstanding singers to compete against other high schools' singers.

Last year Polytechnic was well represented with her top solo singers and the choral group. Some of the noted songs they sang were, "Strong Tower," "Adoramuste Palestina," "Emite Spiritum," "America," "Ole Man River."

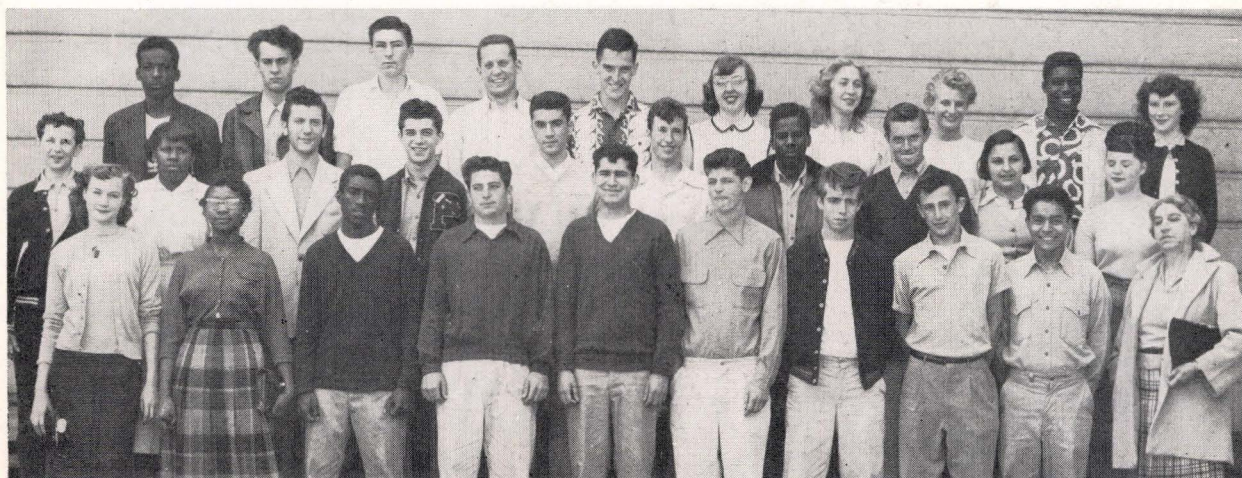

During Christmas time, the glee club went over to Grace Cathedral and sang for the older people. Some of these songs were, "Silent Night," "O Holy Night," "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen," "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," and "We, Three Kings."

At graduation time, the Glee Club sang, "Land of Hope and Glory," and "Dear Land of Home."

This spring the Glee Club planned some new songs to sing at San Francisco City College Festival: "The Heavens Are Telling," "Awake, Thou Wintry Earth," "Achieved is the Glorious Work," "Star-Spangled Banner," "Halleuliah," and "Shoggy-Shoo."

C. S. F.

The Polytechnic chapter of the California Scholarship Federation has indeed lived up to its motto, "Scholarship For Service", during the past year. With a membership of over fifty students the club has succeeded not only in serving the school but the city of San Francisco as well.

During the fall term Chapter 71c played host to all the San Francisco high school chapters at the annual CSF regional convention. At the conference plans were made to form an inter-CSF council composed of delegates from all the schools for the purpose of promoting more cooperation and unity among the various chapters. Polytechnic was chosen to make the necessary preparation for the first council meeting.

Nine CSF members were selected to represent Poly at the San Francisco Youth Association. Two of these delegates, Rachel Borsberry and Harry Elipoulos were elected to the executive committee of the San Francisco Youth Association.

MILDRED CHAN
President, Spring and Fall

Tea and Reception

Other activities of the CSF include sponsoring the traditional freshman reception and a tea for the new girls, acting as guides to next year's freshman class, and serving as coaches to students who need help with their studies. These activities were carried out under the direction of Miss Ruth Franklin, adviser, and the club officers.

Officers for the fall term were Mildred Chan, president; Janet Dawson, vice-president; Carolyn Barnidge secretary; and Rachel Borsberry, treasurer.

In the spring of 1951 Mildred Chan and Janet Dawson were again elected to the offices of president and vice-president. They were ably assisted by Carol Druhan, secretary, and Joelle Sandkulla, treasurer.

The requirement for membership is ten points. An "A" counts as three points and a "B" counts for one point. The final grades of the preceding term determines one's eligibility. Life membership honors are given to students who have participated in CSF activities for six terms. The few who attain this status receive pins and certificates of merit as well as recognition at graduation. Life members are automatically members of the Torch and Flame, honor society at the University of California.

POLY'S

JEAN NORMAN

September, 1950, finally arrived. The Fall '50 Parrot staff returned to school with new ideas and new additions to the staff.

Jean Norman was chosen editor of the Parrot with Janet Dawson as managing editor. Mildred Chan edited the first page; Carol Druhan, the second; Bill Keehner, the third; and Bill Rodarte covered the sports page. Carol Menhennet remained as advertising manager and was aided by ad solicitors, Arline Howard, Marilyn Lynch, Joann Merza, and Kathryn Chappell. Circulation manager, Bud Summers was kept throughout the term.

Staff members included Pat Kramer, Barbara Bigelow, Diana Bernard, LeRoy Leytem, Grace Keefe, Eleanor Drew, Norma Berstein, Nina Turcich, Roger Maher, Audrey Hinson, Gerald Jorgensen, Don Mozzetti, and Ruth Woods.

The staff produced something new, a regular four page paper with a snappy green sports insert.

The Spring term came sooner than expected, and along with it practically a whole new Parrot staff. Janet Dawson took over as editor with high hopes that the paper would continue along successfully. Carol Druhan became managing editor, with Bill Keehner, Grace Keefe, Eleanor Drew, and Bill Rodarte editing the pages. The roster of new reporters included Joan Ruggiero, Jaon Leverenz, Tom Duff, Joe Callas, Pat Doyle, Bert Tischbern. LeRoy Leytem was a busy man, handling the jobs of business manager and circulation manager. Ad solicitors were Stan Fox, Al Mitchell, Tom Duff, and Joe Callas. Something new was added to the staff in the spring term. A position of columnist was created. Ruth Woods held that position, writing "News and Views" for the first page of the "Parrot."

Due to student body financial difficulties, the "Parrot" was forced to become a six-page mimeographed paper, and sold for three cents. The "Buzzard" edition came out in many colors and sold for five cents. Under the guidance of Mr. Fred C. Chase, these "newsgatherers" attempted to bring Polyites a good paper.

The newswriting class is composed of members of various clubs, groups, and athletic activities, which explains the wide variety of news.

After months of careful planning, picture taking, ad soliciting, and meeting copy deadlines, the journal staff, under the supervision of Mr. Fred C. Chase, is proud to present the 1950-1951 Journal.

The preliminary plans were made during the fall term by Editor Audrey Hinson and Associate Editor Nina Turcich. Senior Editor Gail Ellis was on hand to record all the senior orders. Most of these plans were completed by the time that the journal staff was formed in the spring.

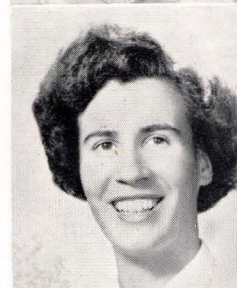

Room B became a busy workshop as the deadline for all pictures and copy approached. The excitement of journal activity reached the highest peak during the last few weeks of April.

Busy with ads and contracts are Margot Arlom, Jerry Roberts, Dee Lemmon, Barbara Myers, Pat Moore, and Ray Bravo.

Journal managers looking over the year book dummy are Nina Turcich, Roger Mahar, Audrey Hinson and Mel La Pava.

Under the supervision of Roger Maher, advertising manager, ad solicitors were kept busy. The staff worked hard all semester to obtain five full pages of ads.

Melvin La Pava, sports editor, was responsible for an accurate presentation of all sports material. Pictures and stories of all the Poly athletes had to be processed by the sports staff.

The art work in the yearbook was done by Mrs. Kirst's cartooning classes, while Mr. James R. Kinney and Bob Lombardini were responsible for all the club pictures taken. The staff owes them a debt of gratitude for their fine work.

The Journal staff, and all the people who served with it, hope that you will enjoy this yearbook as much as they have enjoyed working on it.

SPRING

Student Officers, Spring, 1951

During the Spring term of 1951 the Student Association of Polytechnic was under the protective wing of Mr. James R. Kinney, student body adviser; with his guidance, Harry Busse, our president, led us through another successful term.

Planning and presenting the social activities of the semester was the job of our vice-president, Gamma Louie. She, aided by her dance committee and other student officers, was responsible for the great success enjoyed by the term's student body dance. "Mardi Gras," as this dance was named, was held on the evening of Friday, April 13, in the girls' gym; all student body card holders were admitted free.

Keeping a watchful eye on the school's finances were Treasurer Joan Temple and Assistant Treasurer Johanna Segger.

Busily selling tickets for all athletic events was Larry Fjelstrom, athletic manager.

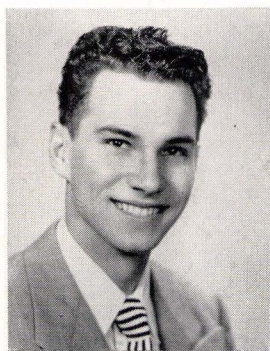

The task of trophy polishing and putting up of school announcements was done efficiently by Custodian Bethel Banderob. Bethel was, incidentally, the first girl ever to hold this office.

The spirit for which Poly is so famous was brought to a new high this term by Head Yell Leader Bill Rodarte and his capable assistants. Our student court judge, Fred Quinn, tried, every Wednesday morning, those accused of disobeying school rules. They were sentenced according to the seriousness of their crimes.

Roberta Sunde, speaker of Congress, presided over the student legislature at its regular meetings held twice monthly on alternate Monday afternoons.

The outstanding cooperative activity of the semester was a paper drive which was sponsored by the Student Association in an effort to raise the status of the student body funds in order to insure the success of student activities for the future.

The Poly lightweight cagers finished the regular season in fourth place with a record of six wins and three losses. The casabers were under the capable guidance of Coach Bart Concannon. In his initial season, he started with four straight wins and ended the season with a win over the Balboa Buccaneers, which qualified them for the semi-finals. We met a strong Washington team which had defeated our team in the regular season. The hectic game ended with the Frederick Street boys losing the contest by one point. This year's team was led by sprite Bob Jackson, who was elected to a first-string All-City berth by the San Francisco newspapers. Joe Callas and Ben Calica also received mention for their playing during the season. Frank Addiego, playing his first season on the 130's should receive mention for his fine ball handling and team play. Bill Kiley was also an outstanding player for the fourth-place club.

Horsehid ers Win 4, Lose 5

At the date of journal publication, the Parrot horsehid ers were in the midst of the Academic Athletic Association's greatest year since the early '40's.

The Poly organization inaugurated the season with a resounding victory over Galileo. The starting lineup for the season's opener found Frank Addiego on the mound, with Frank Hall doing the receiving. The Parrot inner defense had Bill Taft on first, Tom Murray at the keystone, and Wiillie Sampson shortpatching. The infield was rounded out by third-baseman Stan McCarthy.

Addiego allowed four hits in defeating them 7-2.

After the running start the Parrots were slowed down to a trot by Mission's heavily favored Bears, by a score of 6-1. The Parrots lone tally came in the first inning when Bob Jackson walked and registered on Frank Hall's rainbow liner into the center field. Bob Comer, Poly's ace righthander, held Mission in check until the fourth inning when Paul Holshevnikoff let Harold Kelley's grounder go through his legs giving Mission two unearned runs. The Bears scored three in the fifth and one more in the seventh.

Poly came out second best once more as Lincoln handed the Parrots an 11 to 6 loss. The Parrots' full pitching staff appeared in this game as Addiego was driven from the mound in the third inning. Bill Ellis, the Parrots' third pitcher of the game, was charged with the loss. Lou Fetterman, Lincoln hurler, held the Parrots to six hits. The Links broke the game wide open in the third inning with a six run outburst.

Frank Addiego notched his second victory of the season with a two to one conquest over Washington. Willie Sampson tripled across the winning run in the seventh inning.

The Parrots suffered their third defeat of the season at the hands of the Balboa Bucs by a six to two count.

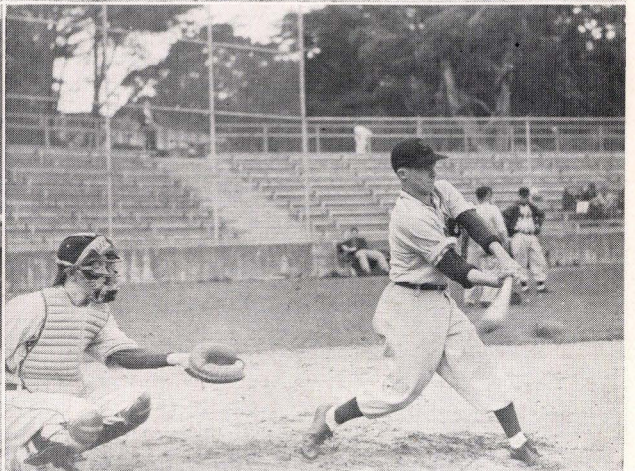

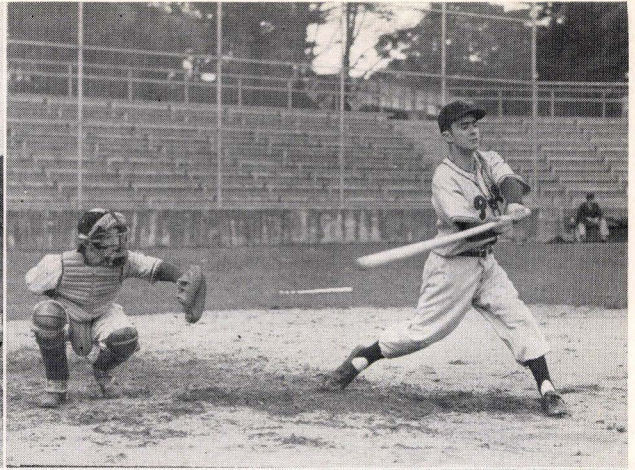

Art McBride's triple with the bags loaded featured a five run third inning, that all but clinched the Balboa victory. Lou Hilbert and Bob Comer slapped out two hits for the Parrots.

The Parrots were defeated by Commerce 10-1. Not much can be said of this game as Joe Gaggero limited the Parrots to three hits. The Parrots had a two won and four lost record at the time of this writing, and were a longshot to wind up in the playoffs.

VARSITY TRACK

Row 1: H. Uribe, J. Homel, B. Keehner, W. Knutson, A. Gallegos, H. Ryner, J. Schori, A. Gallaread, E. Mello, F. Quinn. Row 2: J. Blore, B. Prutch, G. Ellinger, D. Radke, F. Petuya, L. Cathey, S. Ozaki, E. Shum, M. Bieser, S. Butler, J. James. Top row: A. Herboldsheimer, J. Forbes, M. Howard, B. Derrigan, T. Nance, B. Hawkins, G. Nance, D. Greenley, W. Fairbanks.

Poly's strong varsity track team is unbeaten at the time of this writing. The Parrot cindermen have had five meets thus far, and have won four of them by very large margins. Poly swept over Galileo 81 $\frac{1}{4}$  to 31 $\frac{3}{4}$ , stopped Saint Ignatius 78 to 35, beat Lowell 68 $\frac{1}{2}$  to 44 $\frac{1}{2}$ , and toppled Lincoln 101 to 12.

In our most important meet, we nipped Washington, the defending champions, 57-56. It was a meet in which every point counted. Without Schweindig's third in the mile, Greenley's third in the discus, and Ryner's surprise third in the 880, we would not have been victorious. The most crucial part of the meet was the high jump. It was the last event, and in order to win the meet we had to take first, second, and third places. The bar was at 5 feet 6 inches and Poly's Bob Prutch had one jump left to avoid a tie with a Washington man. There was a shout of joy from the Polytechnic rooters as Bob soared over with inches to spare, making him the hero of the day. Prutch had previously won the broad jump and taken a second in the low hurdles.

With Washington beaten, Poly is destined, unless something unforeseen happens, to go through the whole season undefeated and therefore take the round robin championship.

Poly has many individual stars. Several of our boys are the best in the city in their particular events, and Warren Fairbanks, top miler in the city, crosses the finish line first against Lowell.

Brilliant form in the high jump is exhibited here by Frank Petuya.

Track Varsity and Lightweights Make Good

two are among the best in the state. Bob Derrigan, along with Bob Lualhati of Washington, is one of the best quarter-milers in California. Warren Fairbanks established one of Northern California's fastest mile times with a nifty 4:38.7.

Al McGuirk pole vaulted 11 feet 6 inches for the best record in the city. Jack Schori heaved the shot the farthest this year with a put of 48 feet 1 inch. Stan Ozaki leaped 20 feet 7 inches in the broad jump. Bill Keehner, our ace sprinter, is tied with Morris of Washington for the fastest 100-yard dash time in the city—10.3. Bob Prutch and Thatcher Nance tied the best high jump in the city with 6-foot leaps.

With all these outstanding spikemen, Track Coach Edgar Williams' outlook on the rest of the season is very high.

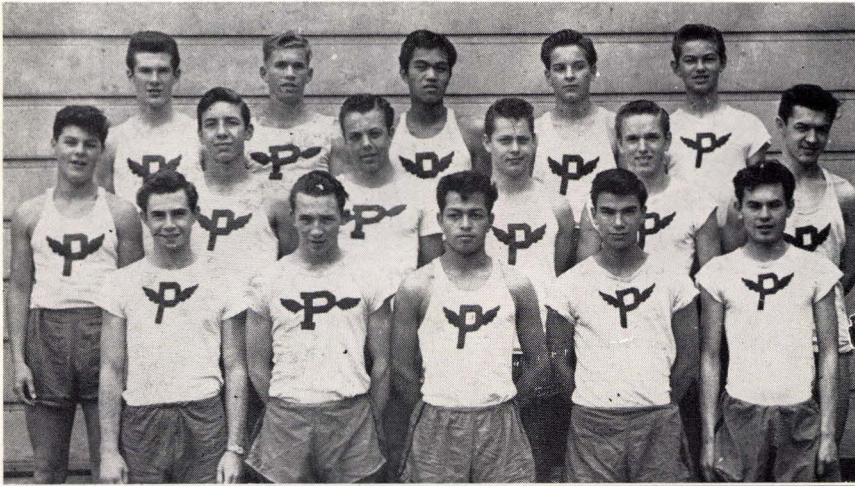

Bob Derrigan and Jack Schori will be ineligible for the city meet because of age requirements, but with a little improvement in a few events, it is our belief that we can dethrone Washington, defending champions, in the big meet as we did in the regular season.

The Parrot golf team had high hopes when the season started, but ran into strong opposition from every team they played. Sacred Heart was the first to be met by the Poly golfers. John Le Roux, Pat Moore and Don Gullikson were the point-getters in this meet. This was the story in every meet, with the Parrots succumbing because of lack of depth.

The team consisted of Bill Kiley, No. 1 man; Don Gullikson, No. 2 man; Pat Moore, No. 3; John La Roux, No. 4; Stan Blanshel, No. 5; and Jim Eggert, No. 6.

The closest match of the season was with Lincoln. With everything tied up on the eighteenth hole, Bill Kiley had to sink a two-foot put for a win—but he missed it!

All of the matches were held at the Harding golf course. Don Gullikson and Bill Kiley represented Poly in the annua all city meet.

Boys' Block

BOYS' BLOCK "P"

The Polytechnic Boys' Block "P" Society is an organization consisting of approximately sixty boys, all of whom participate actively in school sports. It is an honor to belong to this association; membership rules are strictly enforced and the athletic and scholastic standards are high. Any member who gets two "D's" or one "F" on his report card is promptly expelled.

The duties of the club are not only to keep order at the rallies, but to usher at the football and basketball games and track meets. The past year also found many Block "P" boys volunteering to be stretcher bearers during air raid alerts. This is just another of the many services performed by the society for Polytechnic.

The boys in the fall term were under the capable leadership of president, Stan Ozaki; vice-president,

Stan Ozaki

Ed Johnson

"P" in Action

Mel LaPava; secretary-treasurer, Don Quan; sergeant-at-arms, Don Smalian; and student body representative, Bob Nicola.

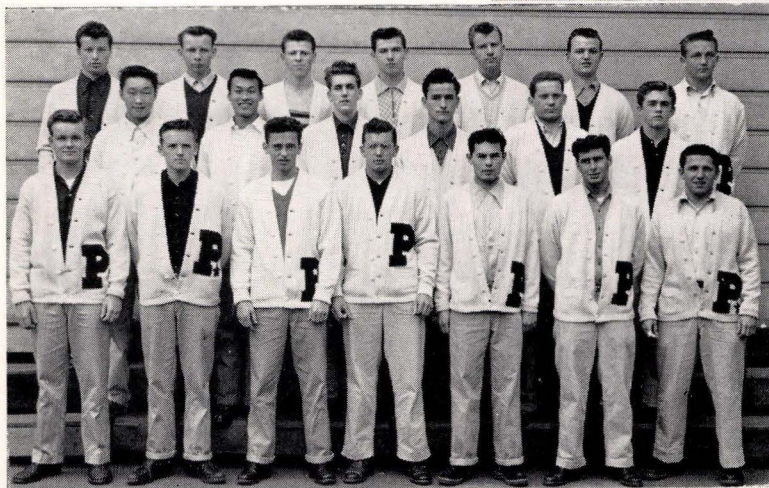

In November of 1950 the club, in conjunction with the Girls' Block "P," sponsored a well-remembered dance, "Pass That Peace Pipe." In January the boys and girls again joined forces to give a dinner at Luc-ca's Restaurant and a dance at Arthur Murray's studio later in the evening. The semi-annual Block "P" Awards Rally was held at the close of the semester with fifty athletes receiving blocks, stars, and all-city awards. The much-coveted athletic and scholastic trophy was awarded to President Stan Ozaki.

New officers were elected in the spring, and they led their society on to another successful term. Ed Johnson took over the presidential duties, Stan Ozaki become vice-president, Edwin Shum was elected secretary-treasurer, Gomer Thomas was chosen sergeant-at-arms, and Fred Quinn was voted student body representative.

CLASS OF 1951

OFFICERS

HARRY ELIOPOULOS
President

CAROLYN BARNIDGE
Vice-President

JOANN MERZA
Secretary

JOANN LEGGETT
Treasurer

With our heads in the clouds and our new senior sweaters conspicuously showing, we marched down to our senior section on February 1, 1951. There were two hundred and eighty-three of us high 'n' mighties, but when we gave our senior yell in the auditorium we sounded like a thousand. We were seniors at last!

Early in the term we elected our class officers. Harry Eliopoulos was elected president, and chosen to assist him were Carolyn Barnidge, vice-president; Joann Merza, secretary; and Joanne Leggett, treasurer.

The senior canteen, held every Friday morning in the Girls' Gym, gave each homeroom a chance to play host to the rest of the class with coffee, hot chocolate, donuts, and music.

Our first social activity for the semester was the H12 dance "Prelude to Spring" held on March 9. This was the first dance of the term, and in our opinion, the best.

The Senior Court Fair was held on April 5, and the inner court was the scene of all the festivities. We earned a small fortune for our class treasury from this affair.

"Our Miss Brooks", the Spring term play, was presented on the evenings of Thursday, May 10 (Senior Night) and Friday, May 11. Senior Night is so called because on this evening all ticket sale proceeds go to the high 'n' mighty class to help finance the prom and graduation.

The evening of June 1 will never be forgotten by us, for this was the memorable night of the Polytechnic Senior Prom held in the Colonial Room of the St. Francis Hotel.

We reached the culmination of our high school career on June 11, 1951 as we marched down the aisles of the War Memorial Opera House to receive our graduation diplomas.

IN CHOOSING a job—as in choosing a date—it pays to look 'em over before you make up your mind.

But once you see what you get with a job at the Metropolitan, you won't have any trouble deciding where you want to work. And here's why:

You'll start right off with a good salary, and satisfactory workers get three raises the first year; periodic raises thereafter.

It's steady employment with plenty of chances for moving to better jobs at higher pay.

COME IN TODAY

Get your job now, before the rush starts. We'll be glad to answer all your questions. Come to the Personnel Division, Monday through Friday, any time from 8:30 A.M. to 5 P.M.

You'll enjoy working for the Metropolitan! You'll find a lot of people your own age — just the kind you want for friends. You'll probably join them on an athletic team, or in one of the many social or recreational groups. There is an attractive lunchroom and lounge facilities for everyday use.

To all of that add Life, sickness, and hospital insurance. Now total up all your benefits. Do you see why so many members of the class of '51 are looking forward to a good job with the Metropolitan?
