

GAZETTEER

AND

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

OF

ARIZONA TERRITORY.

Agua Fria Valley, Yavapai Co, P O
Matt Dennis J, postmaster

Antelope Creek, Yavapai Co
Wilson George H, general merchandise

Apache, Yavapai Co, P O 210 miles s e of Prescott
Harlow C E, postmaster, and general merchandise

Apache Pass, Pima Co, 100 miles e of Tucson
Tully, Ochoa & Co, general merchandise

Arizona City, Yuma Co. (See Yuma)

Aubrey, Mohave Co, P O
Mayne Leo, postmaster

Beale Springs, Mohave Co, P O
Bettel A Rey, clergyman (Coyote Holes)
Jones A T, liquor saloon Pletz Charles, assayer (Sherman)
Ralph Jacob, postmaster, and blacksmith Sherman B, lumber manufacturer (Sherman)

Bradshaw, Yavapai Co, P O 40 miles s of Prescott
Sheckells Noah C, postmaster

Camp Alexander, Mohave Co, P O address, Hardyville, 30 miles w of Cerbat Harper Jesse, hotel

Camp Bowie, Pima Co, P O 110 miles e of Tucson, is a strong military post in the once dreaded Apache Pass, and within the Chiricahua Indian Reservation, the Agency being twelve miles south of the Camp. This post is on a high plateau at the base of the Chiricahua range of mountains, and on the eastern border of Sulphur Spring Valley, having an elevation of 4,362 feet above the sea, in latitude 32° 40', and longitude 109° 30' west from Greenwich. The climate is very healthful and pleasant, the most extreme heats of summer seldom exceeding 100°, nor the winters cold below 20° of Fahrenheit. The neighboring Sulphur Spring Valley is one of the most important and valuable of Arizona, being over 100 miles in length and from 10 to 30 miles in width, of fertile soil and well watered, and before the merciless Apache commenced his depredations was the seat of many prosperous ranchos, and the range of countless herds of cattle. The bordering mountains are seamed with veins of metalliferous ores, some of which have been worked in former times, but all this rich country, as large as a New England State, the best of Arizona, is condemned to a state of wilderness and desolation at the demand of a few hundred barbarous and untamable Apaches, and in obedience to the temporizing policy of mistaken generosity on the part of the United States Government. The Chiricahua Reservation embraces an area of about 10,000 square miles of mineral-bearing mountain range and fertile valleys, rendered desolate by the Indians, and enriched by the blood of many peaceful settlers and travelers who have fallen victims to the most wily and blood-thirsty savages that ever devastated the homes of our frontier settlers.

Tully, Ochoa & Co, general merchandise

Camp Grant, Pima Co, P O 50 miles n e of Tucson
Buck Warner, postmaster
Snider, Buck & Co, general merchandise

Camp McDowell, Maricopa Co. (See McDowell)

Camp Mohave, Mohave Co. (See Mohave City)

Camp Verde, Yavapai Co, P O 55 miles e of Prescott
Head William, postmaster, general merchandise

Cerbat, Mohave Co, P O and County seat, 650 miles, via the Colorado River, northwest of Tuc-son, and thirty miles east of the river. This is a new town in the Hualapai mining district. The region is quite elevated, and the climate is much pleasanter than in the parched and sweltering valley of the Colorado. Good grazing is found in the neighborhood, the galletta grass growing in bunches over the hills and valleys in sufficient quantities to afford nutritious pasturage for large herds of cattle.
The town is small and awaits the development of the mines to declare its importance.

Barry John, liquor saloon Blakeley W G, attorney at law
Brown Charles, restaurant
Canty D J, general merchandise
Cody John, liquor saloon
Cory William, postmaster Cory & Potts, general merchandise, and drugs and medicines
Langley W A, physician, and assayer Lesesno Joseph, physician
McDaniel —, attorney at law
McLeod F, blacksmith
Murphy John M, attorney at law
Reese E L, physician

Chloride, Mohave Co, 16 miles n of Cerbat Buckley John, blacksmith
Riggs W L, butcher

Clifton, Pima Co, P O
Bennett Cornelius, postmaster

Colorado Reserve, P O address, Parker Salt J H, general merchandise

Crittenden, Pima Co, P O
Hughes Thomas, postmaster

Defance, Yavapai Co, P O
Amy William E M, postmaster