STAMPED ENVELOPES.

The attention of the public is called to the advantage of using Stamped Envelopes rather than Postage Stamps. Daily, numbers of letters are dropped in the Post Office without prepayment, with Revenue Stamps, and Stamps on Stamped Envelopes affixed, which are held for postage; whereas, by the use of Stamped Envelopes, these letters are forwarded without delay.

Persons purchasing Stamped Envelopes of any denomination, in quantities of 500 and upward, may have names and request to return in a specified time printed thereon—not to exceed four lines—free of charge. The Government offers unusual inducements to the public in the sale of Stamped Envelopes.

§ 379. The Rules of the Office, made in pursuance of instructions from the Post Office Department, forbid persons in its immediate employ, or otherwise connected with its official transactions, from entering upon the floor. It is that no one, whatever his position, will attempt to violate these rules.

Persons having grievances against the Office, on any account, will please report the fact in writing, or in person to the Postmaster or chief clerk.

POSTAL RULES.

Many errors occur by persons not observing the following regulations in depositing letters, papers, or miscellaneous publications in the Office for mailing.

MONEY SHOULD NEVER BE ENCLOSED IN AN ORDINARY LETTER.

Direct letters plainly to the Street and Number, as well as the Post Office, County and State. By inserting letters the County in which the office is located, many errors in superscription might be detected, and mistakes in it avoided.

Head letters with the writer's Post Office and State, Street and Number. Sign them with full name, and in that answers be directed accordingly.

Full payment by Stamps required on all transient printed matter, foreign and domestic.

All letters not prepaid by stamps, all such as are received in the Office with Stamps cut from Stamped Envelopes with such Postage Stamps as were in use prior to 1851, or with Revenue Stamps on them, are treated as "unavailable" and are sent to the Dead Letter Office.

Valuable letters should in all cases be Registered; and when money is designed to be transmitted, Postal Orders (to secure safety in transmission) should, when practicable, be obtained.

A letter once delivered to any one authorized to receive it, cannot be forwarded without additional postage.

THE FOLLOWING CLASSES OF LETTERS ARE NOT ADVERTISED.
