Obtaining the Greatest Benefit from Your Directory

Given the opportunity, the City Directory of your city, or any other city, can be of great value to you. But it's a book—and you have to study books to get the good out of them.

A study and examination of its many sections, both reading and advertising, will repay you in added knowledge of your own community and with a better appreciation of what a valuable reference book it is.

A Polk City Directory—of which there are more than 500—is a directory of people and a complete catalog of a city.
