No. 433 SECOND AVENUE, N. Y., May 22d, 1890.

For seven years I have been a great sufferer from Aggravated Heart Disease, so that at times it was with great difficulty that I could walk. I had intense pains in my left breast, and felt as though I must die from suffocation. For years I did not know what a night's rest was. Sleep I could not, but would pass night after night sitting up in a chair. My family physician could do nothing for me, and sent me to the professors of the New York Medical College, but they also utterly failed to relieve or benefit me. One day some months ago, my daughter brought home a bottle of Dr. Campbell's Heart Regulator, I was just then having one of my bad spells, and the first dose she gave me afforded INSTANTANEOUS relief, and since that time I have used some four bottles more, and can truly say I believe to their use I owe my life. My heart affection troubles me now so little that I hardly notice it. I shall be glad to verify this statement, which I have long wished to make, to any one calling on me.
