

GREATEST WRITERS IN THE UNITED STATES

CONTRIBUTES TO
SAN FRANCISCO'S

GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER

LOOK UPON THIS LIST:

EVERY NAME OF NATIONAL FAME

FREMONT OLDER

—Editor-in-Chief of The Call and Post, whose wide experience and extraordinary insight into human affairs justify his position as one of the most noted figures in American journalism today.

ROBERT L. DUFFUS

—Editorial writer; his forceful style and perspective of present-day issues make his editorials the best in the West.

ELENORE MEHERIN

—Noted feature writer, whose stories are read far and wide; her contributions are a daily feature of The Call that attract the widest attention.

JOHN D. BARRY

—Noted essayist and student of economic affairs. His articles on timely subjects are read by thousands each day.

NELL BRINKLEY

—Whose writing pen is as facile as her drawing pen.

GARRETT P. SERVISS

—Celebrated astronomer and scientist, whose able articles have given him a great following.

C. E. KUNZE

—Feature writer of note, whose unusual style and unique viewpoint give extraordinary interest to his articles.

JOHN P. MEDBURY

—Whose daily contributions bristle with humor. Thousands laugh with Medbury each day.

MARION T. SALAZAR

—Best authority sporting editor of The Call; recognized as the leading authority and writer on sports in the West.

ALMA REED

—Widely known among club and society folk throughout California. Her accounts of doings in clubdom and special articles are widely read.

Eight Comic Artists and Cartoonists Furnish Merriment Galore. Here they are:

FERA TAD HERRIMAN McNAMARA ARGENS
CAMERON COFFMAN STERRETT

Every issue of THE CALL contains screamingly funny material a-plenty and is a sure cure for the blues. All these celebrated writers and artists are on the staff of

THE SAN FRANCISCO CALL AND POST

All their wonderful contributions to be had for only FIFTY-FIVE CENTS A MONTH. Subscribe today for San Francisco's GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER—

THE SAN FRANCISCO CALL AND POST