Ye Compleat Craftsman

A GREAT DEAL of the joy of life consists in doing to the best of one's ability everything which he attempts to do. There is a sense of satisfaction, a pride in surveying such a work, which the superficial man, who leaves his work in a slovenly, half-finished condition, can never know. It is this conscientious completeness which turns work into art. The smallest thing, well done, becomes artistic.

—WILLIAM MATHEWS

For more than forty years this firm has upheld, as a constant ideal, the execution of every contract... large or small...to the best of its ability.
