

Oct. 14. John Fogarty stabbed to death by a man named Sterling, on the steamer Amador.

Oct. 15. The Pioneers of 1850 meet at Crusaders' Hall, to organize a society.

Oct. 16. Coroner Rice is indicted for neglect of duty.

Oct. 17. John Whitmore, mate of the bark E. H. Kingsman, kills P. Doran, a stevedore.

Oct. 18. Twenty-first Anniversary of the Young Men's Christian Association. . . . C. J. Selmer commits suicide.

Oct. 19. Failure of E. E. Morgans Sons, for $335,000.

Oct. 20. The remains of Maj. Harry Larkyns, killed at Napa by E. J. Muybridge, are buried in the Masonic Cemetery, with very imposing ceremonies.

Oct. 23. W. C. Whitehouse drops dead in a Chinese brothel.

Oct. 25. During a row among hoodlums, James Burns is fatally wounded in the abdomen.

Oct. 26. Zenas Coffin, a well-known citizen, dies suddenly.

Oct. 31. Henry Wilhousen commits suicide. . . . Isaac Berry, a colored man, murders his father.

November 1. —George C. Maxwell is drowned while bathing in the bay near the Six-mile House.

Nov. 2. Frank Jobite found dead in his bed.

Nov. 4. Henry Videau, a prominent citizen, dies suddenly of apoplexy.

Nov. 5. The New U. S. Mint is formally transferred to Gen. O. H. La Grange, the superintendent, with befitting ceremonies. . . . Joseph McArdle, mate of the ship Undaunted, is fined $250 and sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the State Prison, for cruelly treating his men.

Nov. 8. Edward Maguire shoots and kills his wife, while under the influence of liquor. . . . The ship Three Brothers returns, having made the trip to Havre, from thence to New York, and to San Francisco, in three hundred and eighty days.

Nov. 11. The Central Pacific R. R. Co.'s steamer Sacramento is burned at the wharf. Loss $20,000.

Nov. 14. Great running race for $25,000 takes place at Golden Gate Park, between Katie Pease, Thad. Stevens, Henry, Joe Daniels, Alpha, Hock Hocking, and Hardwood; Katie Pease wins in two straight heats. Time, 7.43½ and 7.36½; over twenty thousand persons were present.

Nov. 17. A part of James Lick's property is sold at auction, at Platt's Hall, in accordance with his instructions, for different bequests, and realizes the sum of $1,959,925.

Nov. 18. George N. Murray discovers the body of his little son in a well. He had been missing three days.

Nov. 21. Isaac Beard dies from the effects of a stab in the back, received during a quarrel.

Nov. 22. Peter Connolly is stabbed by James Lynch; one wound in the abdomen considered fatal.

Nov. 26. Thanksgiving Day is appropriately observed. . . . William Hendrick is found dead in bed, at the Morton House.

Nov. 27. Coroner Rice is removed from office, and the decree filed with the County Clerk.

Nov. 28. Great trotting race, between Occident and Fullerton, takes place at the Bay District Fair Grounds. Occident wins the race in three straight heats. Time, 2.19, 2.25, and 2.20½.

Nov. 29. King Kalakaua, of the Hawaiian Kingdom, arrives, and is received with considerable display by the civic and military authorities. . . . A woman named Mary Gates, drops dead at the residence of Thomas McArdle, where she was visiting.

Nov. 30. Yoshida Kiyonari, Vice-Minister of Finance, for Japan, arrives en route to Washington. . . . J. E. Pad-dock, in a fit of drunkenness, attempts to assassinate Patrick H. Harrington. . . . The Twelfth Anniversary of St. Andrew's Society is celebrated at Platt's Hall.

December 1. Reunion of passengers by the steamer Oregon, which arrived December 1, 1849, being the Twenty-fifth Anniversary, is held at the Maison Dorée.

Dec. 2. King Kalakaua and staff take a trip round the Bay, visiting Alcatraz and Mare Islands.

Dec. 3. A young man, named George McCully, is garroted and robbed of some coin and a certificate of deposit. One of the garroters is arrested, and while in the cell attempts to cut his throat.

Dec. 4. Grand Review of the Second Infantry is held in the Mechanics' Pavilion, in honor of King Kalakaua. . . . A man, named Robert Howe, found drowned off Hathaway's Wharf. . . . Louis Williams commits suicide.

Dec. 5. King Kalakaua and party, leave en route for Washington, escorted by Col. Wherry, Lieut. Whiting, and Lieut.-Col. Hubbard.

Dec. 6. Patrick Gilleran is accidentally shot, while pulling a loaded shot gun from a wagon, and dies almost immediately.

Dec. 7. Robert Bruce Creighton is fined $300, for assaulting Thomas Newcomb, local editor of the San Francisco Call. . . . F. W. Cushing, time clerk in the Naval Construction Department at Mare Island, brought here for investigation on a charge of falsifying the payroll. . . . Frank Curley fatally stabbed by a notorious hoodlum named McEvoy.

Dec. 8. A Roman wrestling match takes place at Platt's Hall, between Professor Miller and Mons. Bauer, which results in the latter's favor. . . . The Board of Managers of the Ninth Industrial Fair close up their accounts, showing a deficiency of $48,923.05 on their receipts, but with a building to their credit that cost $110,000. . . . James Mackey, the driver of the Hospital ambulance, is thrown from his seat and instantly killed. . . . Dr. Swan is elected Coroner, and takes the oath of office.

Dec. 10. Henry Jones is fined $500 for dealing faro. . . . James McNamara is found in his bed, at the Central Hotel, with five knife wounds on his person. . . . Charles Smith shoots himself fatally while examining a pistol.

Dec. 11. Jerry Coghlan stabs his wife. . . . Samuel Donaldson is found dead in his bed. . . . Frederick Gebhardt dies suddenly, the result of continued intemperance.

Dec. 12. John Clark dies from injuries received by a pulley falling on his head. . . . Jabez Williams, seaman on the ship China, falls from a stage and is drowned. . . . During a row on Mission Street, H. C. Wright draws his pistol and shoots William F. Patchell. . . . M. A. McLoughlin, during a row with a stranger, on Mission Street, stabs him with a knife. . . . John Brophy dies from the inhaling of noxious gases while cleaning out a cesspool.

Dec. 13. A business difficulty occurring between Christian Wendt and E. Hardenburg, the former cuts the latter across the throat with a sharp instrument.

Dec. 15. Two men, named Fallon and St. Clair, attack a number of policemen; Fallon wounds officer Gillespie. . . . John Bangs, a sailor on the bark Oakland, falls from the maintop-sail yardarm and is killed. . . . W. Hepworth Dixon delivers a lecture at Platt's Hall, on the German Empire.

Dec. 16. James McNamara, who was stabbed so mysteriously on the 10th, dies at the County Hospital. . . . John Murphy, an employe of the railroad, falls between the cars of a freight train, and dies two hours afterwards. . . . A man, named Gallagher, is found dead in his bed. . . . A man, named McEnerry, dies at the County Hospital from the effects of a stab mysteriously inflicted on the ninth inst.

Dec. 17. Two men, named Furlong and Smith, meet in a saloon on Kearny Street, and exchange shots; both are wounded.

Dec. 18. Capt. McDonald's band of trained Indians gives an exhibition at La Grande Armory.

Dec. 19. Samuel J. Perkins, an old man over seventy years of age, drops dead at the Union Box Factory.

Dec. 20. The late Capt. J. D. Cusheon is buried with military honors, in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery. . . . Peter Tasse is fatally stabbed; supposed to have been done by a Chinaman.

Dec. 21. John Sullivan, a child five years old, is crushed by a lumber pile falling on him, on Market Street, near Steuart, and dies in an hour. . . . John Bruns found drowned in the Bay.

Dec. 22. Professor Mulder Fabbri, for many years connected with the musical profession, dies, aged fifty-two years.

Dec. 23. A branch of the Order of Ancient Foresters, is established—the first on the Coast. . . . P. Lawless is found dead in his room. . . . M. G. Cobb, an attorney, is shot by Mrs. Annie Smythe; the wound is not dangerous.

Dec. 24. Edward Alfeck shoots at T. E. Stevens and misses him. . . . A young man, known as Bob, a seaman on board the Three Brothers, falls overboard, and is drowned. . . . W. H. Leaby is found dead in his cell at the City Prison. . . . Capt. Robert Haley, who has been connected with the steamship lines on this coast for twenty-five years, dies.

Dec. 25. Christmas Day is observed by an almost total suspension of business, and by religious services in the different churches. . . . Bernard Lulop, a grain speculator, commits suicide. . . . The race between Katie Pease, Blanche Hull, and Nell Flaherty, won by the first-named. . . . Charles Reese commits suicide.

Dec. 30. Dr. John F. Morse, an old and esteemed citizen, and an influential member of the Order of Odd Fellows, dies.