

Sept. 26. Anthony Trollope, the novelist, arrives from Australia.

Sept. 27. Meeting of former residents of Texas to raise funds for the sufferers by the inundation of Galveston.

Sept. 28. G. W. Mitchell, a laborer on the Palace Hotel, falls from a scaffold and is killed.

Sept. 29. Flood & O'Brien purchase the Selby Shot Tower and Smelting Works.

Sept. 30. Sergeant William Lee, of the Montgomery Guard, accidentally shot and killed at target practice.

Oct. 1. Peter Cleary, a teamster, killed by the falling of a block of marble. . . . Veterans of the New York Seventh Regiment effect a permanent organization.

Oct. 2. The Bank of California resumes business, amid great demonstrations of joy by the public.

Oct. 3. William Saalburg dies of injuries inflicted by a wild bull.

Oct. 4. The San Francisco and Pacific Stock Exchanges are reopened for the transaction of business. . . . The Nevada Bank of San Francisco is opened, with a capital of $5,000,000.

Oct. 6. The new Board of Directors of the Bank of California organize and elect D. O. Mills President.

Oct. 7. A. K. Potter kills his wife, and commits suicide. . . . Charles Miller commits suicide by poisoning. . . . Ernestine Lewinski found dead in his bed. . . . John Sullivan found dead in his bed.

Oct. 9. John Steed falls from a carpenter's stage and is killed. . . . Close of the tenth exhibition of the Mechanics' Institute, after a successful run of forty-seven days. . . . Margaret Cook accidentally drowned in the Bay.

Oct. 10. Rev. Asa Fisk installed as pastor of the Howard Presbyterian Church.

Oct. 12. Reception to General Sheridan by veterans of the California Battalion.

Oct. 13. The Masonic Grand Lodge lays the corner stone of the First Baptist Church.

Oct. 14. Banquet to General Sheridan by prominent citizens. . . . Slight earthquake shock.

Oct. 16. "Alexander" wins the three-mile heat, and $1,000 at the Bay District race track.

Oct. 17. Italians celebrate the anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus. . . . Dead body of Frederick Maher found lying in a back yard.

Oct. 18. H. F. Maass commits suicide.

Oct. 19. Addie Ayres run over and killed by a street car. . . . "Bradley" wins the purse of $2,500, at the Bay District race track.

Oct. 20. The special judicial election passes off quietly, 17,042 votes being polled.

Oct. 22. Shooting tournament of the California Rifle Association begins.

Oct. 25. Capt. Burns, of the Sumner Guard, wins the first prize at the shooting tournament. . . . Thomas Peckham dies of stabs inflicted by James Drungo.

Oct. 26. Panic in stocks on account of the great fire at Virginia City.

Oct. 27. Andrew Lamatre commits suicide.

Oct. 28. Organization of a relief committee to secure aid for the sufferers by the Virginia City fire.

Oct. 20. Run on the National Gold Bank and Trust Company. . . . Death of James Otis, Mayor of San Francisco.

Oct. 31. Michael T. Reddy drowned while bathing.

Nov. 1. The National Gold Bank and Trust Company suspend business.

Nov. 2. Daniel Spring commits suicide by drowning.

Nov. 4. The supervisors elect Dr. George Hewston Mayor.

Nov. 5. Jean Gardere commits suicide by poisoning. . . . The directors of the Gold Bank and Trust Company resolve to wind up its affairs.

Nov. 6. San Francisco's donations for the relief of Virginia City amount to $60,750.

Nov. 7. Death of B. F. Sherwood, a prominent stock-broker.

Nov. 8. News received of the loss of the steamer Pacific with two hundred passengers, at Cape Flattery. . . . The dead body of Patrick Quinn found floating in the bay.

Nov. 9. General prevalence of the epizootic, in a mild form, is noted.

Nov. 10. The Pacific Mail Steamship Company dispatch their first steamer on the Australian route.

Nov. 12. James McDougall dies from injuries inflicted by garroters, six weeks previously.

Nov. 13. The $30,000 running race of the Pacific Jockey Club is postponed on account of bad weather.

Nov. 15. Dedication of the Boys' High School.

Nov. 16. Sudden death of Ex-Harbor Commissioner

Jasper O'Farrell. . . . D. W. C. Thompson tenders his resignation as Major-General of the National Guard of California.

Nov. 17. Edward Sheridan, aged fifteen years, convicted of manslaughter.

Nov. 19. Grand carnival at the Mechanics' Institute Pavilion.

Nov. 20. Caleb T. Fay brings suit to oust Tax Collector Austin, for alleged neglect of duty. . . . The dead body of Louis Cheley found on the beach.

Nov. 21. Edward Keller dies of wounds inflicted upon himself with suicidal intent.

Nov. 23. Bernard Nielson, found drowned in the Bay.

Nov. 24. The Pacific Jockey Club postpone the $30,000 running race until Christmas, and declare the pools off. . . . Tenth annual meeting of the California Prison Commission.

Nov. 25. Observance of Thanksgiving Day by religious services in the churches, and by social festivities.

Nov. 23. David Manning found dead in his bed. . . . Margaret A. Brady found dead in her bed.

Nov. 29. Margaret Stenson falls from a balcony and is killed.

Nov. 30. The St. Andrews Society holds its thirteenth annual banquet. . . . Frederick Sommerville falls into the bay and is drowned.

Dec. 1. A large number of Custom House employees discharged, in conformity with an order from Washington.

Dec. 2. The Bank of California reincorporates.

Dec. 3. Eight Supervisors fined $50 each for contempt of court in disobeying an injunction. . . . S. H. Harrington decoys a broker's clerk to his room in the Palace Hotel, with $3,750, and attempts to rob and murder him.

Dec. 4. The Attorney-General begins proceedings to cancel the patent giving to the Central and Southern Pacific Railroad Companies sixty acres of land in Mission Bay. . . . J. H. Biggs, a tailor, found dead in his shop. . . . Paul Volney commits suicide by shooting.

Dec. 6. The newly elected Supervisors take their seats and Mayor Bryant delivers his inaugural address. . . . Brigadier-General John McComb assumes command of the Second Brigade, N. G. C.

Dec. 8. Mary Johnson found asphyxiated in her room. . . . John Kane, dies of burns caused by the upsetting of a kerosene lamp.

Dec. 9. The dead body of Jules Perin, found on the beach near the Ocean House.

Dec. 10. James O'Malley falls from a plasterer's scaffold and is killed.

Dec. 11. Henry Kaiser, falls from a balcony and is killed. . . . George Doherty, stabbed and killed by Thomas Mitchell. . . . "Defiance" wins the trotting race at the Bay District track for $1,000.

Dec. 12. Charles G. Meyer found drowned in the Bay.

Dec. 14. Trotting race at the Bay District track, for $1,000, won by "Van Voorhies". . . . A Japanese war steamer arrives.

Dec. 15. Rev. Dr. Cunningham resigns the pastorate of the Tabernacle Presbyterian Church. . . . Bankers hold a meeting and determine to establish a Clearing House.

Dec. 17. Asa P. Perry commits suicide by shooting.

Dec. 18. President Hallidie reports that the profits from the late fair of the Mechanics' Institute were $33,830.29. . . . E. Remer commits suicide by poisoning. . . . Death of Gen. C. H. Morgan, at Alcatraz.

Dec. 20. The Pacific Jockey Club decides that the $30,000 race shall come off February 22d, 1876. . . . The Supervisors elect Noah Flood Prosecuting Attorney for the Police Court.

Dec. 22. Death of Major Richard Roman, formerly State Treasurer. . . . Marines from the Japanese frigate bury a dead comrade at Lone Mountain.

Dec. 24. William Holtz run over by a car and killed. . . . Suspension of the Commercial Bank. . . . Ellen Losse kicked to death by her husband.

Dec. 25. Christmas is observed with the customary festivities. . . . The Turn Verein hold inaugural exercises at their new hall. . . . The dead body of William McGregor found floating in the bay.

Dec. 26. The Spanish-American Catholic Church is dedicated.

Dec. 23. Philip Fullman dies of wounds inflicted upon himself with suicidal intent.

Dec. 29. Launch of the bark Pacific Slope, 824 tons, built at the Potrero.

Dec. 30. Mayor Bryant issues a proclamation recommending a celebration at the opening of the centennial year. . . . Aaron M. Tuck found dead in his house.