Colleges and Private Schools.

Notwithstanding the excellence of the free public schools of the city and State, their exemption from direct cost to the pupil or parent, and the great interest taken in them by the public as the nurse and strength of our free institutions, colleges and private schools of great wealth, popularity and importance rise and prosper. That such institutions exist, show the great interest taken in educational matters. The public and private systems are rivals, each stimulating the other, and setting examples of enterprise, management, salaries, edifices, progress and standard of scholarships. There are in San Francisco over one hundred private schools, in which term are included the select school of a few pupils, the seminaries, commercial schools, academies, convent schools, and colleges, with their thousand students. The Census Marshal reported the number of youth attending private and church schools in this city in June, 1885 (not including Chinese) at 8,594. Many of the private schools having edifices of great capacity, cost and grand architectural appearance.

SACRED HEART PRESENTATION CONVENT.—The Sacred Heart Presentation Convent is a fine brick building of ample proportions, located at the corner of Taylor and Ellis streets. This is a chartered college by act of the Legislature and empowered to confer graduating certificates. The school is free of charge to all denominations. It was opened on the 24th of May, 1869, and the number of pupils increasing, made it necessary to enlarge the building, and in 1870 the portion fronting on Ellis street was added. Later on a wing within the enclosure was built, to
