afford more ample facilities for the improvement of pupils in music, needlework, painting, drawing, etc. The institution contains 600 pupils, and is under the charge of Mother Mary Ignatius McDermot.

ST. IGNATIUS COLLEGE.—The St. Ignatius College located on the west side of Van Ness avenue, and extending from Hayes to Grove streets, ranks among the oldest and most prominent of the colleges of San Francisco, opening for the reception of students on October 15, 1855. It was incorporated under the law of the State April 30, 1859, and empowered to confer degrees and academical honors. The number of students usually in attendance is upwards of 600, with a staff of 27 professors and teachers. The college edifice consists of two main buildings, connected by spacious corridors. On the corner of Grove and Van Ness avenue, the first two stories are used for class and lecture-rooms, and the two upper floors as an exhibition hall. The college will accommodate twelve hundred students. The church and college combined front two hundred and ninety feet on Hayes street, and runs through to Grove street, a depth of two hundred and seventy-five feet. It is one of the largest and most magnificent edifices the city contains.

ST. MARY'S COLLEGE.—The St. Mary's College located on the east side of Mission street, or County Road, about four miles from the City Hall, takes rank among the first of our educational institutions. Its edifices are, in an architectural point of view, ornaments to the city, and its location is just far enough from the city to secure the health and quiet of the country, at the same time retaining the benefit of a metropolitan proximity. It is one of the oldest colleges on the coast, and has been under the management of the Christian Brothers since 1863. During the last year there were about 250 students in attendance.

TRINITY SCHOOL.—A boarding school located at 1534 Mission street, whose special scope is the preparation of young men and boys for business, university and college. It deservedly ranks with the best of our private schools and receives a generous support from the community. It is under the control and charge of the Rev. E. B. Spalding, Principal.

UNIVERSITY (CITY) COLLEGE.—The University (City) College, Rev. James Matthews, D.D., principal, is located on the south side of Haight street, between Laguna and Octavia. It was founded in 1859. Although having a nominal connection with the Presbyterian Church, the institution is not under ecclesiastical control, and is unsectarian in its character. The course of study at present prescribed, extends but little further than is needful to fit pupils for entering with advantage a college or university course. The course of study will be extended as rapidly as the students can be prepared for it, and the trustees can provide the means of maintaining a competent Faculty.

COOPER MEDICAL COLLEGE.—Located corner of Sacramento and Webster streets. This college is the successor of the Medical College of the Pacific. Its handsome building was erected in 1882 by Prof. L. C. Lane, and named in honor of the late Prof. E. S. Cooper. Its Faculty consists of L. C. Lane, M.D., Professor of Surgery, and President; C. N. Ellinwood, M.D., Professor of Physiology; A. Barkan, M.D., Professor of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology; J. H. Wythe, M.D., Professor of Microscopy and Histology; Henry Gibbons, Jr., M.D., Professor of Obstetrics, etc., and Dean; William A. Douglass, M.D., Professor of Clinical Surgery; Jos. O. Morse, M.D., Adjunct to Chair of Clinical Surgery; W. S. Whitwell, M.D., Adjunct to Chair of Obstetrics; Chas. E. Farbum, M.D., Demonstrator of Anatomy. A. A. Abrams, M.D., Demonstrator of Pathology. Winter and summer courses of lectures are given yearly. The summer is the regular course. Three regular courses of lectures are required, together with dissections and attendance upon clinics. The regular course begins on the first Monday in June; the intermediate on the second Monday in January. For particulars inquire of Henry Gibbons, Jr., M. D., Dean. Office, 920 Polk street.

THE HAHNEMANN MEDICAL COLLEGE OF SAN FRANCISCO.—Incorporated January 20, 1881. This College opened its first regular session at the College Building on Haight street, June 3d, 1884. The plan of study includes a three-year graded curriculum. Provided with ample facilities for clinical teaching, in a Dispensary connected with the College, the Homeopathic Hospital and all the public hospitals of San Francisco, the Faculty will aim to make the course of instruction thorough and practical in all the subjects pertaining to a high standard in medical science. Its officers are: J. N. Eckel, M. D., President; W. E. Ledyard, secretary; J. A. Albertson, Treasurer. C. B. Currier, M. D., Dean. Office of the Dean, 921 Geary street.

SAN FRANCISCO THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.—The San Francisco Theological Seminary is located at 121 Haight street. This institution was organized by the Synod of the Pacific of the Presbyterian Church, in October, 1871, but is open for students of all denominations. The qualifications for admission and the course of studies are the same as in the oldest and best theological schools in the East. It has a library of over six thousand volumes. The Faculty are: Rev. Drs. Burrows, Alexander and Thompson. Term opens September 1st, and closes May 1st of each year.

CALIFORNIA COLLEGE OF PHARMACY.—The California College of Pharmacy was incorporated August 7, 1872, and affiliated with the University of California, June 18, 1873. The aim of the institution is to unite the pharmacists and druggists of the Pacific States in organized efforts to elevate the special educational standard of the business of the apothecary, by cultivating, improving and diffusing the principles and practice of legitimate pharmacy; its collateral branches of science and the arts; the best modes of rendering available medicinal agents, by giving instructions in the same and in the art of dispensing, by a series of lectures and practical demonstrations. Lectures are given for a term of six months, during each year, at College Building, No. 113 Fulton street.

THE HASTINGS COLLEGE OF THE LAW.—This institution, which is in connection with and under the auspices of the University of California, owes its formation to the munificence of Judge S. C. Hastings, who endowed it with a free gift of $100,000. The act of the Legislature establishing the College authorizes the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco to provide suitable rooms in this city, and makes it mandatory upon the Law Library Association to extend its benefits to the students of the College. It is now located in the building of the Society of California Pioneers, 808 Montgomery street. The number of students is 200. The Faculty are: R. F. Morrison, C. J., President ex-officio; Joseph Winsen, Dean; Perrie Kewen, Registrar. Office of Dean and Registrar, 121 Post street.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.—The Medical Department of the University of California occupy the building formerly known as the Toland Medical College, located on the east side of Stockton street, between Chestnut and Francisco. The building was donated to the University by the late Dr. H. H. Toland. This is an institution of a high character; the Faculty being composed of some of the most prominent members of the medical profession. The course of studies are the same as those pursued in the most prominent colleges of the East and Europe. An annual course of lectures are given, commencing on the first Monday of March and terminating on the 30th of November. R. A. McLean, M. D., Dean. Office 603 Merchant street.
