Colleges and Private Schools.

Notwithstanding the excellence of the free public schools of the city and State, their exemption from direct cost to the pupil or parent, and the great interest taken in them by the public as the nurse and strength of our free institutions, colleges and private schools of great wealth, popularity and importance rise and prosper. That such institutions exist, shows the great interest taken in educational matters. The public and private systems are rivals, each stimulating the other, and setting examples of enterprise, management, salaries, edifices, progress and standard of scholarship. There are in San Francisco over one hundred private schools, in which term are included the select school of a few pupils, the seminaries, commercial schools, academies, convent schools, and colleges, with their thousand students. The School Census Marshal reported the number of youth attending only private and church schools in this city in June, 1890 (including Chinese) at 8,748. Many of the private schools have edifices of great capacity, cost and grand architectural appearance.

IRVING INSTITUTE.—A collegiate boarding and day school, located at 1036 Valencia, where young ladies are prepared for the State University, or graduated after its full academic course. The buildings afford accommodations for sixty boarding pupils. The attendance of the past year exceeded one hundred and twenty-five. Rev. Edward B. Church, M.A., Principal.

SACRED HEART COLLEGE.—The Sacred Heart College, located on the corner of Eddy and Larkin streets, is a wooden structure of three stories high and basement, and covering a large portion of the block. This is conducted by the "Christian Brothers," under the direction of Rev. Brother Genebern. The number of students is 700. The object of this institution is to give a thoroughly Christian and secular education, embracing the classical, scientific and commercial courses.

SACRED HEART PRESENTATION CONVENT.—The Sacred Heart Presentation Convent is a fine brick building of ample proportions, located at the corner of Taylor and Ellis streets. This is a chartered college by act of the Legislature and empowered to confer graduating certificates. The school is free of charge to all denominations. It was opened on the 24th of May, 1869, and the number of pupils increasing, made it necessary to enlarge the building, and in 1870 the portion fronting on Ellis street was added. Later on a wing within the enclosure was built, to afford more ample facilities for the improvement of pupils in music, needlework, painting, drawing, etc. The institution contains about 500 pupils and a teaching staff of 19 Sisters, and is under the charge of Mother Mary Ignatius McDermott.

ST. IGNATIUS COLLEGE.—The St. Ignatius College located on the west side of Van Ness avenue, and extending from Hayes to Grove streets, ranks among the oldest and most prominent of the colleges of San Francisco, opening for the reception of students on October 15, 1855. It was incorporated under the law of the State April 30, 1859, and empowered to confer degrees and academical honors. The number of students usually in attendance is upwards of 600, with a staff of 27 professors and teachers. The college edifice consists of two main buildings, connected by spacious corridors. On the corner of Grove and Van Ness avenue, the first two stories are used for class and lecture-rooms, and the two upper floors as an exhibition hall. The college will accommodate twelve hundred students. The church and college combined front two hundred and ninety feet on Hayes street, and run through to Grove street, a depth of two hundred and seventy-five feet. It is one of the largest and most magnificent edifices the city contains.

TRINITY SCHOOL.—A boarding school located at 1534 Mission street, whose special scope is the preparation of young men and boys for business, university and college. It deservedly ranks with the best of our private schools and receives a generous support from the community. It is under the control and charge of the Rev. E. B. Spalding, Principal.

WESTMINSTER SCHOOL.—Formerly University College, Rev. James Matthews, D.D., principal, is located on the south side of Haight street, between Laguna and Octavia. It was founded in 1859. Although having a nominal connection with the Presbyterian Church, the institution is not under ecclesiastical control, and is unsectarian in its character. The course of study at present prescribed, extends but little further than is needful to fit pupils for entering with advantage a college or university course. The course of study will be extended as rapidly as the students can be prepared for it, and the trustees can provide the means of maintaining a competent Faculty.

ANDERSON'S NORMAL SCHOOL.—Located at Rooms 5-7, Odd Fellows' Building, has for its objects the preparation of persons for the profession of teaching and the "teachers' examinations" in this and other counties of the State.

COOPER MEDICAL COLLEGE.—Located corner of Sacramento and Webster streets. This college is the successor of the Medical College of the Pacific. Its handsome building was erected in 1882 by Prof. L. C. Lane, and named in honor of the late Prof. E. S. Cooper. An addition, equally large, was erected in 1890, also by Prof. Lane. Its Faculty consists of L. C. Lane, M. D., Professor of Surgery, and President; C. N. Ellinwood, M. D., Professor of Physiology; A. Barkan, M. D., Professor of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology; Joseph H. Wythe, M. D., Professor of Microscopy and Histology; Henry Gibbons, Jr., M. D., Professor of Obstetrics, etc., and Dean; Jos. O. Hirschfelder, M. D., Professor of Clinical Medicine; Clinton Cushing, M. D., Professor of Gynecology; W. D. Johnston, M. D., Professor of Chemistry and Toxicology; R. H. Plummer, M. D., Professor of Anatomy; Charles H. Steele, M. D., Professor of Materia Medica and Therapeutics; Samuel O. L.
