ASSOCIATED CHARITIES. Organized March, 1888, with a unique and comprehensive field outlined for thoughtful and practical work. Quoting Rev. F. G. Peabody, the Central Council defines its objects thus: "The old charity satisfied the feelings of the giver by alms; the new charity educates the receiver to do without alms. The old charity was temporary relief; the new charity is continuous education. It is better charity to find work than to relieve want; better charity to teach a trade than to encourage mendicancy; better charity to provide stimulus for thrift than to make thrift unnecessary." Central office, 601 Commercial street. Meets every Friday at 3:30 p. m., at 601 Commercial street. Officers—B. P. Flint, President; John M.
