

Do you wait for the DIAL TONE before dialing?

That "dial tone," a steady hum, is the signal that the equipment is ready to receive a call. It corresponds to an operator's "Number, please?"

Usually the dial tone is heard almost instantly when the receiver is lifted. But if the central office equipment is operating at more than capacity, there may be a few seconds' wait before it is heard.

When you dial before hearing the tone, you prevent the equipment from getting you your number. You also prevent it from completing calls for other users.

Waiting for the dial tone helps the service to serve all.
