Dedication

We all like to think of ourselves as mature young adults, and yet it seems that we often require a substitute parent to take us by the hand and help us through the maze of life in high school and the world outside. This thankless task fell to someone here at Ells who also happens to be a great personal friend of many of us. In appreciation and gratitude for the many hours spent helping us choose colleges and careers, chauffeuring us to meetings and symposiums, and preparing transcripts and scholarship applications, we, the Class of 1963, would like to repay Mr. Burton Johnson in a very small way by dedicating this Argus to him.

HISTORY OF

RALPH BARBOUR
President

*A*ERE WE ARE, the Seniors of 1963. Sophisticated, nonchalant, sure that we're just what the world is looking for. We have a thousand sentimental memories, and we're not above reliving them. In our minds our three years here pass in review . . .

We hit the campus dazed and confused, but determined to make ourselves and our class known. Not having had a freshman year together, the 600 of us converging from five different junior highs are more disorganized than previous soph classes. But soon we have set about making one group of many, experimenting in friendships with kids from other schools. Our first "activity" is the election that places the gavel in Daryl Chinn's hand and designates Jan Berg his assistant and Sue Cipolla his scribe. We unite further as we join Y-clubs and school organizations, attend a succession of rallies and football games and dances, try out for teams. The soph girls, wishing to support the "Little Red Machine," organize a pom-pom line; glass-breaking shrieks are heard from the senior girls, and suddenly it's Open War among the females. They get us to give up our pomponers, but we star our girls in the first school assembly. As first semester rips along, we elect Sue Cipolla to represent us in Sharon Wonnenberg's Homecoming court. We show our spirit by winning a number of rally banners, and proudly point to the B team's no-defeat record. Second semester drags along while we hold cake sales and put out club editions, and suddenly it's time for our wonderful Soph Hop, "Starlight on the Pacific." From then on we kind of coast along, counting the days 'til summer and the demise of geometry and World History and then . . . we are Juniors! This time we are led by lanky Dave Calfee, with Bruce Mills and Linda Pilotte assisting. The annual Junior dance, "One More Time" (soon to be dubbed

JANE TATGE
Secretary

CLASS OF '63

"The Rubber Chandelier"), is, naturally, Ells most successful. Somehow we manage to learn something in chem, though Penny Truitt earnestly believes in sifting sand and sugar.

We elect Karen Blue to Bev Stadig's Homecoming court, and Linda Hilty leads us again at games and rallies. We realize we're getting older as we apply for Exchange Student, take the USAT, and sit half-paralyzed through a grueling five-hour National Merit Test (the all-too-early morning after a hectic but successful Rummage Sale). We go to submarine races at Cragmont and Grizzly Peak, block traffic near Mel's and Edy's and La Val's. Then it's Prom time, and we attend our never-to-be-forgotten trip around the world, "Exotica," which is successful thanks to Ralph Barbour and in spite of broken punch bowls and timid folksingers. And suddenly we are trying out for pom-pom and cheerleader, running for SA and class offices, and looking forward to our first days as . . . SENIORS! We all come to school decked out that first day in our as-yet unworn red vests, proud to be members of the class led by Ralph Barbour and veep Linda Sartor and secretary Jane Tatge. For weeks we let homework slide as we work and practice under the able direction of Miss Lane and Jan Berg, so that our first activity, the Ganza dubbed "Flavius' Follies," is completely successful in building both our treasury and our class spirit.

College applications, SATs, and job interviews begin to worry us, but we manage to be rowdy in the traditional manner. Somehow, we take time out for a Royal Fanfare for Homecoming Queen Penny Truitt and Attendants Phyllis Washington and Karen Blue. And then the weeks of counting pennies, hunting through fashion magazines, dieting surreptitiously, and flirting outrageously pay off as we enjoy our Senior Party, "More Formal Than Normal" at the lavish Athens Club. The Spaghetti Dinner replenishes our treasury, and two weeks later we stuff ourselves to the gills at the Senior Banquet as we enjoy the romantic view below Kensington. Third quarter we become victims of Senioritis, coasting now that transcript-pressure is off. The hilarious Sadie Hawkins soon snaps a lot of fellas out of their complacent attitudes, and augments our treasury as well. Casual Day there is a gallant but soggy attempt by Senior Guys to block the Main with bicycles. Soon it's fourth quarter, and the picnic and Ball come in rapid succession to relieve the pressure of Final finals and the knowledge that we will soon be leaving. Then it's Commencement and we gather afterwards for one last activity at the All-Night Party at Contra Costa College. Soon we bid one another goodbye, and go off to new friends, new schools, new jobs. But somehow we realize it will never be quite the same, for we have given much to Ells, and Ells has given much to us.

LINDA SARTOR
Vice President

Matinez, Anderson, Robinson, and Jackson in a wild day of journalism.

Hudson shows the difficulty of eating as Bryant looks on.

Now, if I can grab the M & M's before he gets done. . .

You would like to have some to, wouldn't you?

KING ME!!

Somebody turn off the laughing gas.

It looks like you've got a banana in your ear too.

"That little o'l wine maker, me!"

Everyone awaits their chance to play grownup!

"FLAVIUS"

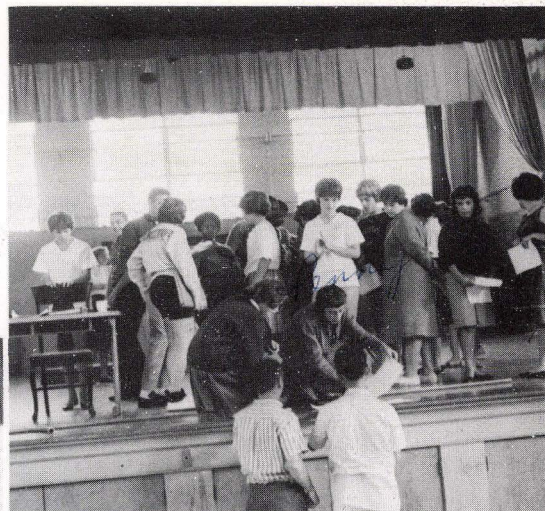

Like Pam and I say, "vote for public baths!"

M,i,c,—k,e,y—m,o,u,s,e

So this is how Marlin Monroe started!!

"I pray everything goes well tonight!"

"Bang" beat you to the draw again!!

"Linda, have you ever tried Cloettes!!?"

"Ya, that's the cup I spit in earlier. Why?"

"Are you sure the Minuet is the latest dance?"

"Ralph I stopped by the doctors today and guess what—?"

"MORE FORMAL THAN NORMAL" was the theme of the Senior Class of 63. The party was held at the Athens Club, January 11, 1963, in Oakland from 8 p.m. to midnight.

The Seniors danced to the music provided by Benny's band.

Stephanie Cherniak is to be commended on the excellent job of

A black and white photograph of a group of six people, three men and three women, standing together in a formal setting. The men are wearing suits and ties, and the women are wearing light-colored, short-sleeved dresses. They are standing in front of a large, ornate building with a striped awning visible on the right side.

"Hey Clyde, that perfume bother you too?"

"She's a great conversationalist, with other people."

decorations. Ivy and assorted colors of roses dressed up the already pretentious Club. The fireplace helped to create a romantic atmosphere for the dance.

The refreshments, under Lynn Dixon consisted of h'or d'oeuvres, potato chips, carrots, celery and dip and punch.

Jack, if Larry pinches one more time I'm going to scream.

Dick Claeys of St. Mary's College served as master of ceremonies.

SENIOR

The entertainment captured everyone's attention but Gail's; she was too busy checking through purses.

Did I enjoy my Meal?!

Jim Schenck, who has been featured at the Cal Cabaret, sang and strummed for our pleasure.

Was the food too much — or the entertainment?

BANQUET

Obviously, Mr. Berman is enjoying the entertainment.

Poor Arnie has had to put up with these two all night!

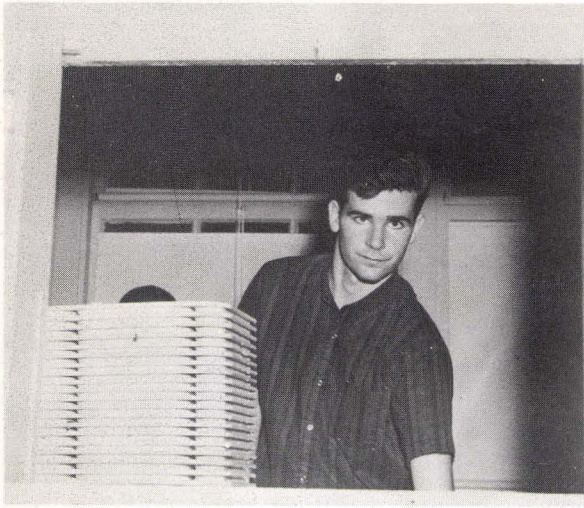

And the big boys bring out the tobacco and become men . . .

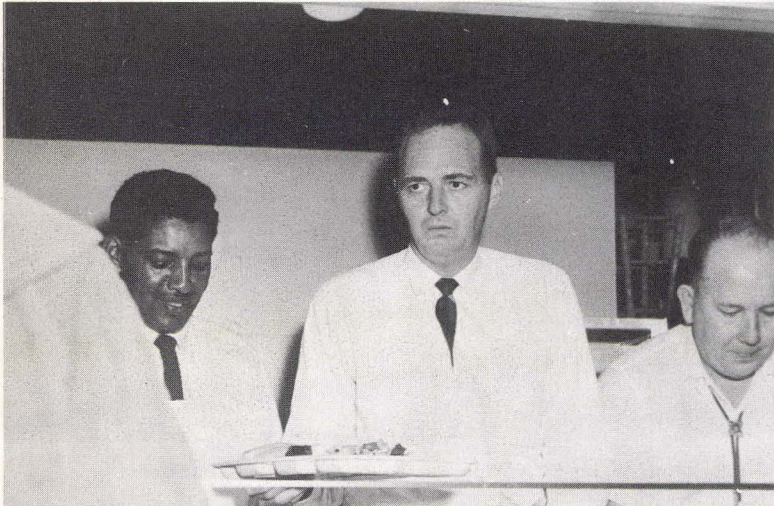

"Listen, fellas! Are you sure you know what you're doing?"

SENIOR SPAG

ABOVE: Mother, please! I'd rather do it myself!
RIGHT: That fool Dave Calfee may be looking at the camera, but I'm not!

The Senior Spaghetti Dinner, held in the school cafeteria on February 13, came as sort of "financial buffer" between the Party (January 11) and the Banquet (February 21) — two of our most expensive activities. Upwards of $120 went into our much-worked treasury.

General Chairman Linda Hilty worked long hours before the 5:00 to 8:00 feed following our victorious basketball game with RUHS — even to the LEFT: But, Judge Calfee, you've got to admit that our spaghetti is better than thirty days on bread and water! CORNER: Ivory Liquid helps keep our hands soft and lovely. BELOW: And now, Macaroni's Golden Moments of Opera by the Three Meatballs Plus 2.

HETTI DINNER

extent of giving up her George Washington holiday to make sauce under the direction of Ralph's grandfather. Linda's committee chairmen included the following: Serving, Gary Williams; tickets, Janet Yasuhiro; decorations Gail McAllister; publicity, Marie Fostiak; cleanup, Ralph Barbour. Entertainment (the first time ever provided for a Spaghetti Dinner) was furnished by the Three Meatballs Plus Two, alias Joan Delahay, Steve Hundley, Bruce Mills, Tom Heinzl, and Dan Bright.

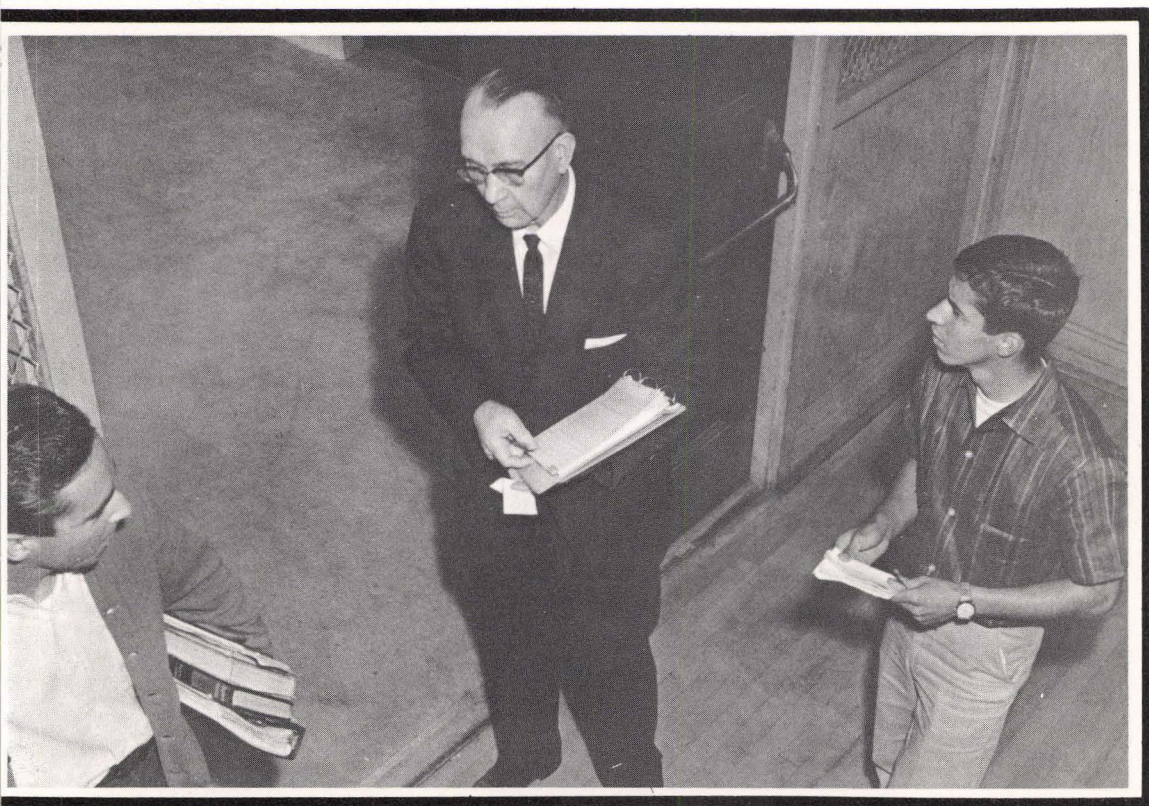

RIGHT: And the multitudes enjoyed (?) our senior culinary skills . . . CORNER: "I never saw a wine-bottle get lit before!" BELOW: No cause for alarm, folks — they're not really looking at worms in that spaghetti.

The American Field Service was started by a group of American ambulance drivers who experimented with a group of college students from 17 different colleges to promote international peace. Today there are 57 countries participating in the program with 2,500 students entering into the program and 1,700 leaving. They live with foster families during their stay.

The four students on this page were finalists for this year's summer trip abroad from Harry Ells. They are, from left to right: Karen Hoffman, Barbara Boonstoppel, Susan Kano and Fel-ice Offril.

The Tech-Class of the '62-63' term, in its first year, was composed of 29 Ells Juniors. The 29 were chosen mainly because of their mechanical backgrounds and wish to enter into future jobs of Technology. The purpose of the course was also created for the technical-minded students who could be successful without the difficulties of the highly competitive, College Pep course.

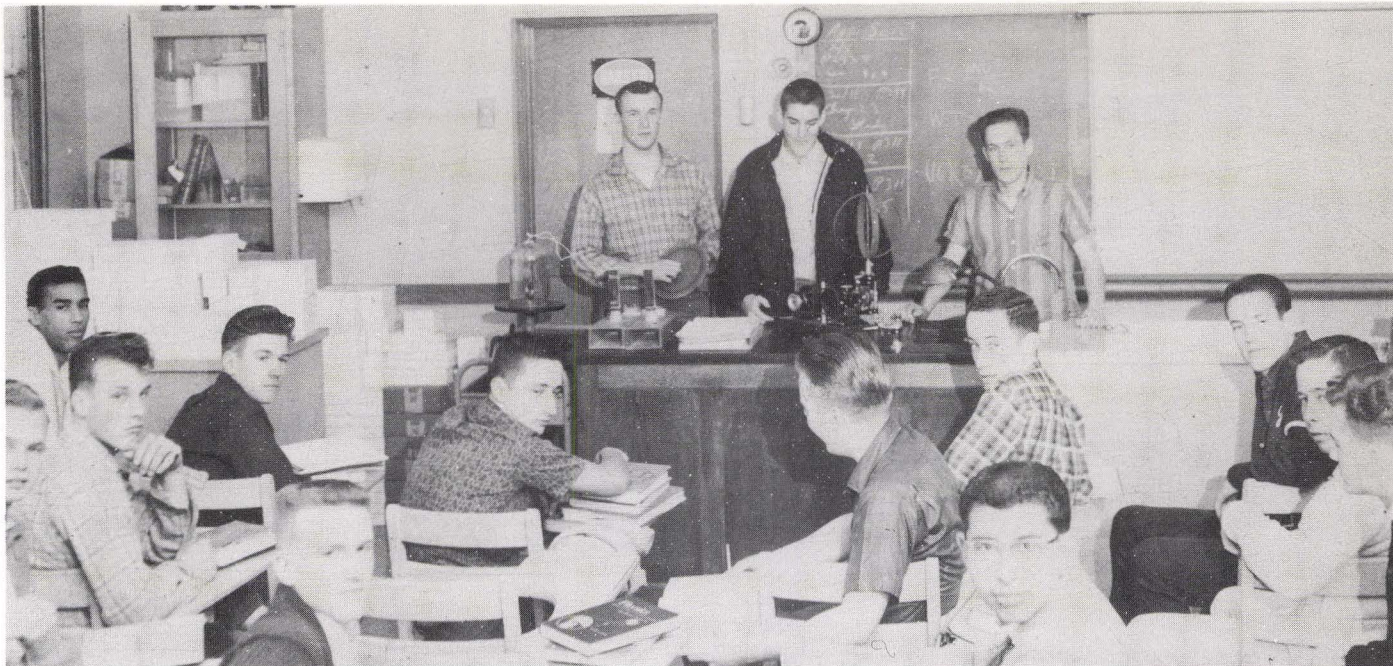

Graduates of the Tech course would be eligible for two and four year programs in Technical institutes.

The "Richmond Plan," basis of the Pre-Tech program, was the Brainchild of Ells Math instructor, Mr. Baughman and counselor, Mr. Johnson and was extended for use at De Anza.

Events during the year included field trips to IBM of San Jose and to the A. E. C. Lawrence Radiation Lab in Livermore.

Visitors such as industrial engineers and representatives, University representatives, and various Bay Area school officials observed the class in action.

Harry Ells' first Pre-Tech class looks forward to its Senior year with the appointment of summer jobs in Bay Area engineering industries.

FOOTBALL SYNOPSIS

1962 - 1963

This second year under Head Coach Lee Schroeder turned out to be another successful year for the Eagles' Red Machine, which has in past years ended up on the bottom of the heap. By decisively taking the last five games straight (and a non-league contest with Oakland Tech.) the mighty single-wing crew finished third in the A.C.A.L., one of the toughest leagues around anywhere.

"The worst (the beginning of the season, that is) and the best team I've ever coached." So says Coach Schroeder, who after ironing out early-season wrinkles put on the field one of the hottest teams in the Bay Area.

The Eagles were led again this year by stalwart fullback Carl Bradford (All A.C.A.L. pick for the 2nd year), and also up-and-coming Rick Cortese (a Junior who will be back next year—along with 14 other lettermen—to lead the Eagles for title contention). Travis Williams (1st defensive team) and Durrey Haynes (2nd defensive team) were others who along with Bradford made All League.

After losing the opener to rival foe El Cerrito on fumbles and mistakes which were "chalked up" to inexperience, the Eagles came back strong, beating Oakland Tech. 26-6. The Red and White Machine was then halted by the invincible Alamedans and the single-wing was clipped 26-0. Then on some "Black Friday" the Eagles went down in heart-rending defeat to Berkeley 25-0, though outclassing the Yellowjackets on first downs and total net yards. From then on there was no stopping the single-winged Eagles. The Ells gridders rolled over their last five opponents (including traditional foes, De Anza 26-7 and Richmond 13-0), giving them a 6-3 record and earning them the third-place berth in League standings.

This year marked another first in Ells' grid history. The long-sought-for stadium was finally finished and the Eagles played two games on their new Nicholl Park home-field (both were winners against Encinal and Richmond).

The future is very bright for the single-wing and the fame it is winning for Ells in the A.C.A.L. Next Year—All League Champs?

The third annual Block "E" Homecoming Game was held at Nicholl Park. This was the first time it had ever been held on our own home field.

To add to the excitement of the game, the announcement of the queen was to be made at half time.

By the look on Penny Truitt's face, it's easy to detect the surprise and pleasure the newly won crown has given her.

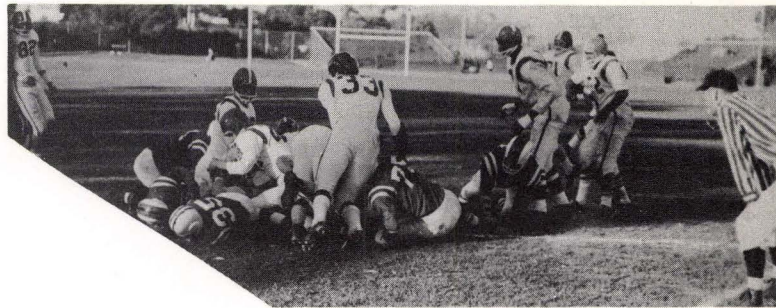

The three finalists for the homecoming were (right to left) Phyllis Washington, Karen Blue and Penny Truitt. The attendants were Cheryl Christian, Junior, and Linda Reid, Sophomore.

All's well that ends well, it is said, and coach Lee Bradford's Ells High School football team couldn't have ended its campaign in sweeter fashion than its 13-0 victory over Richmond yesterday on the Eagles' Nicholl Park gridiron.

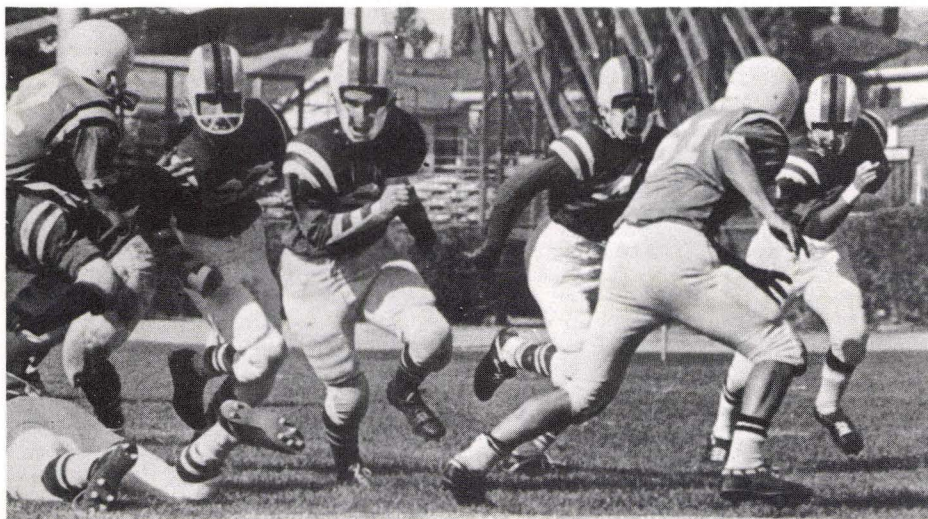

"This was our best game by far this year," beamed Schroder, who thus tucked away his 6-3 won and lost record in two seasons, good for a third place finish.

The triumph punctuated a remarkable comeback for the Eagles, who had lost their three league games, and finish in the last five to quest for a first place finish.

BASKETBALL 1963

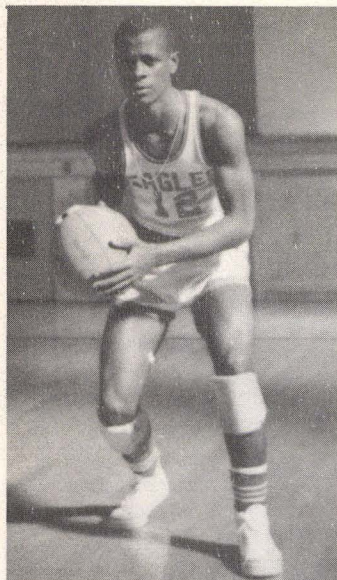

At the end of the 1962 basketball season there was a complete departure of varsity lettermen. Not one player would be back for 1963. There seemed little hope for a championship team when the 1963 season finally began. The season looked promising, as the Eagles won their first three league games behind the scoring of such unknowns as Carl Adams and Gary Lloyd. Jumping Bill Overstreet added the "class" of a winning club. But the Eagles were small, with little experience and ended the first half with four losses. The second half nearly started like the first, with the Eagles winning three out of their first four games. But this was a new club with the addition of 6' 5" Wesley Russel, the long-needed "big man" that most clubs have. The fast-breaking Eagles went on to finish the second half of the A.C.A.L. campaign with only two losses. The deciding game that prevented the Eagles from entering the TOC was the rematch with Berkeley. At the end of that game there was little talking in the dressing room, until Coach Kamb, with a nonchalant smile, wrote one word on the blackboard: GRIDLEY.

The Eagles entered Gridley one Thursday afternoon as underdogs to Encinal and Bishop O'Dowd. The first night the Eagles came from behind a deficit of 9 points to beat the hustling San Jose cagers. The Eagles immediately gained the support of the Gridley fans. The following evening was the big test. Could the Ells quintet take a club that had won 38 out of its last 39 games? It seemed improbable. But the final was 54 to 48 in favor of Ells. The Eagles had come from 10 points behind to win.

The crowd loved the spectacular Billy Overstreet, the consistent Carl Adams, and the rebounding of Gary Lloyd and Wesley Russell. The big night finally came—the championship game against the highly favored O'Dowd five. At the half the Eagles found themselves 9 points behind. But at the end of the second half the Eagles had "found themselves" and were 9 points in the lead. Ells had won the G.I.B.T. 69-60, with Carl Adams and Billy Overstreet scoring 26 points apiece. Overstreet and Adams were chosen for the All-Tourney Team.

The Harry Ells High School Eagles had ended the 1963 basketball season by bringing home a championship trophy.

A first place in the All-City Meet and second place at ACAL Championships were the two highlights of Ells Cross Country team's successful season. Lead by Jr. Dale Fordham, who was first in ACAL, and Sr. Ron Terrazas the team ran better than any of its predecessors here at Ells. Ron Terrazas, Dale Fordham, Jim Douglas, Dennis Fordham, Scott Gordon, Ed Nicks, Tom Smith, Jim Minami all won their letters. Next year should be very promising in that there is a majority of lettermen returning.

Swimming '63

Calm coach Randolph gently encourages swimmers

Despite the loss of four graduated varsity swimmers, including Ralph Kendrick, AAU champ, this year's team has rallied, improved, and tallied up an impressive score of victories over such competitors as Riodan, Washington, Richmond, Albany, and San Ramon.

The highest scoring varsity mermen are Dave Calfee—our 400 freestyle and 100 freestyle swimmer; Courtney Stanley—the 100 and 50 freestyle; Jim Pease—swimming the 100 butterfly and 200 individual medley; Tom Peel—in the 200 freestyle, and Ralph Barbour—swimming the 100 breaststroke.

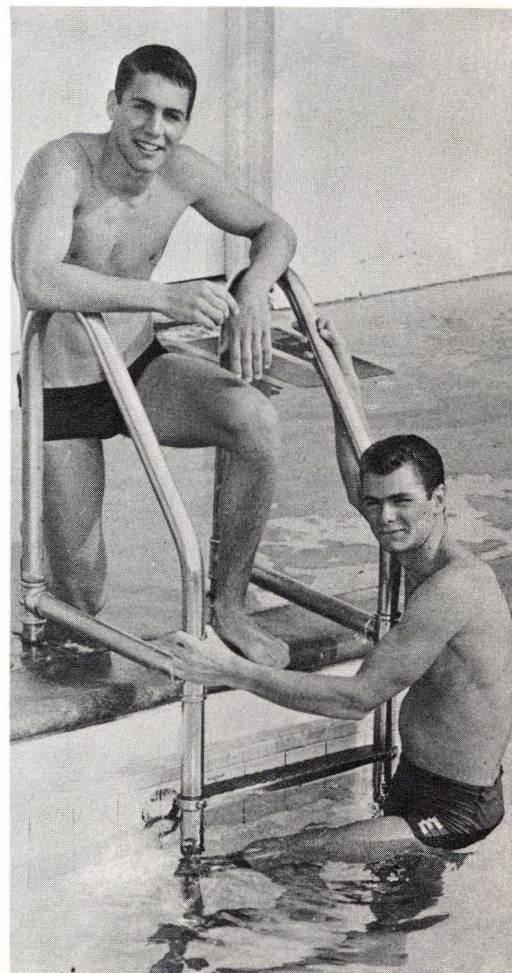

Also, our new varsity diver, Dan Clarno, has shown more than just potential ability by taking first in six straight meets.

Bob Boonstopple, John Patnott, Chuck Schultz, and Tom Bishop all give the team a strong depth.

The year of 1963 has marked an epic in the annals of Harry Ells High School athletics. The fall produced the best football performance in history, and the basketball season was of the highest caliber. But little is ever mentioned of the first-rate tennis team produced this year.

During the spring, Ells is not known for its tennis powers, but rather for the baseball, track, and swimming talent. Tennis is an unappreciated and under-rated sport. The stamina and skill of the accomplished tennis player has no equal.

Through the 1963 season, the tennis "bums" of Ells have set a precedent for others to follow. This team, consisting of Ron Noon, Larry Cebull, Bob Miller, Craig Solodyna, Sam Weeks, Felice Ofiril, Ray Johnson, Bill Buechner, and Andrew (Ben) Jong, winning all but two of its league matches, tied for first place.

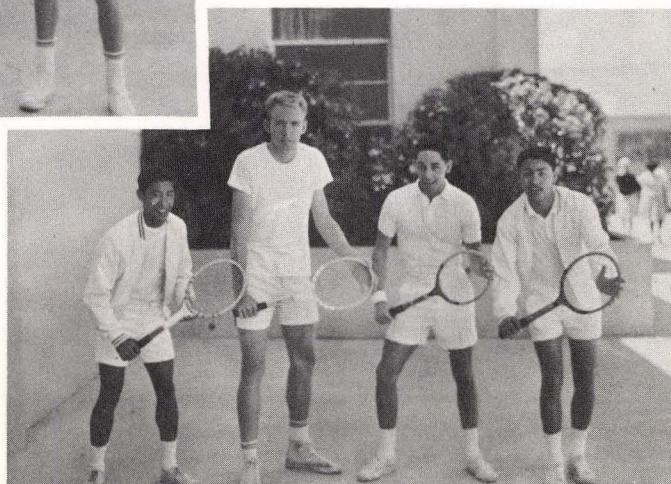

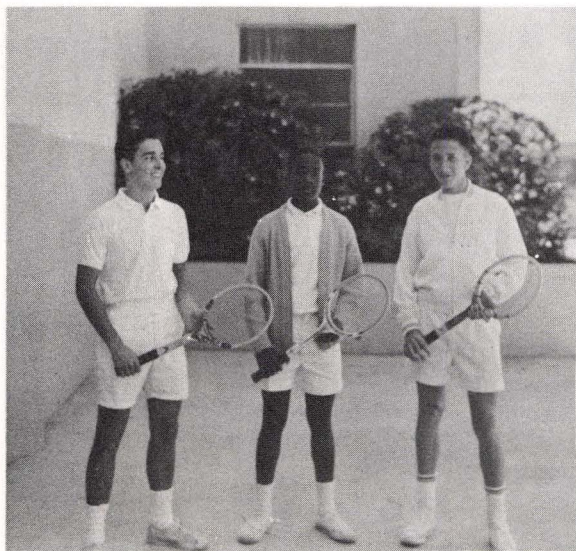

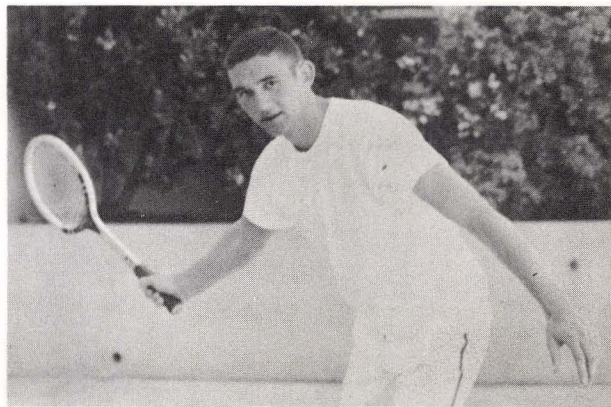

Coached by Ron Kamb the team improved with every match. It is ironic that the two matches lost were the first and the last. In losing the finale of the season, Ells was placed as ACAL Co-Champions.

This team will be remembered and may act as a catalyst in creating enthusiasm toward a forgotten sport.

"Arriving, San Francisco Airport August 28th, 10:00, T.W.A." This telegram told us Jayashree Kokatay from Bombay, India was at last arriving after many delays. We were so excited and a little scared: would we ever get to really know each other? How good would her English be? Would she like Ray Charles? Would she like my Mother's cooking?

Our family stood at that airport window expecting a piece of India to get off the plane, a sari-clad something that was a little mysterious, with long dark hair and big eyes and all the serenity of Ghandi. Instead a very frightened and tired little bird in a turquoise sari met us timidly.

Jai's first day at her new home was spent in bed, sleeping. There was never any problem about getting used to each other. American Field Service in New York had trained her so well to agree with her American family, that she wouldn't give us a definite answer on anything if she thought it would upset us. But you know Jai, you know she couldn't stand this for long; within two days it was as if she had always been here! within two weeks she was a real member of the family.

My sister, Jai and I have become very close. I think it may be because she likes Ray Charles! We have exchanged so much, though; now I wear saris and she wears pants. Both she and Susan (my other sister) love to paint and we all hate to do the dishes.

If only I could tell you what has happened since Jai has been with us — but the only way you'll really know is to apply for a foreign student yourself.

SADIE HAWKINS

Umm . . . I don't know if I want to go through with this now.

Ah, Sandy, she should pay.

Hee-hee-hee, Rich sure opened his mouth that time.

Do I have to give her my real name?

She wants to know if she has to kiss him.

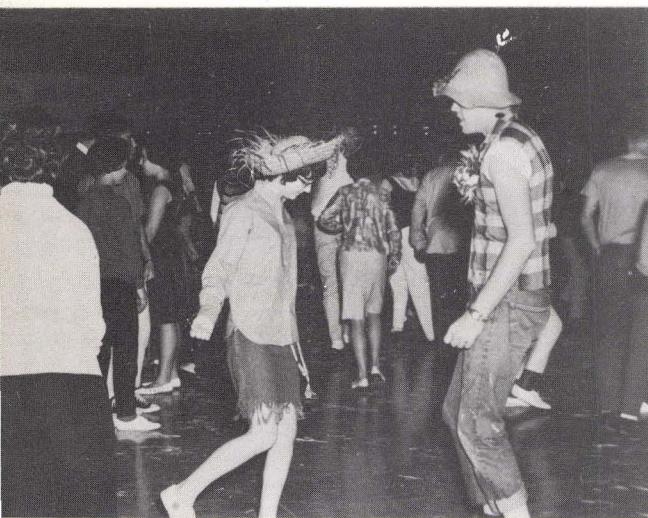

Dee was sneaky when taking these candid. No one saw him . . . or did they?

No, no, no! Put the ring on her finger not yours!

No, they're not going to fight, they're dancing.

I just asked him to marry me and is he tickled.

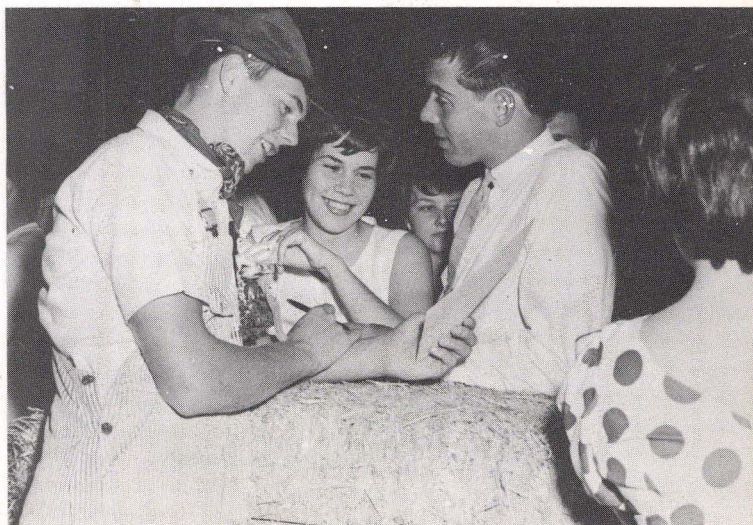

Keep lookin' Courtney, I know Tom's out there somewhere.

I got out of it!!

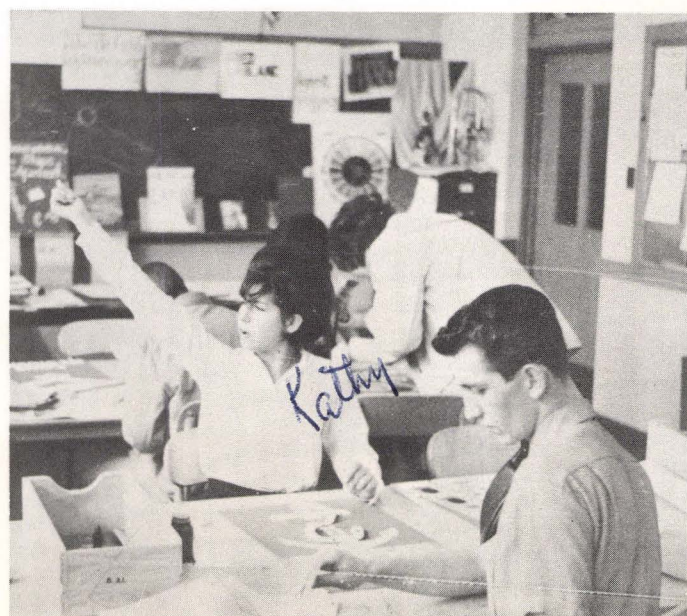

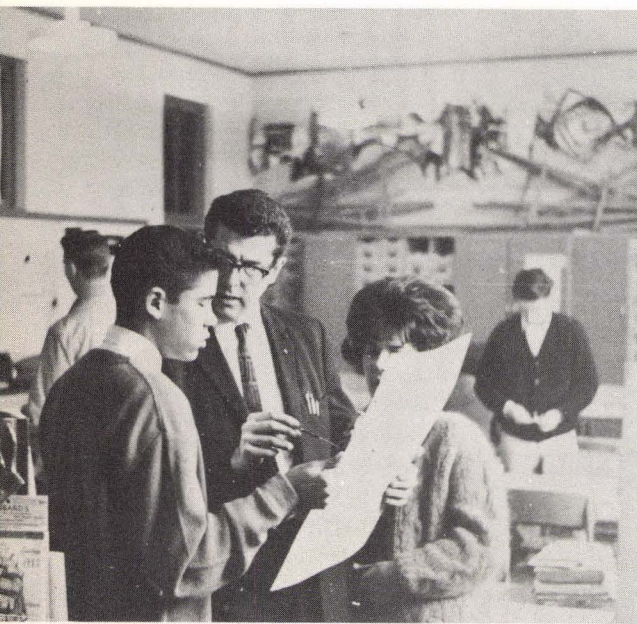

Mr. Thompson sure looks mad. What no Daisy Mae?

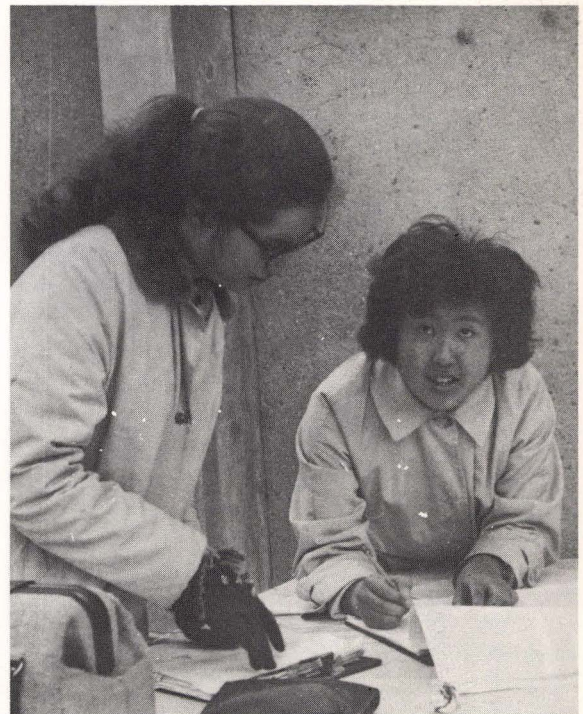

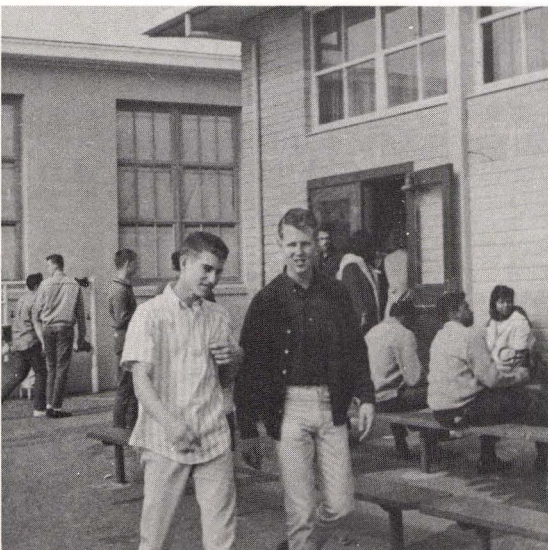

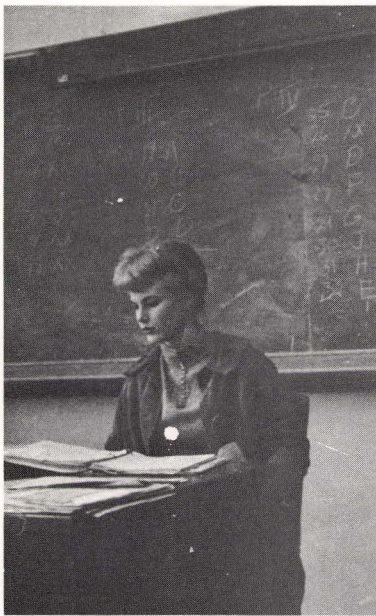

He said "unofficial" so you can quit smiling.

CASUAL DAY COMES BACK TO ELLS

You a real nut but so am I, but that's beside the point. Look at my picture I drew myself one of Olive Oil, but of course that's who I am already. Well anyway the best of luck to you always.
