Theme

Because Mission work and play is not just a thing of school hours alone; because Mission spirit does not end at 3:10 every weekday afternoon, but is active twenty-four hours around the clock; and because Mission friendships go on after the school doors are closed; we, the 1948 Journal staff, have chosen as our theme a phrase that typifies our feeling for Mission—"Night and Day."

Dedication

Because the "Mission" is a long-established Mission tradition, produced traditionally by and for the Senior class, the Journal staff—seniors and otherwise — dedicate the 1948 "Mission" to the seniors of the Class of 1948.

MR. LOUIS G. CONLAN, Principal

Mission Principal

Mr. Conlan knows Mission grounds well.
This is in Girls' Court.

I want to extend my most sincere congratulations to the members of the graduating classes represented in this publication and to offer my very best wishes for success in the future.

During the past twelve years, society has provided for you an adequate education. Your obligation, in return, is to make every effort to become outstanding, loyal, substantial citizens of our country; to perpetuate our American democracy so that the many benefits which you have received will pass on to those who are to follow.

Mission High School graduates have achieved distinction in every worth-while field of human endeavor, a fact which should make you proud to be graduates of this fine school. This should also be encouraging, for you have a similar foundation upon which to build a successful future.

MR. JOSEPH B. NEWMAN

MISS LENA M. MORRILL

Mission Administrators

JOSEPH B. NEWMAN

Missionites find it hard to specify Mr. Joseph B. Newman's chief claim to fame. A loyal Mission graduate, the Vice-Principal and Dean of Boys founded the "West Wing" twenty-five years ago. Now he gives advice and help to Mission's boys. Though he's probably heard every excuse in the book, he's still ready to bend a sympathetic ear to a young lad's troubles. In addition to his administrative activities, Mr. Newman helps any school activity that can use his services.

LENA M. MORRILL

"The Dorothy Dix of Mission High" might be Miss Lena M. Morrill's nickname, were it not for the fact that our Dean of Girls does much more than give advice and listen to girls' problems. In addition, she takes a positive part in solving the problems, or easing the troubles, of Mission's girls; and is an actively sympathetic friend to all of them all year 'round. In a recent statement to the Journal, she said:

"I extend best wishes to the graduates of the Senior Class of 1948. I hope they achieve success in their chosen work, and that their success is based upon honesty and integrity."

Mr. Newman and Miss Morrill talk things over in the office.

Faculty

Capable and hard-working faculty members set the pace for Mission's 2,200 students, day in and day out, offering training in high-flown scientific and academic subjects, as well as in a wide variety of practical vocational courses. They are aided and abetted by the counselling staff, headed by Mrs. Thelma Baxter. The counsellors, who combine teaching with their advisory work, devote valuable time helping many a confused Missionite make the decision between career vs. college; placing Mission students in good after-school and full-time jobs; and guiding pupils to a balanced high school diet that will fit their post-graduate needs.

MRS. THELMA G. BAXTER

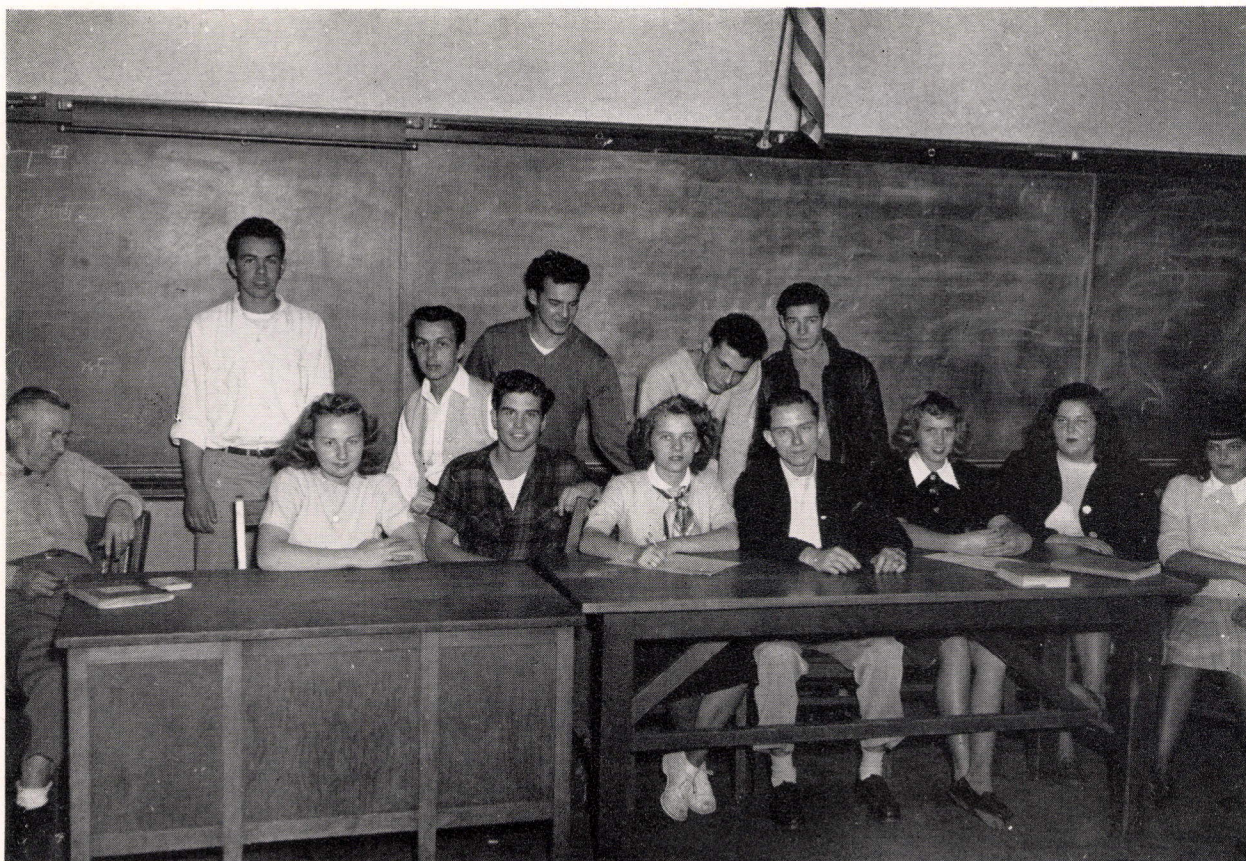

Mr. Newman toasts Miss Marraccini and Mrs. Hoernig with some after-lunchtime coffee.

Fall . . . Student

Under the leadership of handsome, serious Student Body President Don Jones, the fall term executive board lists several constructive accomplishments to its credit. Among them were the purchase of new football uniforms and basketball uniforms.

School clean-up occupied the energies of student leaders early in the term; and the semi-annual student body drive enjoyed a particularly successful term, as the school "thermometer" hovered around the 100 per cent mark. Vice-president Mabel Weeks, popular and energetic, helped Don; and as president of the Girls' League gave the school a good League assembly and Senior Tea.

Other officers were Claire Kirby, recording secretary; Marge Parsons, girls' financial secretary; Chuck Drews, boys' financial secretary; Dorothy Patridge, girls' athletic manager; Dick Karner, boys' athletic manager; and Pete T'Souvas, yell leader.

FALL EXECUTIVE BOARD

DON JONES

Government . . . Spring

Under the guidance of President Jack Feldman and Vice-President June Henry, student activities in Spring 1948 received thorough attention. Particularly important to Executive Board and Student Senate agendas was the problem of clean-up, and an extensive program was developed to improve school appearances. Under the plan, each class was responsible for policing a certain section of the building and grounds, and penalties were levied against the class whose section failed to meet the accepted standard. The threat of no assemblies soon saw classes competing against each other for a goal of super-clean hallways. New book covers, a juke box, new instruments for the band, a trophy for the championship baseball team, and a host of popular assemblies were a few of the items that Spring student officers brought to Mission. Student Senate revived the old Bear Society late in the term, and was instrumental in rallying school support for the Journal.

SPRING EXECUTIVE BOARD

MISS MARY NEWMAN looks on admiringly as Miss Florence Nordholz shows some of the work done by pupils in her clothing classes.

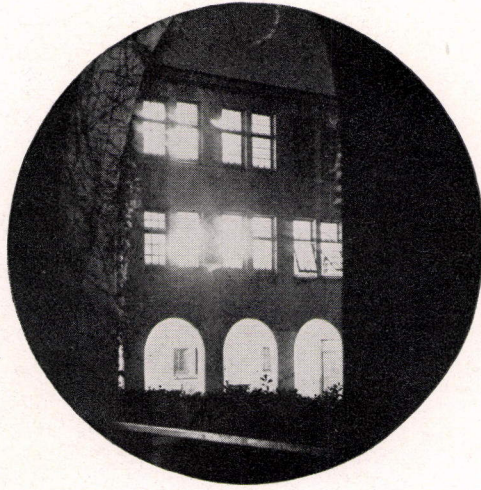

GOAL! OR CLOSE to it, anyway, as the gals get a little sunshine in along with the very serious business of winning a soccer game.

THE BIG THREE in charge of wayfar-ing Missionites don't seem too perturbed in this picture. L. to r., they are Mr. Newman, Miss Morrill, and Mr. Mietz.

Classroom Scenes:

Test tubes and bunson burners play an important part in the lives of chemistry students. . . . Young scientists concoct strange mixtures. . . . Low and high sophomores look forward to moving downstairs at the move-up assemblies. . . . Social Goal classes prepare students for life after graduation. . . . The course is divided into six sections of three weeks each with each teacher . . . psychology and family relations seem to rank high among students. . . . Extra credits are earned by students selling in the girls' cafe fourth and fifth period . . . their jobs vary from selling those "oh-so-popular" hot dogs to taking over the cash register. . . . A popular class is Mr. John Leith's public speaking course . . . debating teams are made up of students from this class.

IT'S THAT LOOK THAT GET'S 'EM, as Mr. Joseph B. Newman, Dean of Boys, fixes his eagle eye on the fellow entering the door with yesterday's cut slip in his hand. Stoutest hearts have been known to quail under the gaze of Mr. Newman's "double whammies."

Bears at Work and Play

A typical high senior registry starts off another day. . . . Students hear about the Student Senate meetings and decisions. . . . Class activities are discussed among students after school business is taken care of. . . . Always a popular course, the sketching class is responsible for the many interesting posters along the second floor hall. . . . The clean-up campaign started off with a bang this term . . . different classes assigned sections of the building to keep spotless. . . . A chart in the main hall show case shows the daily standings of the classes . . . exclusion from an assembly is punishment for lazy classes. . . . Civics classes delve into the workings of our government. . . . The band is directed by Mr. Ingram.

In Class and Out

Shower are refreshing after a workout in Dolores Park. . . . Students get experience in banking . . . handling large sums of money is nothing new to them. . . . The nurse's office is a popular place, especially when the weather's nice . . . Miss Huston is kept busy detecting legitimate illness from the many cases of spring fever . . . students seem to think the beach is a sure cure for all types of spring fever. . . . Tumblers from the Boys' Club perform at assemblies . . . flying through the air with the greatest of ease, takes months of continual practice . . . perfect coordination of muscles is necessary for these feats. . . . The West Wing Staff takes time out to compare notes at Journalism Convention held at Stanford University.

Activities for All

The band, under the very capable direction of Mr. Ingram, can be heard rehearsing every day . . . each spring the band accompanies the operetta produced by Miss Becker . . . they also play for the graduation exercises and several other school functions. . . . Machine shops provide excellent training for future mechanical engineers . . . all kinds of machines are handled by the boys . . . this is one of the few classes that the girls have not yet broken into. . . . Skillful hands mold a mere lump of wet clay into interesting and beautiful objects . . . imagination is given a loose rein in this class and often very unusual pieces of work are produced. . . . Student librarians give aid to those hunting that "special book." . . . The second-floor show-case gives students an opportunity to see different kinds of handiwork.

MISSION GIRLS GO out of their way to play hookey, if they think they'll be caught by Truant Officer Kenneth Meitz, left. But except for one or two wholesale desertions for the beach on especially sunny days, cutting and absenteeism was down during the spring from the general average.

Time for Business

Girls in Mrs. Reedy's millinery class fashion their own spring bonnets . . . original designs are skillfully made into stunning creations . . . frames for the hats can be purchased from the factory, or they can be made by the girls themselves . . . the girls are familiarized with the various types of materials and patterns that go into the making of a hat. . . . Office assistants help Mrs. Dreschler and Mrs. Bloomquist keep the main office in perfect running order . . . they also give out information to both students and teachers . . . before and after school, they take care of the lost and found department. . . . Hundreds of hungry students are given food daily from this spotless cafeteria kitchen. . . . Students rely on the library for reference for their homework. . . . All the latest fashions were shown at a recent fashion show given at Mission.

and Time for Fun

One of the classes not yet invaded by the fair sex, is the machine shops . . . here the boys reign alone . . . many useful articles are made by the boys in this class. . . . The attendance office seems to be a little more popular with the girls now that Mr. Meitz has joined the staff working there . . . both Miss Dunn and her assistants are kept busy keeping track of everybody's absences. . . . Girls attend a dinner given by the Girls' Executive Board . . . after four terms of after-school sports, any girl is eligible for membership in the G.E.B. . . . The girls' Block M and G.E.B. go hand in hand in activities. . . . Low sophomores pour into the upper balcony for an assembly . . . starting at the highest point in the auditorium, they move forward each semester. . . . Members of the Junior Choir practice their melodies.

"I CAN'T LOOK!" Miss Shelton, journalism teacher, says, as she shows latest issue of the "West Wing" to Mr. Wiesinger of the English department. Mr. Wiesinger is a former journalism mentor himself.

Fall 1947 West Wing

The West Wing of Fall 1947, headed by Co-Editors Walter Heil and Joe Marchi, proved its journalistic abilities by winning the N.S.P.A. award for First Class Honors.

Miss Chrystal Thompson, advisor, was a pleasure to work under, West Wing staff members agreed, as they stayed after school and worked overtime to get their paper out for her.

Climaxing the semester's work was the highly successful 25th Anniversary Edition, honoring the West Wing's 25 years of existence. Thoroughly illustrated, the edition dug back into Mission history for many interesting and enlightening stories.

Staff members working on the paper during the Fall were:

Spring 1948 West Wing

Although hounded by deadlines that wouldn't stretch, students that wouldn't buy (sometimes), typewriters that wouldn't work, and other annoyances peculiar to journalism, the Spring '48 West Wing staff managed to turn out its quota (almost) of papers, and managed (most of the time) to beat the ever-present deadline.

Under the supervision of Miss Mary Ellen Shelton, the West Wing produced six issues for the term, including one grand Senior Edition on which the cubs assisted. Staff editors and members for the term were:

Editor .....	Glorea Monson

The Mission

With the threat of financial ruin constantly hanging over them, members of the Journal staff nevertheless struggled valiantly to produce their book. The traditional hard-luck gang, however, found few breaks: A 50-mile-per-hour gale blew the day registry pictures were taken; advertisers turned a cold shoulder to "those kids" seeking ads; passbooks didn't sell early in the term, went like hotcakes just before graduation; even money disappeared, vanished, or disintegrated. Throughout it all, however, Managing Editor Joe Marchi wore a face wreathed in the smile of hopefulness; Editor Walt Heil turned gray, worrying over football action pictures that were never taken; Advertising Manager Carole Simpson sold ads by the $100-a-day; and Circulation Manager Helen Ward continually nabbed some poor, hapless Journal salesman to demand the whereabouts of his quota of the take. In spite of many headaches, collapses, and other forms of acute "magalomania," the Journal, record of the Senior Class, finally came out.

Harmony House

The Music Department, as always, enjoyed busy and successful fall and spring terms last year. The choral classes, under the capable and tireless direction of Miss Isabelle Becker, sang for school assemblies, performed for the State Supervisors' Conference, and took part in the San Jose Festival at Christmas time. Spring saw them singing for P.T.A. evening meetings, and producing the annual operetta. The band, conducted by Mr. George D. Ingram, appeared frequently at school functions; and switched to orchestral dress for "The Mikado." Instrumental and vocal groups joined forces during Public Schools Week in April to present an auditorium demonstration of the work accomplished by the music classes.

"The Mikado"

As it must every year, the operetta came to Mission this Spring—this time in the form of Gilbert and Sullivan's beloved "The Mikado." Accompanied by unprecedented publicity and a furor of gay rehearsals, the operetta made its bow in a matinee the afternoon of May 12. Produced by the Department of Music, "The Mikado" was conducted by Mr. George D. Ingram, with chorus and production under the direction of Miss Isabelle Becker. Cast members were:

R. O. T. C. Officers

Mission High's R.O.T.C. can be justly proud of her record and achievements in the past year. Mission became commanding headquarters for its regiment, and received the regimental trophy for being the best battalion in its regiment. As regimental commander, Mission will be in command of three schools besides herself: Lowell, Commerce, and Galileo.

A shortage of male band members led Mission's R.O.T.C. to include six girls in the band.

Sgt. I. G. Smith, who is in charge of the R.O.T.C. at Mission, recently said that the R.O.T.C. in the past year was the best Mission has had since his arrival here.

COACH ALEX SCHWARZ

Bears Finish Schedule

Today as we sit back in our comfortable chairs and look back at the football season of 1948, we remember that we entered the season with high hopes and fond ideas about winning the A.A.A. championship. The line was big and heavy. The backs were fast and tricky. The coaching was tops. After we smashed down a big Lincoln team in the season's opener, it looked as if it might be a Mission year. Then something happened. Indifference set in. Quarrels in the huddle grew. Breaking of the training rules set down by Coach Alex Schwarz was rampant. Naturally with these things going on a team could not function at its best abilities. From a potentially good squad the Bears sank to mediocrity, an in-and-out team.

In Fifth Place

On the credit side of the Bears' season are these factors: Dick Karner, little-publicized hustler of the Bruin line, placed on the third string All-City team. Karner, Ed Berticevich, and Bill Butzine won the Call-Bulletin football awards. Mission opened the season against Lincoln on the Washington field. For three periods the tilt was a scoreless tie. In the third quarter Joe Scudero, with the aid of Ron Miller's blocking, raced 74 yards for a score. The insertion of Miller gave Lincoln a 1-0 victory on a ruling by A.A.A. Commissioner George Canrinus. "Miller, a discharged Marine, is ineligible," he said. The remainder of the game was Mission's. Two more touchdowns were scored, and during the week Coach Schwarz fought for Miller's reinstatement. The board voted 4-3 in his favor.

Matson and Marcelli Help

Next the Bruins met the powerful Washington Eagles and Ollie Matson. Matson cascaded into the end zone three times, and another Eagle romp buried the surprised Bears under a devastating score of 25-0. Then, another dominant factor in the Bears' downfall came along—the injuries. Don Sessions, Charlie Drews, Jay Wilson, Joe Scudero, and Harry Kindorf, all first-stringers, were knocked out of action because of injuries. On the inadequate Galileo field the Brown and Golders walloped the weak Lions, 25-6. It was the first high school game ever aired over the radio. It was Ed Berticevich who led the Bruins' assault. He drove 68 yards for the first Bear score and helped the Mission squad snag its second win. In their next encounter, the Mission Men met the first-place Sacred Heart team.

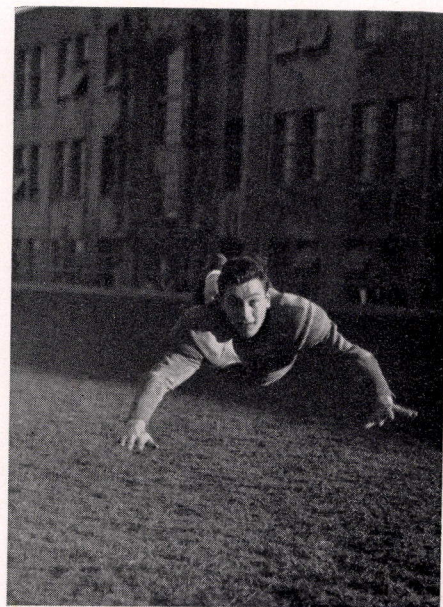

MISSION DROPS POLY TILT BY 52 TO 0 SCORE

Ruin Bears' Football Season

Like maddened grizzlies, the Bears mauled the lighter Irish. But only during the first period. Outplayed by Mission in the first half, the valiant Shamrocks, spearheaded by "Fats" Johnston and Dick DeCristofaro, upped and smote the exhausted Bruins by a 24 to 6 count. It was during this contest that Mission switched to the single-wing formation after having used the tricky "T" formation for over a season and a half. The switch grew from the fact that Coach Schwarz didn't have a "T" formation quarterback. Gunning for their third win, a place in the play-offs, and an attempt to salvage their poor season, the Bruins crunched under the light, inexperienced Saint Ignatius eleven. Jim Wardlaw, subbing for the injured J. Wilson, was the big star in the Mission attack. Wardlaw uncorked several long runs and, on a sustained 72-yard drive, carried the ball seven times for a net gain of 39 yards. The second Mission touchdown came in the second period. Jay Wilson, hobbling on weak legs, was inserted into the game and fired three passes, the third going to Al Nethercutt, who grabbed it on the 34-yard stripe and galloped for the TD. On a 30-yard plunge through the middle of the line, Ron Miller ploughed into the end zone for the final points. The tilt was held on the sloppy Balboa gridiron and showed that the preps should return to Kezar Stadium. Following the S. I. game the Bears hooked up with their traditional rivals, namely the Commerce Bulldogs.

St. Ignatious Defeated

If they could cop this tilt, the Bears would be in the play-offs. But the Bulldogs, with Elbert Henderson in the driver's seat, pulverized them, 27-0. Commerce had not tasted Bear meat since 1941, and, after five years of straight defeats at Mission's hands, was ripe for victory.

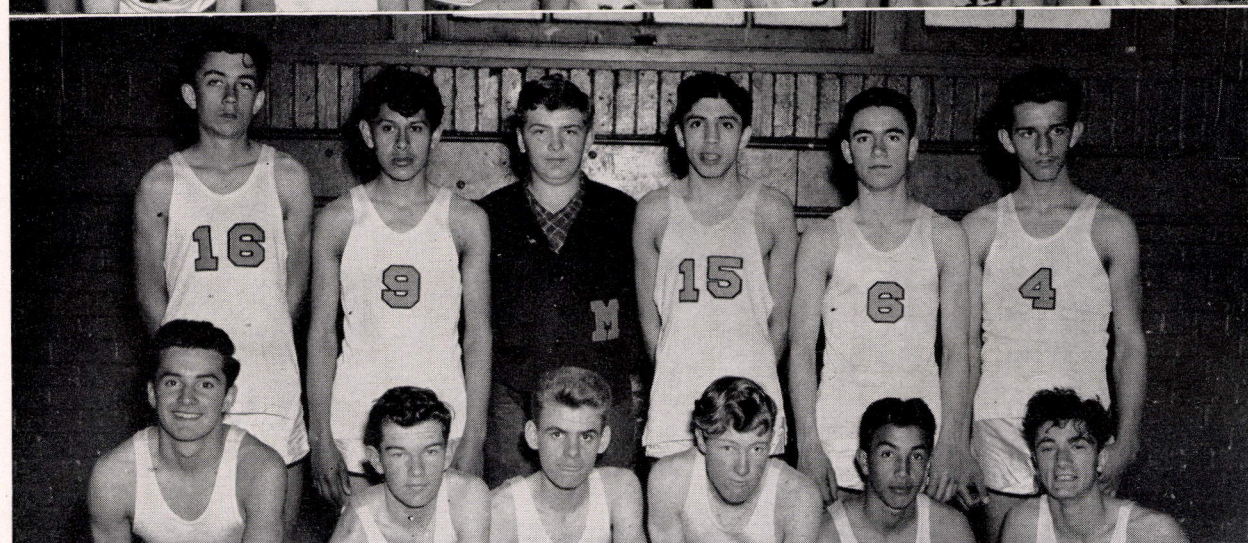

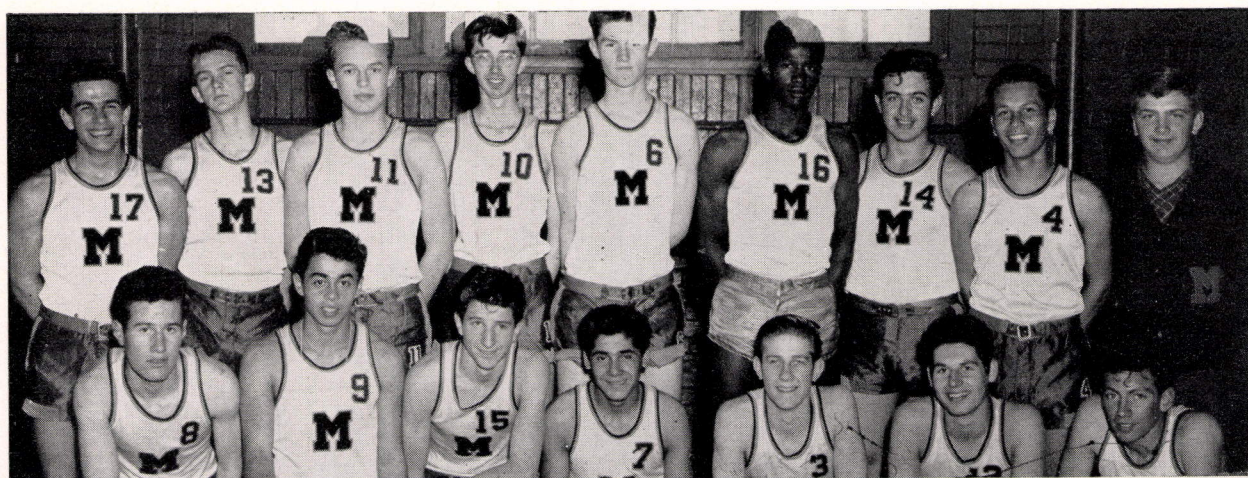

Mission's opening line-up looked like this on September 18, 1947: Charlie Drews and Don Sessions, ends; Jack Aho and Bob O'Brien, tackles; Bill Butzine and Dick Karner, guards; and Bob McBride, center.

In the backfield were: Al Nethercutt, quarterback, and Joe Scudero and Ed Berticevich, halfbacks. Alternating in the fullback spot were Jay Wilson and Ron Miller.

Graduation Losses Spoil

Under the guidance of Coach Lloyd Leith, the Mission Bears' basketball team took to the hardwood floor of Kezar Pavilion in early January, touted as the darkhorse team of the league, and finished fourth in the final A.A.A. standings two months later. This showing was not as good as the two previous years when they would up first and second, respectively. However, the Leith-coached squad opened the season and exhibited to the public that they were a well-drilled and smooth-working outfit. Before mid-term graduation wrecked the team the Bears were definite flag contenders. Loss of Don Larson, Joe Polich, Walt Rusanoff, and Bob Camacho meant the difference between a championship club and their subsequent ending.

Bears' Basketball Season

Opening the season against Saint Ignatius, Mission was victorious by a 23-18 count. The thrill-packed Galileo tilt followed. Giving the vaunted Lions the fight of their lives, the fighting Bears finally succumbed to a last-minute field goal to lose the game, 31-30. Another thriller followed. It wasn't until the final gun sounded that Mission was assured of a win over a pesky Washington club, 27-26. Poly went down to defeat at the hands of Mission, 36-33, in the third sizzler. No team was harder hit by graduation than Mission. Only Erv Gisler and Roy Brodnik remained of the strong club that started the season. Dick Greenberg filled in very well for a soph, but it wasn't enough.

Track, never a strong sport at Mission, enjoyed a particularly unsuccessful season—for the varsity, at any rate—this spring, as the heavy boys wound up with an eighth place (out of nine) in A.A.A. prep standings. But the lighter the cindermen got, it seemed, the better they did, with the '30's taking a fifth in city league ratings.

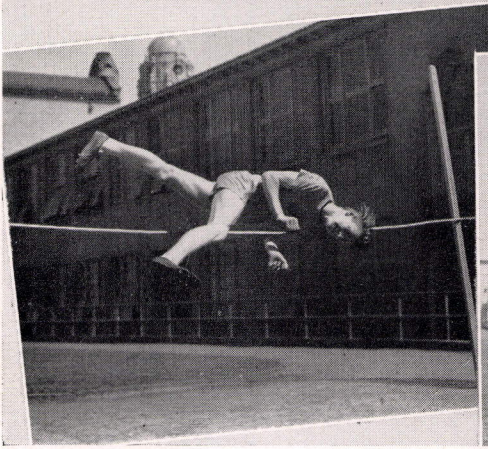

It remained for the 120-pounders, however, to bring track glory to Mission. The lightweights lost not a single meet, emerged victors in the dual meets and city meet to wind up A.A.A. champions in their category.

Sammy Gordon was the individual star of the '20s when he tied the Outstanding among the '30s were John Thompson, with a 5 ft. 8 in. high jump score, and Al Dapiran, who ran the 120 low hurdles in 15:6.

For the varsity, Alex Komens took a second to Washington's triple-threat star Ollie Matson in the pole vault at the city meet. The varsity also earned a place in the relays by finishing fifth.

Mission Bags 11th AAA

Whenever people gather to talk about high school baseball in San Francisco you can bet your last buck that the conversation will invariably turn to the Mission High entry in the A.A.A. And it is no small wonder, either. Turning out the best teams year after year, and sending many players into professional ranks yearly, the team has brought national fame to Mission. In the last 21 years the mighty sluggers from Eighteenth and Dolores have won the coveted A.A.A. gonfalon no less than 11 times. Many famous names have worn Mission spangles. A few of them are: Joe Cronin, Bob Chesnes, Ed Joost, Walt Judnich, Babe Dahlgren, Vic Picetti, Johnny Cavalli, Lilio Marucci, and more recently the promising Reno Cheso, Joe Polich, and Gus Triandos.

Title in 21 Years

This year was no exception. The Bears, after a slow start and hampered by continuous rains which forced cancelling many practice games and postponing league tilts, roared into first place once again. Not as strong as the powerful club that shattered the A.A.A. to bits last season, this year's version of "Bruin Bombers" was easily capable of giving opposing pitchers nightmares. The team had hitting strength in Ray Cucchiarini, Mike Baxes, Lloyd Dickey, and Jime Dougherty. Eddie Allen, Dickey, and Bob Gillon were the pitchers. The team was well balanced in the outfield and infield. Once again Commerce was the fly in the ointment. The only team to beat the Bears last year, the Bulldogs turned the trick again this season.

In their first outing the Bears knocked out the Galileo Lions by a 5 to 0 count. Lean Lloyd Dickey held the Lions to three scratch hits and fanned seven. Doyle Akins slammed out a triple and a single to lead the Bruins. Playing against the Poly Parrots, Mission kicked the stuffing out of the Birds, winning 22-4. The first crucial game of the young season came when Mission clashed with Commerce. Five errors behind Dickey touched off a Bulldog spree, the Commercials copping, 13-1. Next the Brown and Golders squeaked by the impotent St. Ignatius Wildcats, 2-0. Eddie Allen won the tilt for the Bears with his clutch hurling. Dickey went against the Sacred Heart Irish and the Bears bombarded Boutet off the mound, 11-3. They all looked the same to the Bears after this. The Bears began their play-off drive by beating Balboa, 7-4.

Lloyd Dickey started against the highly-touted Lincoln Mustangs and tied an old A.A.A. record of strikeouts. He whiffed 17 Links. Bob Gillon, making his first start, coasted to an easy 17-1 victory over the last-place Washington Eagles. He limited the Richmonders to four hits and fanned the same. Eddie Allen won against the Lowell Indians in a slugfest for the Bears. Final score was 12-4. In the play-offs the Bears beat Sacred Heart twice, 9-7, and 5-4. Ray Cucchiarini was the clutch-hitting hero. In the all-important Commerce series, Mission won the A.A.A. title for the 11th time in 21 years. Dickey won twice, 4-0 and 7-1.

Soccer Squad Wins Another

Once again we come to the so-called "minor sports." Among these sports we find soccer, swimming, lightweight basketball, and cross-country track which is run in the winter. The Mission soccer team, under the able coaching of Glen Haas won the A.A.A. crown again for the tenth time in as many years. Dave Hughes was the sparkplug of the 1947 edition of the Bruin "shinkickers." Tied twice during league competition, the mighty Bruins blasted the rest of the league and went undefeated for the tenth straight season. A tribute to Coach Glen Haas must be paid to him for his fine coaching job. We of the 1948 Journal name him Mission's "Coach of the Year."

Pennant for Posterity

Another sport which does not get much in the way of publicity is Coach Arthur Jones' swimming team.

The team that went on to give Mission another championship was Coach Bernard Wiesinger's golf team. They went through the A.A.A. like an express train, winning every match. Bill Shook, Lew Gill and Louis Amoroso were the vital cogs in the winning of the coveted flag.

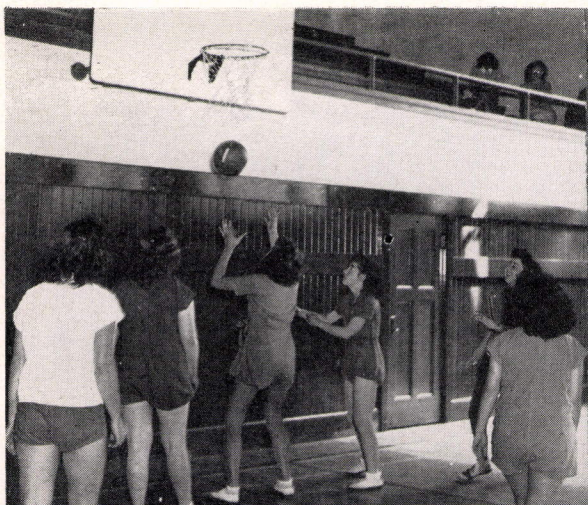

Cross-country track had another successful season.

The lightweight basketball teams coached by Lloyd Leith had their usual fine season. Jim Dougherty was the man Leith said was the most likely to succeed in the casaba profession.

If you think we are going to say that once again the Girls' Executive Board has completed another successful year, then you'd better change your mind. Because we're not. Which is not to say that the G.E.B. wasn't a success; it was. But the main point of all G.E.B. activity was achieved by the good times the gals had, and in the hours they spent in healthy athletic competition.

INTO THE BASKET it goes, as one of the girls in basketball class takes a shot from the free-throw line. . . . WHERE'S THE BIRDIE? And while late afternoon sun pours into gym windows, one girl gets set to lob a nice one into the opponent's court. Badminton, of course.

. . . A SMASH COMING UP or this volleyball player will hang her head in shame. Perfect set-ups like this are hard to come by. . . . HIT IT! And they're off the ground waiting for that ball to come down so the game can really start, as Miss Davidson looks on with interest.

and the Field

ball, basketball, and volleyball. A close and spirited badminton tournament finally saw Janet Schubb emerge the victor. Crop and Saddle members rode every afternoon in Golden Gate Park, under the watchful eye of Mrs. Milliken—and many were the limps and bruises that accompanied them to school the morning after. Spring term also saw the inauguration of a modern dance class, tutored by Miss Bassett, which, through combining techniques of ballet and modern dance, sought to teach gracefulness—and at the same time improve figures and posture. And hordes of would-be female bowlers, and Miss Landon, flocked to bowling alleys every Tuesday afternoon to test their newly-found skill.

Twenty girls were initiated into G.E.B. early in the term, in an annually uproarious exhibition of slapstick. G.E.B., sponsored by Miss Davidson, now numbers approximately forty-five members.

"NOT SO FAST:" this bowler seems to be telling cameraman. For graceful follow-through, see p. 101.

NANCY KIRSCHNER

Nancy Kirschner, one of Mission's all-time favorites, was voted typical senior girl of the fall term. She has been editor of the West Wing and was co-editor of last year's Journal. She has won the Quill and Scroll award for outstanding service and work in the field of journalism, and was awarded the C.S.F. life membership pin upon graduating.

WALT RUSANOFF

One of the foremost fall seniors was tall, blond, and blue-eyed Walt Rusanoff. While at Mission he became a lifetime member of the C.S.F. He played center on the basketball team, where he was voted sportsman of the week by the San Francisco Chronicle, and was also voted one of the best players of the year.

Summer School

Good positions in offices are waiting for our graduates. Many employment calls were received by our Placement Bureau during the past 12 months. Beginning salaries ranged from $125 to $200 per month.

Those who begin their courses in Summer School will be ready for positions (two months) ahead of the thousands of college students who start in September.

COURSES OFFERED

Secretarial, Accounting, Stenographic, Office Machines, and Business Administration.

Special arrangements are made for these groups:

High School Commercial Graduates.

Those who plan to go to college in the Fall.

College people and teachers who desire intensive skill courses, leading to positions.

Veterans, who attend at government expense.

High School undergraduates and younger boys and girls, who want to take typing or shorthand only.

*Mail the coupon, or phone the school, for free Summer School Bulletin.
The time for making plans is short. There's no obligation whatever.*

JUNE HENRY

The words "personality plus" best describe Mission's friendly vice-president, June Henry. June came to Mission from James Lick, and has taken an active part in school affairs since her sophomore year. Student Senate, Girls' Reception Committee, G.E.B., choir, and Girls' League (of which she is president), occupy most of her activity time here.

WALT HEIL

Walt Heil, this year's Journal editor, was co-editor of the Fall '47 West Wing, and is also a former sports editor of that paper. Walt is a member of the Block "M," the Student Senate, and the swimming team. In addition, he holds the Quill and Scroll award for outstanding work in high school journalism. City College is earmarked for his post-graduate plans.

Happy, ever-smiling Joe Marchi lent a willing hand to a good many activities during his three-year stay at Mission. An alumnus of Portola Junior High, he became Co-Editor of the West Wing as a low senior, and was Managing Editor of the Journal in his high senior term. As an Italian Club member, he was an effervescent booster, and held the presidency of that organization last fall. Student Senate also occupied his immediate attention, while other school activities attracted plenty of his extra-curricular attention.
